Tonight at the Vogt at 8 o'clock.
New shoes for fall and winter just received at the New York Cash Store.

Rumor has it that Dr. Ray Logan is thinking of leaving Shaniko and locating in Moro.

Wheat has dropped three cents during the past three days and now stands at 47 cents for No. 1.

All member of The Dalles W. C. T. U. are earnestly requested to be present at the regular meeting Friday afternoon at the Christian church.

Charley Denton brought to town this morning, from his Mill creek ranch, twelve boxes of big ripe strawberries, that were every way as fine looking as the ordinary run of the June crop.

Mr. E. W. Lewis and Miss Florence Davidson were united in marriage at 9 o'clock last evening, October 16th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mone, this city, Rev. D. V. Poling officiating.

A complaint was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday, by Attorney John Leland Henderson, of Hood River, in an action for divorce instituted by Edward J. Jukes and Nellie Millicent Jukes.

The annual sermon of the Oregon Baptist State Convention, now in session at Calvary Baptist church, will be preached tonight at 8 o'clock by Rev. Alexander Blackburn, of Portland. The sermon will be followed by the introduction of new pastors in the state.

At the first annual session of the Inland Empire Clinical Society, held in Spokane last Thursday night, President James Sutherland, formerly of this city, made the statement in his address as retiring president that Spokane alone had thirty men and women, styling themselves doctors, who have neither a legal nor a moral right to practice medicine or surgery in any form.

The sheriff asks us to say that notwithstanding the utmost care on his part and on that of the clerks who made out the delinquent tax list, it is possible that errors may have crept into the published delinquent tax list and that some names may be on the list that ought not to be. If any errors of this kind are detected he requests the parties interested to give him notice and the error will be promptly corrected.

Say! Read the account of the Jeffersonian dinner at "$12 a plate, exclusive of the wine," that Candidate Bryan ate at the Hoffman House, New York, yesterday evening, seated between Dick Crocker, the boss of the most corrupt political institution on the footstool of the Almighty, and Mayor Van Wyck, a leading stockholder in the New York ice trust. You will find it in another column. If it doesn't convince you that Bryan is the friend of the pure and meek and lowly you wouldn't be convinced if Jefferson should rise from the dead and tell you so.

Colonel H. E. Dorsch, secretary of the State Board of Horticulture, says Oregon apples are likely to bring as good prices as Oregon hops, prunes and other products are already doing. Late reports from the East show that there is a partial crop failure in the principal apple belts, which will prove a surprise to Oregonians, who have been led to believe by previous reports that the crop all over the United States was greatly in excess of the average. Based on earlier reports, their opinions were correct. However, at the last moment, and just in time to benefit the majority of Oregon growers, the apple crop of the East is cut down fifty per cent by high winds and other unlooked for climatic chances. Oregon growers, the colonel thinks, ought to get good prices for their choice crop and certainly better than those now prevailing.

From last night's Telegram we learn that the boat Klickitat, belonging to the Paul Mohr Company, was sold by the sheriff of Multnomah county yesterday to James Giason, who represented a number of creditors, for $6,500. The labor liens against the boat amount to something like $4,800, and there are other attachments which amount to over $20,000, and total claims of all kinds amounting to $25,654.92. According to Mr. Mohr, the hull, as it now stands, represents about $23,000. There is considerable uncertainty as to the legal status of the sale of the boat, which may have to be threshed out in the courts. Steamboat men did not anticipate that the Klickitat would bring much over $5,000. There is nothing to her but hull and upper works. The cabins are not complete, and there is not a single piece of machinery in her.

Baptist Ministers' Conference.

The Oregon Baptist Ministerial Conference, composed of the Baptist ministers of Oregon, met at Calvary Baptist church, in this city, last night at 7:30 o'clock. After devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. N. S. Holcroft, of Montavilla, the introductory sermon was preached by Rev. Ray Palmer, of Portland. It was an eloquent discussion of the "Great Commission," listened to with close attention by the large audience for one hour and twenty minutes.

Committees on nominations and on enrollment were appointed by the president.

This morning, after breakfast in the basement of the new building, the conference convened at 9:30. Devotional exercises led by Rev. S. A. Douglass, of Roseburg.

The nominating committee named the following officers: President, Rev. J. H. Beaven, Oregon City; secretary, Rev. S. A. Douglass, Roseburg.

Committee on enrollment reported the following members present:

B. C. Cook, Springfield, H. L. Boardman, McMinnville; F. A. Agar, Portland; R. W. King, McMinnville; Robt Leslie, D. D. Grants Pass; A. J. Hunsaker, McMinnville; M. M. Bledsoe, Arlington; J. J. Trumbull, Astoria; C. C. Smoot, Eugene; W. H. Latourette, McMinnville; S. A. Douglass, Roseburg; J. H. Douglass, Astoria; C. H. Mattoon, Summit; R. McKillop, Salem; O. J. Hoen, Portland; N. S. Holcroft, Montavilla; Ray Palmer, Portland; J. R. G. Russell, Stayton; A. J. Sturdevant, Albany; C. P. Bailey, The Dalles; Chas. Asplund, Portland; J. H. Beaven, Oregon City; E. M. Bliss, Portland; M. Bramblett, Athena; W. B. Clifton, The Dalles; J. W. Stockton, Heppner; C. R. Lamar, La Grande; C. A. Nutley, Portland; W. A. Elmore, Oakland; S. C. Lapham, Portland; R. Hargreaves, Tios J. Hill, Nansen; D. L. Dutton, Enderby; A. W. Rider, California.

The regular program was then taken up. First topic: "Exegetical Study of the Great Commission," by Rev. A. J. Sturdevant, of Albany. The address was carefully prepared, well delivered, and held the attention of the audience. The speaker characterized the commission as being first, world-wide; second, age-long; third, perpetual. General discussion followed, led by Rev. A. J. Hunsaker, in which a number participated. A difference of opinion was developed concerning the question of miracles, whether or not they were discontinued with the apostolic age.

Rev. U. F. Hawk, of The Dalles Methodist church, was introduced to the conference by Pastor Clifton.

Revs. A. Blackburn, D. D., C. A. Woody, D. D., and James Edmunds, all of Portland, came in on the noon train.

RIPPED UP THE BACK.

A "Grizzled Veteran" Reads Our Contemporary a Lesson on His Fugical Use of Truth.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

SIR:—The Mountaineer man seems to be greatly troubled about the soldiers' meeting held here on the 8th. His final growl in the issue of the 13th stamps him as a worthy partner of Bryan & Co., who have a monopoly in the line of pervariation and downright falsehood. He wants a list of the old and young soldiers attending that meeting. He wants to count them. The call for the meeting was published, I think, three or four times in THE CHRONICLE. The public were invited to attend as spectators merely. Why did not the gentleman attend? He is a newspaper man and would have been welcome. We do not use any dark lanterns and are not keeping in the shadow. If our light is worth anything we want everyone to see it.

I think, Mr. Editor, your report said about thirty soldiers took part in the meeting. To the best of my belief there was just about that number there; not any less nor few over.

The assertion of the editor of the Mountaineer that the resolutions unanimously passed by that meeting were made up by outside parties is ridiculously absurd. Had the Mountaineer editor lived a few thousand years ago, he might have died suddenly of failure to tell the truth, or possibly been turned into a table relish commonly used to preserve fresh and green articles.

He calls us "grizzled veterans." We are getting gray, but will not be dead for a time yet. There are a few of us above the ground, and after the election in November the Mountaineer will not be large enough to publish a list of old soldiers in Wasco and Sherman counties voting for McKinley, and its editor will need a microscope to see the name of those who vote for the wind bag of the Platte.

ONE OF THE "GRIZZLED VETERANS."

Paul More Gives Up.

The Telegram says Paul Mohr has told his creditors, or rather the creditors of the portage road at the dalles, that he cannot raise the money he had expected to find. It will be remembered at a recent meeting of the creditors Mr. Mohr was present and promised to raise $200,000 in ninety days' time in which to pay off the obligations of the road, if the creditors would allow him that margin. The majority of the creditors agreed to give him time.

Now, however, he admits that he will not be able to raise the amount, and has frankly admitted as much to the creditors. The steamer Klickitat, which is in a partly finished condition, was sold in Portland yesterday to satisfy some of the debts which have been piling up against the company since it ran short of funds.

In view of the present entanglements, the future of the road looks very dark.

The Klickitat did not bring one-third enough to satisfy the claims. The company has two more steamers, against which liens have been filed, and it now looks as though the property of the company will go in piecemeal to satisfy the claims of these creditors. The amount of debts is not known definitely, but to judge from suits already filed, will aggregate $80,000.
