GENERAL BLACK UNDER THE FLAG

Declares He Can Not Stand Anywhere Else While His Country Is at War

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 13.—"For my part, I can not, while my country is at war, stand anywhere but under its flag. Like Martin Luther, 'Here I stand. I can not do otherwise, God helping me.'"

With this utterance, in a tone of deep feeling, the climax of one of the most remarkable meetings of the campaign was reached in the opera house at the Illinois capital tonight. The speaker was Gen. John C. Black, a life-long democrat, a gallant Union soldier, democratic congressman-at-large from Illinois, and commissioner of pensions in President Cleveland's first administration. The occasion was Gen. Black's appearance in the campaign in favor of McKinley's re-election.

Capt. J. B. Inman presided. He placed Gen. Black before the audience in appropriate words, referring to his gallant military record and bespeaking the satisfaction which those present felt. He spoke of Gen. Black as a representative of "a militarism not to be feared, but to be loved and revered."

Rehearsing the story of the general's terrible wounds in the civil war, and of his refusal to go to the rear, insisting rather on remaining at the head of his command, Capt. Inman said:

"Refusing to go to the rear, he stands now where he stood that day, for the honor and glory of that same flag." Gen. Black stood before an audience which filled the auditorium to the doors. As he looked out upon the sea of faces over which an expression of intense interest played, he said:

REFERS TO PALMER

"That mighty gathering means that the people are attending to their own business. And when the people attend to their own affairs they settle them right. (A burst of applause here broke in upon the speaker.) He who recently stood among you, a towering leader, just called to his rest, gave us all an aphorism that will endure. He said: 'The affairs of the people are safe with the people.'"

A hush followed this reference to the late John M. Palmer.

Thus Gen. Black began. He spoke at considerable length, and as he proceeded the interest deepened. The intense earnestness of the speaker spread to the listeners.

"Next Monday will be two years and eight months since Spanish treachery lifted the Maine into immortality and buried her crew in the waters of the gulf," he said. Then followed his description of the uprising of the nation and of the beginning of the "war of patriotism."

"Men said: 'Until this war is ended I know no party. I know only my country.' Of them I was one."

LOGICAL ARGUMENTS

Then came the logical argument which was unanswerable. Step by step Gen. Black traced the course of events from the blowing up of the Maine until the present time, with the government pledged to the support of its sovereignty in the Philippines.

"And still it was a war of patriotism," said the speaker again and again, as he traced the sequence. He described the treachery of Aguinaldo.

"Somebody, God forgive him, has called him George Washington," said the speaker.

Gen. Black told how hostilities were forced. He went through all of the incidents fixing the responsibility, with a soldier's sense of loyalty and duty. And that great audience followed breathlessly. The time came the speaker dealt with the character of Aguinaldo. He quoted from the insurgent chieftain's own account, as given in his appeal to the civilized nations, and then he asked his hearers to imagine, if they could, Admiral Dewey meeting this man upon his quarter deck and asking his consent as one of the governed.

"This is the man," he said, "upon whom that Kansas City crowd—they were not democrats—have been wasting sympathy, and whom they have been asking you to uphold."

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"Suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Halloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the effect that I am anxious that it be in reach of all those who suffer as I have." For sale by Blakeley druggist.

Lake Shore to Grant Pensions.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18.—Following in the footsteps of the Pennsylvania railroad the Lake Shore railroad is now considering plans for pensioning its old employees. Preliminary steps have been taken towards establishing a pension system; according to the plans proposed no person can be eligible to a pension until he has reached the age of 65 years or has been in the service of the company 30 years.

ILIAS BIRD CAME BACK.

It Returned Alone from California to Its Home in Rogers Park, Ill.

A story illustrating the remarkable instinct sometimes displayed by birds is told by a Rogers Park man, says the Chicago Chronicle. He had a pet oriole to which a friend visiting him from California took a great fancy. Although the bird had been in the family since the day it was picked up as a fledgling by the head of the household, the Californian was made its owner. The gift was so appreciated that the oriole became the Californian's companion on the return journey to the Pacific coast. Of course the bird was caged during the trip, but it was allowed a degree of domestic freedom on its arrival near the Golden Gate. Soon the Rogers Park man heard that the pet had disappeared. Fancy his surprise when he awoke one morning to find the bird scratching at one of the summer screens of his bedroom window. The excited oriole had returned, but it will always be a mystery to the owner how the long journey was made—whether the homeward flight of the little pet was across the great divide of the Rocky mountains or by way of the no less trying route of the Arizona deserts.

Gas Pipe Lines to Distribute Power.

The attention of electrical engineers has been attracted to the prospective use of the gas engine on a vast scale for the generation and transmission of power. Mr. George Westinghouse believes that a great saving of expense as compared with present methods would result from the distribution of power by means of gas generated at central points and conveyed in pipes along the lines of railways for the operation of gas engines and electric generators. He suggests the installation of such a system in connection with the electrical equipment of railways, especially metropolitan and suburban lines; and also the use of fuel gas and gas engines to supply light and power for the whole of Manhattan island.—Youth's Companion.

Chinese Learning.

There is much to be learned after the world captures China. Many scientists believe that the nucleus of great events is imbedded amid the mysteries of that great region of country, which may not be so benighted as is generally supposed. The preservation of grapes, to make use of one illustration of Chinese industry, is one of the many things that is only known in that country. Millions have been spent in civilized countries in futile attempts to preserve this fruit. The Chinese have known the secret for many centuries and millions more have been vainly used in the effort to drag from them the recipe.

Proud of His Promotion.

A West Virginia girl writes to a friend about her hero, who is a soldier in the Philippines. She says: "I got a letter from —. He's getting along splendid. He has been assigned to the guardhouse for five days. Says it is a pretty hot place, but then, you know, he never shirks from his duty. Ma and I are naturally proud to hear of his promotion."—Wheeling Intelligencer.

The Dampener on Joking.

Census Taker—You live here, do you? Well, what relation are you to the head of the house? Citizen—See here, now, don't you get too funny or I'll go and call her in. —Indianapolis Journal.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

SURPRISED THE MINERS

They Had Not Expected So Complete a Victory—Ready to Resume Work—But Will Not Do So Until More Companies Have Accepted.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 18.—The news received here that the demands of the anthracite coal miners' convention had been granted by the Reading Coal & Iron Company was as welcome as it was surprising in the Schuylkill region. The labor leaders were not in the secret. There will now be bonfires, meetings, parades and a general jubilation by the miners. Some of the conservative leaders favor a quiet acceptance of the victory, but it is doubtful if their counsels will prevail. The Reading Company employs 28,000 men, one-fifth of the anthracite workers, and they will undoubtedly be ready to go to work just as soon as they are ordered to do so by President Mitchell. The Reading Company has been rushing its cars into the coal region ever since the strike began, and it is estimated that it has in the neighborhood of 10,000 empties now on sidings throughout the region at pointeasy of access.

Strikers are Firm.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 18.—Notices that the terms of the Scranton convention have been accepted by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company were posted in public places here and at the collieries early this morning. Strikers in the employ of the company say that while they are highly pleased over the action of the Reading Company, they will not think of going to work until their brethren employed by other companies and operators are granted the increase.

It is the general impression here that all employers will have fallen into line by tomorrow, and that a notice from President Mitchell, informing the strikers to go to work, will be issued Saturday or Monday.

Gave Up the Attempt.

ASTORIA, Oct. 18.—Word comes from Fort Canby today that the attempt of Wolf & Zwicker, the Portland shipbuilders, to float the stranded lightship has been abandoned for good, and the contractors are said to be thoroughly disgusted with the job.

It is questionable now whether there will be sufficient favorable weather to permit of taking the lightship overland to Baker's Bay, and the contractors who favor this means of getting the vessel off the beach express the opinion that there would be great risk of financial loss attached to the work.

It is again stated by parties who have visited the scene of the wreck that the vessel is badly strained, and practically worthless.

Want to Give Lillooekalana a Pension.

HONOLULU, Oct. 11, via San Francisco, Oct. 18.—The democratic party adopted a platform at its convention last Monday night in which the national ticket and platform were endorsed. The local platform declared against the acquisition of any more sugar-producing territory by the United States. An appropriation for a pension for ex Queen Lillooekalana by the next legislature was favored. The payment of just fire claims caused by the fire in Chinatown during the bubonic plague siege was advocated.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion and builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by Blakeley Druggist. Guaranteed. 4

Another Would-be Assassin.

New York, Oct. 18.—The police of Rio Janeiro, according to a dispatch to the Herald, have arrested an Italian named Angel Manetti, who is known as the friend of Caserio, who assassinated President Carnot of France, and of Bresci, who killed King Humbert, of Italy. Manetti, it is charged, was plotting to take the life of President Campos Salles, of Brazil.

One new case of plague is reported.

One death occurred.
