WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Frank Gabel, of Wapinitia arrived in town yesterday with a band of fat hogs, which he sold to Charley Butler, of Port Townsend at five cents a pound.

At the popular millinery parlors of Campbell & Wilson can be found all the latest things in street hats, trimmed hats, children's school hats, and also tam-o-shanters.

A cattle buyer in the Long Creek country last week was offering as high as $22 per head for yearling heifers. This is an increase of $6 over the price of last spring.—Blue Mountain Eagle.

The Albany Democrat thinks they have unearthed the missing link out near Taunton, and the Eugene Register suggests that the bones are probably those of an anti-expansionist of the Louisiana purchase period.

County Commissioners Evans and Harriman left this morning for the southern and southeastern parts of the county to make a personal examination of the roads and determine what is needed to put them in good condition.

Meers, Jack Brown and Hugh Sweeney have sold their entire band of sheep, consisting of 800 ewes and 1000 lambs, to Mr. C. D. U'Ren of Ridgeway. The purchase price was $275 for the ewes and $200 for the lambs.—Antelope Herald.

Rev. Sam P. Jones, the famous evangelist, is broken down in health, having been compelled to cancel all his dates for lectures in South Carolina and Mississippi. He will go to Atlanta for rest and treatment. His physician has ordered him to desist from public speaking for some time to come.

It is stated that several experiments in raising tobacco will be tried next year in different sections of the state. The Oregon Agricultural College has made some very successful experiments with tobacco on the college farm and in all likelihood would gladly supply valuable information to anyone who expects to enter this field of industry.

Mrs. Eva Emory Dye, author of "McLoughlin and Old Oregon," is in the city, the guest of Mrs. W. Lord. Mrs. Dye arrived here yesterday from Pendleton, accompanied by Lee Moorhouse, the well-known amateur photographer, and in the afternoon they visited the Indian village on the Washington side of the river above town, and secured a number of pictures of the prominent Indian landmarks of that place. This morning, in company with a number of Dalles people, a similar visit was made to the pictured rocks above the Seufert cannery.

The program to be given by Miss Margaret Jenkins Friday night, in the Baldwin opera house, will be one of merit. Miss Jenkins has given a great deal of time to the art of expression and shows great talent in one so young. The ladies of St. Paul's Guild are fortunate in having the assistance of such talent.

H. W. Wells went to Heppner today to receive two bands of sheep which he recently purchased from a Morrow county man. When asked why he was increasing his flocks at a time when so many were refusing to go into new speculations till after the election his answer was: "Because I am dead certain McKinley is going to be elected. If I thought otherwise I would sell every hoof I own and go out of the business. As it is I am in the market to buy as many more as I can handle with profit and convenience."

Rev. C. W. Smith, of Dufur, was in town today soliciting subscription to build a Methodist parsonage at Dufur. He met with very satisfactory success and has now pledged within about $100 of the amount required. In speaking of his success Mr. Smith said that he could not help but notice a marked difference in the readiness of the people to go down into their pockets over four years ago. Then it was hard to get a dollar for anything; now not one in a score refuses to give something and give it freely. He says he collected more money in four days than he could have collected in four months four years ago.

George Darch returned Saturday from spending a week with his old friend Fred Dee on the opposite side of the river from Blalocks. Fred, it will be remembered, was married last January to the widow of the late P. Johnston of this city. He owns 4000 acres of land in the Klickitat county and 8000 head of sheep and lives in as fine a house as there is in the city. Mr. Darch says he never spent a pleasanter week in his life than the one he spent with Mr. and Mrs. Dee. Mr. Darch says he didn't meet a man while he was gone that talked Bryanism but one, and he was in Arlington. Over in Klickitat county it looked to him as if there was not a Bryanite left.

John Doe had a rattling good time yesterday. He opened the festivities of the day by getting as full as a goose. In this condition he visited one of the city restaurants and, not particularly liking somebody or something, proceeded to get even by putting a head on two or three of the inmates and smashing a lot of delf and furniture. Leaving the restaurant he hired a horse and started on a ride into the country, but he had not gone far when he fell to the ground and was subsequently picked up so dead that a doctor had to be summoned to bring him back to life. When carried back to town and restored to consciousness he went at it again and finally landed in the city jail. This morning he put up bonds in the sum of $100 for his appearance later.

Last Saturday Hon. A. S. Roberts delivered to the Christman Meat Market thirty head of yearling wethers that averaged in weight a small fraction less than 108 1/2 pounds each. The price for them was 3 1/4 cents a pound or an average of $3.53 each. They were grade Shophires and Mr. Christman says they were the largest yearlings he ever handled since he has been in the meat business. On the same day Mr. Roberts shipped 100 head of ewes of the same breed to a farmer in the Willamette valley, to be handled on the shares. This is something new in the sheep industry as in all past years the sheep migration was always in the other direction.

A preacher in Kansas the other day delivered a very brief but beautiful funeral sermon. Here it is: "A word to you all. Post mortem praises and love are in the air. People kiss their dead who never stoop to kiss the living; they hover over the casket in hysterical sobs, but they fail to throw their arms about their loved ones who are fighting the stern battles of life. A word of cheer to the struggling soul in life is worth more than the roses of Christendom piled high on the casket cover. The dead can't smell the flowers but the living can. Scatter them broadcast in the pathway, therefore, and pluck out the thorns before it is too late."

The people of The Dalles received a severe "ripping up" in the Heppner Times in a recent issue for alleged lack of hospitality shown the visiting football team from the town of Heppner, although The Dalles had expended the sum of $125 in taking care of our visitors. The Heppner Times is comparatively a new paper in the Heppner community and is run by E. M. Shatt. His article is in strong contrast with that appearing in the Gazette, the paper formerly owned by Mr. Patterson, of the land office. It is to be regretted that such stuff should appear for public perusal, but it is a fact that some people are never happy unless abusing something or somebody.

About a week ago two men traveling east over the Barlow road robbed Mr. Campbell, keeper of the Summit House, of $17.50. The man was next heard of at Charley Frear's sawmill on Clear creek, where they succeeded in passing a number of counterfeit half-dollars in exchange for a night's accommodation for themselves and horses. They were next seen at Tvgh where they called at the house of Ed Fitzpatrick. Sheriff Kelly got wind of them about this time and, suspecting that they would probably attend the Antelope fair notified his deputies at Shaniko and Antelope to be on the look-out for them, with the result that a telephone message last evening announced that the men had been arrested at Antelope.

BRYANISM IN THE PHILIPPINES.

A Soldier There Says the Bryan Platform Will Cost the Lives of 1000 American Soldiers.

During a speech delivered by Governor Roosevelt at Baltimore, Md., last Saturday the governor read the following letter from Captain Claude E. Sawyer, now serving in the Philippines, to Senator John T. McLaurin. The letter is dated Luzon, August 13, 1900, and was published in the Columbia, S. C., Daily Record. Captain Sawyer wrote:

"I have just seen a Filipino paper printed in Spanish and published in Manila, containing the democratic platform and some cablegrams from London, giving some utterances of Mr. Bryan, which indicate to me that the American people are going crazy. I notice in the democratic platform that they make three pledges in reference to the Philippines. First, to give them 'a stable government'; second, to 'give them independence'; and third, to 'protect them against all foreign powers.' Can this be correct? Is this possible? What have all these good men like Lawton died for? What have we all suffered for? Did we give Spain $20,000,000 for these islands to turn around and present them to the treacherous Aguinaldo, who sold out his people and then refused to stand by his bargain? Do you know that the democratic platform will cost at least 1000 lives of American soldiers here? A leader said yesterday that they were fighting to hold out until Bryan is elected, and then all will be well with them. Every speech he makes is cabled over here, translated and sent broadcast."

A musical farce which will attract more than ordinary attention is "A Wise Guy," which is announced for presentation in this city on Monday the 29th. The piece is entitled to special notice because it is the first effort of Mr. George M. Cohan, the well known author of many comedy sketches. The promise of a real farce-comedy by M. Cohan, therefore, should arouse the interest of theater-goers. "A Wise Guy" deals with a summer vacation participated in by a gay party of New Yorkers, and the presence of a number of lively girls and gallant young men naturally presupposes a series of flirtations. This is the theme of the play, and out of it the author is said to have evolved a series of complications which result in endless amusement and a good deal of genuine dramatic interest. A company of singers, dancers and comedians is employed in the presentation, and some of the best known are William Sellers, Char. Graham, Edward Sandford, Anna Mortland, Bertie Haydn, Saville & Stewart and Joy & Clayton.

Pres. B. Marshall, a popular business man of Albany, was married to Miss Winifred J. Wilds, also of that city, on Wednesday, and to escape the rather superfluous attentions of numerous friends at the depot they were driven in a carriage to Jefferson to take the train to Portland. Someone dropped onto their scheme, however, and numerous handbills were distributed through the train as it went through Albany. The poster read as follows: "This will introduce the bearer to Mr. and Mrs. Pres. B. Marshall, a bride and groom who will board the train at Jefferson, en route to Portland on their honeymoon trip. Don't fail to extend congratulations." Five hundred passengers with this poster in their hands looked forward to the arrival of the train at Jefferson with great expectancy, and when the couple were sighted they were given an ovation, so it is said, that William J. Bryan himself would have turned green with envy, had he witnessed it, at the power this couple possessed for calling forth a demonstration of the people. Each passenger seemed to feel at perfect liberty, with the introduction in his hand, to advance and offer congratulations and with them a "bon voyage" on the blissful sea of matrimony, to the great embarrassment of the newly wedded couple.
