Stereopticon Views Will be Shown at Buffalo and Tabor, about the East.

In an area of 90,000 square miles Oregon has a country population of 225,000 souls, or an average of little more than two persons for every 640 acres, exclusive of cities. She has vast forests that cannot be depleted in hundred years; extensive ranges for all kinds of stock; rich mines that have virtually just been opened; fertile valleys waiting for a thousand homes; unlimited water power for mills and factories; scenery as grand and majestic as any in the world for daily contemplation; a mild and delightful climate, free from sudden changes and severe storms. In fact she offers wealth, comfort and pleasure through life to noble old age for all who come to her adoption, and yet the introductory figures do not lie. As a commonwealth we need capital, energy, enterprise, an infusion of new and vigorous blood into our citizenship to secure for our state the development she merits.

Samples of our products exhibited at various expositions compel attention and favorable comment; but to turn hither the ever-moving tide of immigration, Oregon must be presented as a whole to those seeking homes and opportunities.

Encouraged by the approval and assistance of men who know, there is being projected for this purpose an Oregon free stereopticon lecture course to represent us at the Pan American (Buffalo) exposition and subsequently to tour the East. A fine, comprehensive set of stereopticon views, supplemented by an able lecture, will depict the state in all its phases. This superb entertainment will be given free of admission, but a small revenue is intended to be raised from the sale of Oregon scenic photos and stereoscopic sets, as well as from an artistic booklet containing a brief sketch of the lecture and various advertisements.

Funds for developing this enterprise will be raised by subscription, advertising and probably state aid.

The improvement of a state secures greater benefits for all within her borders. Therefore from selfish, if not from patriotic motives, everyone should assist this exhibit. Among its supporters are: Mrs. J. N. Dolph, Oregon Com. to Paris; Hon. A. C. Marsters, senator, Roseburg; Hon. E. D. Stratford, U. S. Com., Roseburg; Hon. B. F. Mulkey, senator, Monmouth; P. L. Campbell, president O. S. N. S., Monmouth; L. J. Hicks, commercial photographer, Portland, and many others.

Trusting for the approval and material aid of citizens of The Dalles when this matter is presented, I am

For the commonwealth,
Miss M. L. Surron.

Pretty Plaques That Can Be Made of Plaster of Paris and Colored Pictures.

A burst of ingenuity seems to have centered itself in a new plaster of paris plaque. It has come as a welcome way of preserving some of the exquisite colored heads and floral pictures which we yearly have sent to us on calendars. A little good taste and considerable nimbleness of fingers is all that is required, in addition to an agateware plate, some plaster of paris and water, a knife, a bit of tape and a curtain ring, with a pretty colored picture which has been neatly cut out from its background, and a bottle of gilt paint. These various things are then handled in the following way: At first the plate should be filled with water, which, however, is soon tossed out again, the object being simply to have a moist surface. The picture is then taken up and placed face downward in the center of the plate. As soon as it is seen that it adheres to it quite closely the plaster of paris, which has previously been mixed with water until it is smooth and of the consistency of thick cream, is poured in upon it, and in sufficient quantity to fill the plate up to the very top. Here, then, the knife is useful in smoothing it over. At this point, also, a contrivance is arranged for hanging up the plaque in the future. The piece of tape with a curtain ring on one end of it is pressed down in the plaster, where it soon hardens into permanency. As soon as it is found that the plaster is sufficiently hard, the knife can be slipped around the edges of the plate to facilitate the whole turning out well. When this is accomplished the picture will appear as though it had been painted upon the pure white surface of the paste. Should, by any means, the plaster have slipped under the picture, it can be readily wiped off while it is still fresh. The gilt paint is used to make a border about the plaque. It appears well, either as a stiff band or when it is stippled a little.

In the making of these plaques, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, much of their success depends upon the choice of the picture. By far the prettiest one that has so far been seen was a young girl's head, crowned with a wreath of flaming poppies. All else that was particularly noticeable about her were her filmy green draperies. To further offset its beauty, the plaque was hung upon a sage green background.

A SILVER BEDROOM.
Pretty Creation in White of One of Newport's Smart Set.

Recently I went to a very "smart" luncheon given by one of Newport's richest women, writes Edith Lawrence, in Ledger Monthly. Her house is a dream of beauty and good taste. Her bedroom is the loveliest thing I ever saw. The whole room had the effect of white and silver. The woodwork was white, the wall paper white and silver. Her bedstead was white enamel, with bars and posts and knobs of silver. Her dressing table was white, with a beautiful old-fashioned standing oval mirror on it. In a carved silver frame. Instead of a small pin-cushion in the middle and trays for pins and stick pins, she had two good-sized sensible triangular pin-cushions, covered with white satin embroidered in silver, and fitted into two upper corners of her dressing table; of course, her complete toilet set was silver. Then on her writing desk she had some things I had never seen before. A solid silver blotting book, a pad of blotting paper, with a silver back, as it were. Such an improvement on the pads with silver corners, which are always coming off. And she had a small silver bowl filled with sand, where her pins were stuck, to keep them from rusting. Her silver inkstand had a small tank attached, which her maid filled every day, and mangle pot, sponge holder and paper-cutter, all in silver. In her dressing-room, off from her bedroom, we saw the loveliest toilet outfit imaginable, and so many new things. She had a silver tooth-powder bottle, which had a sliding top, and was filled from the bottom; and a most attractive silver rack, with a place for a tooth brush for every day in the week. The tooth brushes were of ivory and were numbered, with tiny silver figures. There were silver pegs over the washstand, as well, to hang sponges, etc., on, and silver stands for toilet waters. Altogether I never saw such a complete outfit. The articles were all made to order for the lady in Vienna, but probably they can be duplicated here with slight variation in form and ornament, if one can afford the luxury.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size, Ely Brothers, 55 Warren St., N. Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

THE CELEBRATED
...COLUMBIA BREWERY...
AUGUST BUCHLER, Prop.
Of the product of this well-known brewery the United States Health Reports for June 28, 1900, says: "A more superior brew never entered the laboratory of the United States Health reports. It is absolutely devoid of the slightest trace of adulteration, but on the other hand is composed of the best of malt and choicest of hops. Its tonic qualities are of the highest and it can be used with the greatest benefit and satisfaction by old and young. Its use can conscientiously be prescribed by the physicians with the certainty that a better, purer or more wholesome beverage could not possibly be found."
