Who would live on the Congo? According to one of Rev. Agar's stories, a little jigger gets under a toe nail and in three days you either have to have the toe cut off or lose your life. The result is a good many people short of toes. The missionaries once a day have an expert go over their feet hunting for jiggers.

The opening of the bids for the construction of the race track has been postponed till some time next week. The postponement has been made necessary through the inability of the surveyors to have the cross-sectioning done as soon as expected. The Shaniko Leader pays the following handsome compliment to our young friend Dr. Ray Logan, son of Dr. Hugh Logan of this city: Dr. R. W. Logan has decided to permanently locate in Moro. We are sorry to lose the doctor, as he has made many warm friends here. Our loss is Moro's gain, and we can heartily recommend him to the people of that city as a good physician and a splendid citizen.

About midnight the residents in the neighborhood of the lower end of Second street were alarmed at a number of rifle shots that were fired in rapid succession. They were loud enough to be heard distinctly on the bluff and awake at least one gentleman who lives ten blocks away. All inquiries this morning failed to locate the shooters and those who expected to hear of a tragedy were forced to the conclusion that the shooting was part of the kids' Hallowe'en program.

Dave B. Lewis' big production "Uncle Josh Spruceby" will be presented at the Vogt opera house tomorrow (Friday) night. The production has been received with much favor and the "press" of the New England cities now being played are giving the play and people very flattering notices. As one critic says, "You get your money's worth." A first-class company of acting people, novel special scenery and mechanical effects, new specialties and a splendid orchestra of twelve soloists are some of the features that go to make the production the big success that it is. The big parade given at noon attracts large crowds.

Dick Crocker reiterates his declaration that he advises that all over the country democratic voters congregate about the polling places on the evening of election day, count noses, and then, if the election returns for Bryan don't tally with their count, go into the polling places and throw those fellows in charge of the returns into the street, and Chairman Jones says he doesn't see anything wrong in the suggestion. On the contrary he approves a suggestion attributed to D. B. Hill that a base ball bat is a peculiarly appropriate instrument for obtaining justice from a corrupt election judge, adding, "We have won the fight and by heaven we shall not be defrauded out of our victory." This, men of America, is Bryanism unmasked.

The Astorian says a consignment of pumpkins that was remarkable in many respects arrived down on the Bailey Gazert last evening for Ross, Higgins & Co., and other of the local merchants. The pumpkins were from Mr. Gillehan, at Sauvie's Island, and the largest one tipped the scales at 140 pounds. From one seed and on one vine were raised the immense amount of 1200 pounds of pumpkins. This beats Kansas, where the vines are said to grow so rapidly that they wear the pumpkins out dragging them around over the ground. The above about Kansas is not vouched for, but the shipment from Sauvie's Island is authentic and they are certainly wonders and at a cent a quarter a pound the grower will make a handsome thing out of it.

No one objects to healthy, good-natured fun. On the contrary, the majority of people enjoy it, even when it is indulged in at their expense. This remark applies especially to Hallowe'en time. The boys must have had lots of fun last night, if the number of lost and delapidated gates are to be taken as an indication. But their fun in more than one instance lacked discrimination. It is not fun, but a genuine offence that deserves punishment, to steal the gate from the grounds of a lone and unprotected woman or aged person. It is never fun to injure or destroy property of any kind, and both of these offences were committed last night, according to complaints that have reached this office. If the boys who, under pretense of having fun, had no more sense than to destroy property or put unprotected old men and women to inconvenience, we shall not be a bit sorry to hear that they have been found out and punished as they deserve.

A Brilliant Reception.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Lueddemann are well known for their hospitality, but the reception on Tuesday evening last surpassed that of any given on former occasions.

The evening was a perfect, typical southern night. The beautiful grounds that encircle their handsome home were brilliantly illuminated; the house decorated with handsome foliage plants and rare cut flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Lueddemann were assisted by Mesdames Sampson and Pride in presenting to their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linstow Lueddemann.

The groom is the youngest of three sons and has made his home for three years in the state of Oregon, where he has gradually climbed the ladder of success and won the admiration of a host of friends. On the 25th of September last he was wedded to Miss Bessie French, a beautiful and accomplished daughter of a prominent citizen and banker of The Dalles, Oregon.

The guests numbered more than a hundred, and composed the most intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lueddemann, of Sheffield and this city.

The music was inspiring. The refreshments rich and dainty and elaborately served in the handsome dining hall. Punch was served by Misses Frieda Lueddemann and Mary Sampson.

We extend a hearty welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Lueddemann and hope that their stay in our city will be pleasantly remembered by them. They will leave in a few weeks for their Oregon home via New Orleans.

We join with those present in expressing congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. G. Lueddemann for this charming reception.—Tusculum, Ala., Dispatch.

Forward Movement Convention.

The meetings at the M. E. church are interesting and profitable. Those in attendance speak very encouragingly and look hopefully into the future, expecting much fruitage as the result of the meeting.

Much encouragement came by the arrival of Presiding Elder Robert Warner, who was detained out of the city by sickness. He arrived yesterday afternoon much improved, and today seems in his usual vigor. All plans and the direction of the meeting were in his hands, and everyone was glad to see him. Other new arrivals are Rev. W. O. Benadom, Payallup, Wash., formerly of this conference, but now of Puget Sound conference, and Rev. H. N. Fisher, D. D., editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate.

Last evening the devotional service was led by Rev. S. A. Hornbrook, after which Rev. C. D. Nickelsen, of Heppner, preached an enthusiastic sermon on "Go Forward."

This morning the devotional, led by the presiding elder, was turned into an experience meeting. It was a profitable season. The topic, "The Relation of the Loyal to Revivals," was effectively presented by Rev. H. C. Clark, of Lone Rock. The morning session closed with a very clear and helpful sermon on "Laying Up Treasures in Heaven," by Rev. W. C. Smith, of Dufur.

The concluding service of the series will be held this evening at 7.30, when Rev. G. M. Booth, D. D., of Idaho, will preach. A song service, beginning at 7, will precede.
