

The Dalles Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY NOV. 8, 1900

Now will the democrats be good?

Will the readers of Hearst's Pacific Coast Police Gazette, yepeled the San Francisco Examiner, ever realize what malicious and willful lying that unprincipled sheet indulged in during the late campaign?

The free silver craze is now happily dead and buried, and no aggregation of voters entitled to be called democratic will ever again run a presidential candidate on a platform favoring the free coinage of silver at any ratio.

That the American voter turned a deaf ear to Bryan's gospel of envy and hate is another proof of his intelligence and that he can be trusted to do the right thing at the right time. Any other answer to Bryan's demagogic appeals would have furnished evidence that manhood suffrage is a failure.

The Youths' Companion.

The new volume of The Youth's Companion for 1901 will mark the paper's seventy-fifth year of continuous publication—seventy-five years, during which it has had the approval of three generations of readers. The constant aim of The Companion is to carry into the home reading that shall be helpful as well as entertaining—reading that shall contribute to the pure happiness of all the family. Strong in the assurance that every reader gained is a friend won, the publishers offer to send The Companion free for the remaining weeks of 1900 to those who subscribe now for the new volume for 1901. There will not be an issue from now until 1902 that will not be crowded with good stories and articles of rare interest and value. Diplomats, explorers, sailors, trappers, Indian fighters, story-writers and self-made men and women in many vocations, besides the most popular writers of fiction, will write for The Companion not only next year, but during the remaining weeks of this year. Illustrated announcement of the volume for 1901 will be sent free to any address, with sample copies of the paper. The Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Blakeley's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Clarke & Falk have on sale a full line of paint and artist's brushes.

Filipinos Are Musical.
Despite the fact that the American troops are busily engaged in "suppressing" the Filipinos, a striking demand for musical instruments from this country is being made by the people over whom Aguinaldo once ruled. Consul Winter, writing from Annaberg recently, referred to the fact that there are few native Filipinos who do not play some musical instrument, and that the musical talent among them is great. The instruments for which they care most are mandolins, guitars, violas and flutes, and they have derived most of their supply thus far from the Americans. The average Filipino does not lavish money on his musical education, however, and is not able, as a rule, to buy expensive instruments. The Tagals prefer instruments with a slow exterior, and Consul Winter believes the archipelago offers a fine opportunity for the man who gets there soon with a large supply of musical instruments.—N. Y. Herald.

Oldest Ex-United States Senator.
An elderly gentleman who sat behind me in one of the parks, as the asphalt pavements sizzled and baked, asked me if I knew ex-Senator Bradbury, of Maine. "Do you know he is the oldest living ex-senator, and there were some mighty interesting times when he was here. Let me see! He only lacks two summers of being 100 years old, and his memory and political activity extend well back to the time of Andrew Jackson. Yes, he was an active man, a forerunner of the Pine tree state has furnished. I understand he is now living at Augusta, Me., and still takes a keen interest in current political affairs." Later, I secured a photograph of ex-Senator Bradbury from Maine, and it shows him a wonderfully preserved man, 95 years of age.—Joe Mitchell Chapple, in National Magazine.

From Mosquito Mission.
Some of the proceedings of the ecumenical conference, recently held in New York, were marked by humor. A member of one of the audiences rose in his place at the end of a speech, and asked for the attention of those present. The presiding officer thought that a missionary was about to speak, and asked: "From what outpost do you come?" "I am from Jersey City," replied the man from the audience—perhaps from inability to hear the exact words of the question.—N. Y. Tribune.
