The official count of Klickitat county gives McKinley 403 votes over Bryan for president, Frink 306 over Rogers for governor, Cushman 407 over Ronald for congressman, Jones 407 over Robinson for congressman and Nesbitt 352 over Barland for representative. Four years ago McKinley's plurality over Bryan was 232.

An Astoria corn doctor who made some election wagers of treatment of pedal excrecences against sums of money equal to what the professional services would cost if paid for, has not been seen since the election, and one or two Astorians are impatiently awaiting his return to the city. When he does arrive he will be kept busy trimming ears gratuitously for a few days, says the News.

Gus Miller was arrested last night by Officer Like for going to sleep on the sidewalk in the neighborhood of Cross's grocery store. He was booked on the charge of drunkenness, but in consideration that since his arrival here Saturday from Gilliam county, where he had been working as a farm hand, he had blown in all his money save a few nickels, His Honor, Judge Gates, discharged him this morning without fine.

Say, do you know a good thing when you see it? If you do, call around and let us show you that most desirable four-roomed cottage and barn, orchard and lot on Thirteenth street. It is a beauty, and we are going to sell it. If we can't get what it is worth, we are going to sell it any way. Try us and see. We have a new supply of money to loan since the election. If you want to get a good loan at reasonable rates of interest, call and see us. Hudson & Brownhill.

The O. B. & N. steamer, Modoc, is now making regular trips to Salem and Independence, stopping at all way landings. She leaves Portland on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a. m., arriving at Salem at 4 p. m. and Independence about 6 on the same days. Returning boat leaves Independence at 5 a. m. and Salem at 6 a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, arriving at Portland about 3 p. m. same days.

Last year at this time unusual interest was manifested in the much-heralded approach of the Leonid shower, which, however, did not take place owing probably to the perturbation of the Leonids by the planets Jupiter and Saturn. There is a slight shower of meteors every year, but the heavy stream appears to us only in an average of 33.25 years, and it is this fiery shower which we expect this year, on tomorrow night, November 14, 13th hour, astronomical time, or November 15, civil time, from about midnight until dawn.

The Telegram tells of a Portland minister who married a young couple the other day and was handed a nickel by the groom in payment for his services. We know of a Dalles minister who got less than that for a similar service. After performing the ceremony the groom inquired the fee. "Just what you please," was the answer. "Then, I thank you very much," replied the groom as he took the arm of his wife and walked off. The Portland groom came back when he discovered he had given the minister a nickel instead of a five-dollar gold piece, but the Dalles groom never came back.

L. S. Davis has returned to The Dalles after spending the summer hunting fossils in the regions of the John Day and Crooked river. Till towards the end of July Mr. Davis was with a party from the University of California, under the direction of Professor Merriam. Since then he was accompanied by a Berkeley graduate named Vance Osmont. The search was very successful, especially the latter part of it. All told they secured some thirty-seven large boxes of fossil remains, many of which are considered of great value. Mr. Davis shipped seven boxes to Munich, but the lion's share of the find will go to Berkeley.

Colonel Dosh advises prune growers holding Italian prunes not to be scared by reports from Salem. He says that offers of 6 1/2 cents have been refused, in spite of the report that no more than 6 cents can be obtained, and that the growers may consider themselves lucky to obtain that price. He says that growers can easily get 7 cents for the Italian prunes. Furthermore, he says, the world's supply does not cut any figure in the marketing of the Italian prunes. This variety has a demand aside and independent of the demand for any other prune. In other words, the Italian prune is not affected by the demand or supply of other classes of prunes, because it stands upon an independent basis of its own.

When John Wilson, alias Howard, who is accused of breaking into W. A. Johnston's store a few weeks ago, was taken to the circuit court room yesterday for arraignment, a search was made of his cell that resulted in finding a jack knife, a case knife, a peculiar looking large screw and a large wire nail. The case knife was hacked in the edge so that it could be used as a saw. Where Wilson concealed these things the sheriff would like to know. He was searched the first thing on his arrival and nothing was found on him. It is possible the articles may have been handed him through the bars of the back door by a pal on the outside. Wilson is evidently a tough one. He had utilized the big screw in the attempt to make a hole through the cement floor of his cell and thus escape, but found the job a vain one and abandoned it.

Elder I. L. Harader, whose reputation for truth and veracity has never been blemished, reports an interesting study in nature at his home on the west side of town, says the Payette Independence. "A few days ago an old cat drifted into his possession from the adjacent brushy lands that lie to the south of his orchard, bringing with her a family of four kittens. About this there is nothing strange, but when it is asserted that these kittens are half rabbit and half cat, the fore-quarters being that of the kitten, while the hind-quarters is that of the rabbit; that they have the bumpy cotton tail of the rabbit and jump instead of walking, our fusion friends will receive a great shock in the fear that the cat-rabbit trust will destroy the value of the jack-rabbit as a substitute for breakfast in the event of a democratic administration of national affairs. But seriously there is no joke about the strange family at Elder Harader's. The mongrels are worth seeing."

Griffith, the Hypnotist.

Griffith, the eminent American hypnotist, who by virtue of his great speed and accuracy has created so much comment the past season in our western cities, is booked for a three-nights stay at the Vogt opera house, commencing Thursday, Nov. 15th. During his stay here he will give an exhibition on the streets of this city, introducing one of the most difficult and startling tests known to this wonderful phenomena, the blindfold drive, wherein a committee of the most prominent citizens of the town will take a spirited team, and while the professor is in the hands of another committee, whose business it is to keep him from seeing or getting any idea of the first committee, drive a circuitous route, ten or twelve blocks in all, and hide an article (a pin for instance) and return to place of starting. The professor, after being securely and tightly blindfolded, will drive the team at a fast gallop over the same identical route and find the hidden article. This remarkable feat will take place Saturday at 3:30 p. m., starting in front of the postoffice drug store.

A subject will be put into a twenty-four-hour hypnotic sleep Thursday night, placed on exhibition in Clarke & Falk's drug store, where he will be subject to examination all times by any one. He will be carried from the window Friday evening and awakened on the stage at 8:30.

"The Hottest Coon in Dixie."

The Vogt opera house will present its patrons with a positive amusement novelty tonight when the musical ragtime comedy travesty, "The Hottest Coon in Dixie," will be seen here for the first time. The organization comprises forty of the foremost singers, comedians and specialty artists of the colored race, there not being a white face in the ranks, although in the chorus are a dozen pretty young women who will be difficult to distinguish from their lighter sisters. The singing of the company is said to be marvelous, which may well be believed since the organization includes almost intact the famous "Clorindy" chorus of singers, which were the rage in New York for sixteen consecutive weeks at the Casino Roof Garden. Their selections range from all of the popular rag-time and coon melodies to magnificently costumed choruses from the operas. In this feature the show will be a revelation to Dalles theatergoers. The specialties are all original and of a popular order, while the comedy of the piece is in the hands of such well known colored artists as Wm. H. Proctor, Bob Kelly, Billy Cole, Fred Carey, Carl Brown, Billy Jackson, Eddie Harris, Morris Smith, Wm. Grundy, Miss Neale G. Hawkins, Clara Bell Carey, Bessie Hamilton, Mollie Minor, Maude Grundy and others. "The Hottest Coon in Dixie" is costumed quite as pretentiously as the largest of the opera companies, and in every respect is an attraction that will be heartily appreciated and enjoyed by the best class of theatergoers, to whom the manager specially caters.
