

BRYANISM STILL IN THE RING.

A dispatch from Chicago says that evidence has already developed that the Bryan men now in control of the democratic party propose to continue that control if they can. While the republican national committee has given up its headquarters and practically gone out of business for four years the democratic committee has engaged rooms in the Security building and intends to keep up the Bryan propaganda until the presidential election.

The plan is one which prevailed during the last four years. A literary bureau is to be maintained which will send out matter to democratic weekly papers under authority of the national committee regularly, and Vice Chairman Johnson, or the secretary, or both, will be in charge all the time. The executive committee of the national committee, which is essentially a Bryan body, will supervise the character of this literary output and see to it that nothing but radical doctrines and theories receive the seal of the national committee.

The cardinal principle of party faith laid down will be that no democrats except those who worked and voted for the election of Bryan are entitled to any voice in the management of the party.

As another part of the plan the committee has arranged also that the National League of Democratic Clubs shall keep up its organization during the next four years, with the idea of taking a hand in the selection of delegates to the next convention. These clubs were all formed in Bryan's interest, and their members are generally supposed to be devoted to him and to the principles he represents.

Says the Chicago Chronicle, which itself did all that mortal could in the last campaign to maintain the "mongrel combination between the worst elements of democracy North and South and the populism of the West." "From Maine westward to the Rocky mountains, north of the Ohio river line, there is not a democratic governor, there is not a democratic United States senator, there are few democratic congressmen, and democrats in office of any description are so rare that a party embracing at least one-half of the population may be said almost with literal truth to have been excluded from participation in public affairs. To this humiliating estate the mongrel combination between the worst elements of democracy North and South and the populism of the West has brought a once proud political organization which has controlled the affairs of the republic in many important eras and which should control them today."

And now they tell us Switzerland wants to borrow several millions of dollars of us. All right. Let her have it. Four years more of McKinley prosperity and we will be the greatest creditor nation in the world.

If any one wants to know how far the German mind was affected by the cry of militarism let him note that Wisconsin gave McKinley a plurality of 102,000 in 1896, and a plurality of 110,000 in 1900.

A democratic exchange says "the democratic party stands for principles that never die." Possibly; but it has stood for a miscellaneous assortment that are as dead as Julius Caesar.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley's drug store.

Southern California.

Notable among the pleasures afforded by the Shasta Route is the winter trip to Southern California and Arizona. Renewed acquaintance with this section will ever develop fresh points of interest added sources of enjoyment, under its sunny skies, in the variety of its industries, in its prolific vegetation and among its numberless resorts of mountain, shore, valley and plain.

The two daily Shasta trains from Portland to California have been recently equipped with the most approved pattern of standard and tourist sleeping cars, but the low rates of fare will still continue in effect.
