

CHINESE EXCLUSION.

Said the San Francisco Chronicle of a week ago: "The frantic efforts of our democratic contemporary to drag the question of Chinese exclusion into the recent campaign failed signally, as it was right it should. There never was the slightest merit in the assumption that the republican party contemplated breaking down the barriers and letting in the Asiatic horde. The attempt to make an issue of the subject failed because everybody knows that the exclusion of the Chinese is a non-partisan policy in this state. All parties are not only committed to it, but public sentiment is unanimous against letting down the bars. No politician on the Pacific Coast would venture to take any other stand on the question, and when the time comes for the re-enactment of the exclusion act it will be found that a republican congress will be true to the party record on the subject of Chinese immigration. The election is now over, and the result shows that the frenzy of our democratic contemporary in forcing the Chinese issue drove votes away from its ticket instead of attracting them to it. It acted as a boomerang."

The Globe-Democrat thinks the democratic party is not dead yet but is of the opinion that the Bryanite end of it will be sloughed off. Some Vallandigham will appear who will force the democracy to take a new departure in 1900, as the original Vallandigham did a little over a quarter of a century ago. The present shake-up will give the democracy a new aspect. The adoption of the riot and repudiation program was the biggest mistake which any party in the United States ever made except that of secession.

The repudiated bully, Croker, has the effrontery to say that the democrats are invincible because they "always fight for principles." Dick probably thinks the American public has forgotten his enunciation of the greatest of all democratic principles, "my own pockets all the time." This is the only democratic principle that Croker and his gang know or care about. What the country thinks of it is apparent in the returns, remarks the Philadelphia Press.

The people of California wanted rain. They were told by the republicans that if McKinley was elected it would rain. McKinley was elected and the next day it rained. Now what in the world is the use of trying to get away from such overwhelming arguments as that? sarcastically asks an irreverent and disgruntled Bryanite.

The Spokane Chronicle wants to know, now that it's all over, if Mr. Bryan has really succeeded in teaching that pet rooster of his to crow.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh: they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size, Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.
The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation.
