SHALL WE

be Clothed?

As the icy breath of old Boreas sweeps around the corner it carries that question right home to us. Humanity can no more stand such weather unprotected than can the lillies of the field. Remember right now that underwear is cheaper than funerals and overcoats cost less than undertakers. Therefore we say "come unto us all ye who shiver and are lightly muffled and we will warm you up"

Sheriff Kelly and Deputy Sheriff Woods went to Mosier this afternoon on business connected with the sheriff's office.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will have a sale of cakes and pies at I. C. Nickelsen's store on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

A peddler was robbed last night in an East End feed yard of two grips containing his stock in trade. No trace of the robber has been found.

J. G. Edwards tells the Antelope Herald that the Oregon King mine is not sold, but that a sale is pending. Experts of two different parties are on the ground investigating the mine.

All members of Friendship Lodge, No. 9, Knights of Pythias, are requested to be present at their Castle hall this evening. There will be work in the second rank. All sojourning Knights are cordially invited to be present.

We have a fine, paying feed yard and blacksmith shop in good location in this city that we will sell cheap and on easy terms. If you want a bargain, now is the time. For further particulars see Hudson & Brownhill, The Dalles.

In the circuit court this morning a motion for default was granted in the action of Ina Speichinger vs. Henry Speichinger for divorce, the defendant not appearing. The case now rests on the testimony to be submitted by the plaintiff. Ned Gates appeared for the plaintiff.

Brogan & Sweeney bought of the B. S. & L. Co. last week 400 head of yearling and 2-year-old Merino ewes, paying $3.50 per head for them. They recently purchased 1000 head of ewes from Thos. Brogan paying $3.40 for them. McKinley prosperly makes such prices not only possible, but profitable.—Antelope Herald.

The B. S. & L. Co., of Hay Creek, with that spirit of liberality which characterizes all their dealings, have come to the rescue of the Antelope Fair Association with a donation of $100. The receipts from the fair failed to meet all of the expenses, and this contribution from the Hay Creek company was a very gracious act, says the Herald.

A grand masquerade ball will be given Thanksgiving night, November 29th, in the new brick hotel in Shaniko, under the auspices of the volunteer firemen of that town. Music will be furnished by Prof. D. Legro's orchestra, of Portland, and reduced rates will be given from all points on the Columbia Southern railway.

Wood Gilman, the cattle king of Wheeler county, went through Antelope Wednesday, with 140 beef cattle which were shipped to Portland via the Columbia Southern railway from Shaniko. The cattle were sold to the Union Meat Co. for $3.25 for cows and $3.75 for steers, says the Herald.

The first snow of the season began to fall here this morning and continued falling at intervals during the day, but melting on the streets nearly as fast as it fell. Snow at this date is very unusual, and residents of forty years and over remember only four or five years when it fell to any extent during the month of November.

Dr. Ferguson, who is attending Rev. Paul Kruger, reports that his patient was so much better this morning that his ultimate recovery is confidently looked for. Mr. Kruger's reason is restored, although he still suffers considerable pain in the back part of his head as the result of its concussion with the sidewalk when he fell.

Hon. A. S. and Mrs. Roberts will leave in the morning for Eugene to attend the wedding of Mr. D. H. Roberts and Miss Mabel McCann, which will be celebrated at that place tomorrow afternoon. The wedding is the outgrowth of an attachment formed while the contracting parties were school companions at Eugene. The wedding will be strictly private, or, as the brother of the bridegroom puts it: "No cards, no cake, no gingerbread, no nothing."

In Justice Brownhill's court Saturday afternoon Emery Fish, of Ten-Mile, was indicted for the larceny of eleven hogs from D. J. Cooper. Ned Gates appeared for the defendant and Frank Montee for the state. The evidence showed that Fish had taken up the hogs as estrays and duly posted them according to law. The owner refused to pay damages and swore out a complaint charging Fish with larceny. On motion of the prosecuting attorney the case was dismissed. Mr. Cooper afterwards settled for the keeping of the hogs and received them back.

Mr. H. C. Rooper quite recently found a fossil on his ranch which would no doubt prove of unusual interest to archæologists. The fossil appears to be the lower left jaw of some large animal, and but for its size and the number of teeth it contains, could easily have been mistaken for a human jaw-bone. The shape of the teeth would indicate that the animal was omnivorous, but the jaw-teeth numbered fully twice as many as an "up-to-date" human being is usually possessed of. In any event, Mr. Rooper has a very interesting relic of some prehistoric period.—Antelope Herald.

Stock Inspector Bonney writes to the Antelope Herald that some bucks which were pastured at Mr. Vanmeters in Tygh Valley have broken out with scab. These bucks were owned by the following named parties: C. T. Fargher, F. N. Jones, H. Fargher, Gus Sachs, Wallace Fargher, W. E. Hunt, M. Maxwell, John Karlen and Frank Gable. The most prompt measures have been taken to have these sheep properly treated. Some sheep still on the Vanmeter place have the scab also. They have been promptly dipped and put on new pasture.

Assessor Whipple left this afternoon for Portland, where he will attend the assessors' convention which will open at that place tomorrow. Judge Blakeley will leave here on the morning train for the same purpose and will be joined at Hood River by Commissioner Evans. All of these gentlemen are earnestly in favor of a state board of equalization unless the enemies of a state board can suggest something better, which is not at all likely.

The darkness of last night, or bad aim, or both, prevented a tragedy in the East End close to the place where Night-watchman Like had the tussle with a couple of toughs a few nights ago. About 9:30 o'clock Officer Like and another observed a couple of strangers that were acting, as they thought, suspiciously and made towards them. As the officers approached the men took to their heels. The officers gave chase and as they neared the strangers one of them sent a ball past one of the officer's ears. The fire was promptly returned but the men easily escaped in the darkness.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Antelope Republican learns on good authority that "Hood River will try to be cut off from Wasco county, and form a new one at this coming session of the legislature." If our Hood River friends have any such intention, they must reckon on the opposition of the Republican, for it asks excitedly: "What are we going to do? Lay in the shade and go to sleep? Or will we be up and doing and looking to our interests. This is not a matter of county seat, but a matter of taxation. Let us then be up and doing, with a heart to any fate; still achieving, still pursuing, learn to labor and to wait."

A. F. & A. M.

There will be a stated communication of Wasco Lodge, No. 15, A. F. & A. M., this (Monday) evening at 7:30. Work in the E. A. degree. A full attendance is desired.

THE DALLES VICTORIOUS.

Goldendale Gave the Home Athletes a Warm Game—No Match For Our Boys.

The football game Saturday between Goldendale and The Dalles, at the former's grounds, was warmly contested from start to finish. Though the hosts were no match for the visitors in this game, the former are not to be despised as future antagonists. They were well captained, being led by Eddie McKenzie, a splendid football player. Others had also had experience on the gridiron, but the team was largely made up of young men who knew but little of football, and several had never seen a game. It can be said of them that they are as fine a lot of athletes as one will find anywhere, and they need but experience and work to wrest victory from the best in their class. Socially, a finer lot of boys never existed; and it can be said of all Goldendale that this spirit was everywhere noticeable.

The Dalles boys were royally entertained, and nothing was overlooked to make the occasion one of complete enjoyment. It was with a right good will that The Dalles team gave three cheers for Goldendale and then three cheers for Captain McKenzie, after the game was over. And the visitors left the little town, nestled back against the foothills of the Cascades, with a "Rah! Rah! Rah! Goldendale!"

It is the intention to have a return game at The Dalles on Thanksgiving, and our people must help the home team in extending a royal welcome to our friends, and to entertain them during their brief stay.

The Dalles boys played a good game after the "fluke" that gave Goldendale the touchdown. The ride over was cold and the boys were not in good condition to play until warmed up. They were making rapid gains when an error gave the hosts the score of five.

On the toss-up, The Dalles won and chose goal, giving Goldendale the kick-off. The Dalles held the ball till well toward their goal, when by a careless move The Dalles lost the ball, and shortly afterward Captain McKenzie made a run around The Dalles left and nearly scored a touchdown before being tackled.

It was in this play that plucky Bob Murry, The Dalles' quarter-back, had his collar-bone broken, but he remained in the game fully ten minutes longer, despite his injury, which was unknown until a doctor was called to examine the hurt.

In the next play, Goldendale got over the line, but failed to kick a goal. The rest of the game was all The Dalles'. In a few minutes they had secured a touchdown, but also failed in kicking a goal, and at the close of the first half were within the ten-yard line of their goal.

In the second half, The Dalles made two touchdowns but failed to kick one goal, and at the close of the game were within one foot of their goal, the game ending 5 to 16, in favor of The Dalles.

Special mention should be made of the playing of Cooper, Murray, Scott, and of Groehler, who made two long end runs; of Rex Ward's sure work as quarter-back, and without practice, and of the line's success in withstanding all line bucks without any assistance from the backs. The remainder of the team departed themselves excellently, which was all very creditable to Captain Max Bartell, who coached the team, playing left-half in the game.

The line up was as follows:

GOLDENDALE		THE DALLES
Coleman	c	Brown
Leve	rg	Brown
Dariand	lg	Zorka
Timblin	rt	Ward
Sanders	lt	Hagon
Allen	re	Mays
Masters	le	Gus Bartell

Substitutes — Goldendale, Coffield, Upton and Miller. The Dalles, Scott, Smith, Heppner and Patterson.

Referee, Harry Northrup; umpire, Mr. Simpson; time-keeper, Mr. Wilson; linesmen, Charles Heppner and John Brown.

After the accident to Murray, Gus Bartell took right tackle, Rex Ward quarter-back and Ben Scott left end, which formation was maintained till the close of the game.

The Dalles team returned yesterday, at 2 p. m. Tom Ward escorted the party in his big wagonette, with six horses.
