Will We Fortify the Mearagus Canal?

New York, Nov. 19 .- Plans are being made by the som nestration, according to a Washington dispatch to the Herald, to press with vigor for ratification by the senate of the illos-l'anneefote treaty in its original form as the first step towar is the construction of an isthmian canal. This action is likely to precipitate one of the memorable contests of the coming session of congress.

Opposition to the treaty is based on the fact that it provides that no fortification shall be erected on the canal. The Hepburn bill, which has passed the house, provides for the construction and protection by the secretary of war of a Nicaraguan canal. In addition Senator Davis has brought before the senate from the committee on foreign relations an amendment that nothing relating to the treaty shall restrict measures which the United States may find necessary for the defense of the United States. The Davis amendment was copied from the tenth clause of the Constantinople treaty, securing the neutrality of the Suez canal. In speaking of probable legislation on the canal, a prominent administration official said: "It is manifestly absurd to attempt to make a private national 'snap' of the exclusive control and use of the great interoceanic waterway. To establish such conditions will be a challenge to all to combine against us and to compel us to do what we ought to do in the spirit of modern civilization-that is to reciprocate the privileges we receive in the eastern world.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa, "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all of no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlam's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy for sale by Blakeley, the druggist.

AUGUST BUCHLER, Prop.

Of the product of this well-known brewery the United States Health Reports for June 28, 1900, says: "A more superior brew never entered the labratory of the United States Health reports. It is absolutely devoid of the slightest trace of adulteration, but on the other hand is composed of the best of malt and choicest of hops. Its tonic qualities are of the highest and it can be used with the greatest benefit and satisfaction by old and young. Its use can conscientiously be prescribed by the physicians with the cersainty that a better, purer or more wholesome beverage could not possibly be found.
