PEASE & MAYS

To Whom It May Concern,

It having come to my knowledge that parties, presumably interested, are claiming that when I sold out my retail interest at 173 Second street, French's block, I contracted to not open any retail business in the city of The Dalles, I beg to say that I sold my right not to open any retail business between Federal and Washington streets, on Second street, and have and intend to conform to my contract. My place at the Bank Cafe is in no sense in violation of the contract.

Mays & Crowe

The only store in this city where the Genuine Imported Stransky-Steel Ware is sold.

A little higher in price, but outlasts a dozen pieces of so-called cheap enamel ware.

BEWARE!

Other wares look like it, but the genuine has the name Stransky-Steel Ware on each piece. Do not be deceived. First prize at 10 International Exhibitions. Highest award at World's Columbian Exhibition, Chicago. Preferred by the best cooking authorities, certified to by the most famous chemists for purity and durability. It is cheapest because

BEST.

Remember this celebrated enamel ware is especially imported for and sold in this city exclusively by us.

It does not rust nor absorb grease, does not discolor nor etch inside, is not affected by acids in fruits or vegetables, will boil, steam, and bake without imparting flavor or previously cooked food and will last for years.

We caution the public against imitations.

Sheriff Kelly has appointed J. J. Wiley as his deputy for the town of Shaniko. The Leader says the appointment gives universal satisfaction.

Nelson Rich, of North Yakima, is of the opinion that in a short time no irrigation will be required in that section as the climate is changing rapidly.

Sheriff Kelly went to Shaniko today to serve papers in the suit of Drake C. O'Rilly against E. E. Lytle and others of the Columbia Southern railway.

From the Shaniko Leader we regret to learn that Mrs. J. J. Wiley, of that town, has been obliged to go to St. Vincent's hospital for medical treatment.

Dr. Ray W. Logan has been appointed physician and surgeon of the Columbia Southern railway, with headquarters at Moro and jurisdiction over the entire line.

Mrs. H. L. Jones begs to announce that she is now prepared to serve meals at regular hours at the Cafe, Second street, next door to the McInerney dry goods store. d4-11

Captain S. B. Ormsby and W. H. H. Dufur went out to Mr. Dufur's place today, from whence they will make a special inspection of part of the eastern slope of the forest reserve.

Of those thirty-nine pair of ladies' patent leather shoes A. M. Williams & Co. put on sale yesterday morning, they report having but ten pair left at noon today. And then some people say that advertising doesn't pay.

"Oh, what pretty dolls!" People can't help but say that when going through A. M. Williams & Co.'s store. Their assortment is so large and those dolls are such perfect beauties. Those in search for the best there is in this line will surely find Williams & Co.'s the store to go to.

Acting Postmaster Forest Fisher received a telegram from his brother, Ralph, today announcing that he had just been elected captain of the Stanford university football team for the year 1901. It is worthy of note that Forest himself was captain of the same team during the year 1898.

Wouldn't it make you mad if after you had made up your mind to take your mother, sister, wife or best girl to see "My Friend From India," and you had put off buying your seats till the last moment, you found all the best ones sold? Wouldn't it jar you? Remember seats can be secured at Clarke & Falk's.

Menefee & Parkins, of this city, successors to the Jacobsen Book & Music Company, filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state Wednesday. The incorporators are William Menefee, H. D. Parkins and Frank Menefee. The capital stock is $5000, divided into shares valued at $100 each.

The grand lodge Degree of Honor, Ancient Order of United Workmen of Oregon, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Wednesday. Among the incorporators are Mrs. Ollie F. Stephens, of this city, and Mrs. Margaret E. Herrin, a former resident.

Kiddle Bros. & Bidwell, of Island City, Wallawa county, have shipped this year twenty carloads of horses, eighty of cattle, and seventy-five of hogs, the total value of which is $200,000. Most of the stock found market at Omaha. Last week the company consigned seven carloads of hogs to Seattle.

Word comes down from Heppner that a splendid reception is being planned for our local football team, upon their visit to that place a week hence. The band will receive the visitors at the depot and escort them to the Palace hotel, a large, commodious brick. The town will provide entertainment during the stay of the athletes, the last but not least being a ball at the opera house on Friday evening.

The Moro correspondent of the Shaniko Leader understands that the tenants on the disputed overlap Eastern Oregon military road lands are going to make a last effort to retain possession of their homes. A prominent firm of lawyers say they can still win their cause, and not only secure their lands for these people, but compel the E. O. R. Co. to disgorge the rents paid by farmers this fall. It is a positive fact that one man had the temerity to sell the grain claimed as rent, put the money in his pocket and defy the land grabbers.

Oregon pays annually $550,000 for Eastern eggs and the demand increases yearly. Not because Oregon is unadapted to successful poultry raising, but because producers have not been compelled to engage in the business in a systematic and practical way. Oregon needs more experienced poultry men who will engage in the poultry industry, raising fowls and more of them. The demand for good eggs and poultry has always been beyond the supply, and the present stimulation in the mining industry and increasing immigration must create a greater future market.

The Shaniko Leader notes that A. McAdam, the genial salesman in the dry goods department of Pease & Mays, recently received quite a lot of fine furniture to be placed in his handsome bachelor apartments. Receiving the furniture in itself is nothing, adds the Leader, but one particular item in the list looks a little suspicious, to say the least, and that little item is a rocking chair that would just about fit a 3-year-old girl. Rumor has it that there is a widow in the case, and the widow has a girl. If such a thing be true, a royal reception will be tendered the happy couple.

Speaking of Professor Meakin, who lectures at the Baldwin Monday night for the Woodmen of the World, this week's Skamania County Pioneer says: Seidon, if ever, have we heard such a lecture as was given by Prof. H. P. Meakin, head camp lecturer for the Woodmen of the World. Mr. Meakin does not fire an audience by quoting a whole list of figures and running down other orders. For lack of space we cannot go into detail, but will say to those who have not heard him, that if it is possible to hear him, don't miss the chance and you will have something impressed upon your mind that you will not forget soon.

We find the following gem going the rounds of the press, without credit: "Remember this, young man, be careful what you say about a woman's character. Think how many years she has been building it, of the toils and privations endured, of wounds received, and let no suspicion follow her actions. The purity of a woman is the salvation of the race, the hope of greatness and the redemption of man. Wipe out her purity and the man sinks beneath the wave of despair, without a star to guide his life into the channel of safety. Think, then, before you speak, and remember that any hog can root up the fairest flower that ever grew; so the vilest man can ruin the purest woman's character."

A new feature has been added to initiation into the Maccabees, and was first tried last Saturday night on Bert Chamberlain, says the Albany Democrat. When the remark was made

"bring the villain forth," the candidate stepped back and drawing two six-shooters, loaded with blank cartridges, began firing right and left. The guards on the inside fell over, Jack Hammil, who was nearby, collapsed, and the other members vacated the hall by the quickest route. Lawyer Newport not returning for his coat and hat until next day; and there are several coats and umbrellas remaining uncalled for yet. It was exciting enough for even Teddy Roosevelt, or Jack Hammil, the real instigator of the fun.

Owing to the splendid musical treat given at the Vogt last evening, the Women of Woodcraft did not expect an audience at their street fair and carnival, but their friends surprised them by a splendid turnout and the house was filled and a good program listened to. The ladies on the committee were disappointed in not being able to give their program as was arranged on account of sickness in several instances. A musician for dancing could not be had as was arranged, due to the pianists all being at the Italian band entertainment, but the committee will promise this in future, that a musician for dancing will be there to play. However, dancing was enjoyed even if the guests did have to furnish the music, and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed by all. There was no formality, but everyone was requested to make themselves at home, and geniality reigned supreme. A handsome sum was taken at the door and in every way the evening was a success. Come again.

George Martin, a young unmarried man of 24 years, who with an elder brother was working in the logging camp of the Oregon Lumber Company, Mill A, on the Washington side of the river opposite Viento, was instantly killed at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was engaged sawing a log from a tree that was lying across another tree that was about six feet from the ground when, as is supposed, the saw pinched and in driving a wedge to relieve it the log broke and fell on him, crushing his body into the ground and killing him instantly. The deceased was the son of Elijah Martin, a farmer, living a few miles west of Monmouth, Polk county. The remains were brought to The Dalles this morning and prepared for interment at the undertaking rooms of William Mitchell. Meantime a telephone message was sent to the boy's parents asking to know their desire as to whether he should be buried here or taken to Monmouth. This afternoon an answer was returned announcing that they would come here immediately and have their son buried at The Dalles. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

Those who purchased tickets for the Royal Marine band concert at the Vogt last night were not disappointed in anticipating a rare treat, as the Italian musicians more than met their expectations. The several numbers on the program were rendered in a masterly manner. The harp solo, by Giviani Setaro, deserves special mention, also the splendid work by the quartet and quintet. F. Gianini, the tenor, delighted the audience with his splendid voice and was forced to respond to several encores. "The Holy City," (cornet solo) by G. Tavani, was a very pleasing number. Taken all in all, the Royal Marine Band is hard to beat and well deserved the large audience that greeted it. Manager Clarke is to be congratulated on securing such good attractions as have held forth at the Vogt this season. "My Friend From India," by the Rice Company this evening, will be no exception to the rule, and should be well patronized.
