PEASE & MAYS

Mays & Crowe

The only store in this city where the Genuine Imported Stransky-Steel Ware is sold.

A little higher in price, but outlasts a dozen pieces of so-called cheap enameled ware.

BEWARE!

Other wares look like it, but the genuine has the name Stransky-Steel Ware on each piece. Do not be deceived. First prize at 10 International Exhibitions. Highest award at World's Columbian Exhibition, Chicago. Preferred by the best cooking authorities, certified to by the most famous chemists for purity and durability. It is cheapest because

BEST.

Remember this celebrated enameled ware is specially imported for and sold in this city exclusively by us.

It does not rust nor absorb grease, does not discolor nor catch inside, is not affected by acids in fruits or vegetables, will boil, steam, wash and bake without imparting flavor of previously cooked food and will last for years.

We caution the public against imitations.

To Whom It May Concern,

It having come to my knowledge that parties, presumably interested, are claiming that when I sold out my retail interest at 173 Second street, French's block, I contracted to not open any retail business in the city of The Dalles. I beg to say that I sold my right not to open any retail business between Federal and Washington streets, on Second street, and have and intend to conform to my contract. My place at the Bank Cafe is in no sense in violation of the contract.

Soule Bros., piano tuners, are in the city and can be found at either Menefee & Parkins' or Nickelsen's music store.

If you have dandruff, your hair is falling out. Use Coconut Cream. For sale at Frazer's barber shop. n9-1m Don't fail to hear Prof. Meakin at the Baldwin opera house next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock. Admission free.

A sale and entertainment will be given at the Baldwin opera house, December 20th, by the Catholic ladies. Admission 25 cents. Afternoon free.

"Footprints, or Onward and Upward," by Prof. John P. Meakin, at the Baldwin opera house Monday evening. If you miss it you'll regret it.

Have you seen the holiday display of fine wedgewood art pieces and baked marble statuary at A. M. Williams & Co.'s? If not, a treat awaits you.

Mrs. H. L. Jones begs to announce that she is now prepared to serve meals at regular hours at the Cafe, Second street, next door to the Melbony dry goods store. d4-11

If your hair is dry and dead-like, Coconut Cream Tonic will give it life and luster. It is pronounced the finest tonic on earth. Can be had at Frazer's barber shop, agent. n9-1m

Since the destruction of the Rochester oil lamps in the Christian church the brethren have put in a full set of Perfection gasoline lamps that are giving very great satisfaction.

C. H. Jones, editor of Oregon Teachers' Monthly, of Salem, is in the city in the interest of his paper. The Monthly is the only Oregon paper of its class that has hitherto proved a financial success, notwithstanding repeated attempts. It is to the credit of the Wasco county teachers that more than forty of them take the Monthly, and thus keep in touch with their work as they could hardly do otherwise.

A small house greeted Arthur Aston's company in "My Friend from India" at the Vogt last night, which is to be regretted, as the company gave a very acceptable performance.

The Golden Eagle Mining Company yesterday received 250 pounds of ore taken from the shaft that is simply immense. The ore was shipped to Mr. Fish and is displayed in the Umatilla House.

Mrs. M. E. Hoxter, of the Florence Crittenton Mission, Portland, is in the city and will give free lectures at the Congregational church tomorrow afternoon and evening, as announced in another column.

Lost—A small English Setter slat, with black back and four white legs. Answers to the name of "Jessie." Any one who will return her to Wood Bros.' meat market on Second street will be suitably rewarded. d8-1w

It's no trouble, but a deal of pleasure, to select your dolls at A. M. Williams & Co.'s. Their assortment is very large and every line is conveniently displayed. Furthermore, you are not obliged to ask prices, for every doll, or lot of dolls, is plainly ticketed. They invite inspection.

Rev. U. F. Hawk's subject tomorrow evening will be "The Christian's Mountain Peak." This sermon is preached at the special request of a number of members of Mr. Hawk's church who heard him preach from this theme on a former occasion. It may be of interest to others, and all are cordially invited.

A dispatch over the long distance telephone this afternoon announced that a fire started in the town of Silverton, Marion county, at 4 o'clock this morning, that lasted between eight and nine hours and practically wiped out the town. Fire engines from Portland went to the relief of the town and rendered valuable assistance.

Complaints reach this office that a number of residents on Three Mile creek continue to slaughter prairie chickens all the same as if the open season had not closed weeks ago. Some day one of these pot-hunters will be jerked up and made to pay a fine equal to the cash value of all the chickens on the creek. So note it.

At a regular meeting of Court The Dalles, No. 12, F. of A., held last night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. R. Theodore Liebe; S. C. R. L. M. Curran; Treas., V. H. Koontz; F. S. J. E. Heroux; R. S. D. Wilder; Sr. W. P. F. Barham; Jr. W. A. C. Thomas; Sr. B. J. J. Murphy; Jr. B. T. Maloney; Physician, Dr. J. A. Geisendorfer.

Stage Driver on a Bust.

Sam Stark, a law student in the office of Judge Bennett, arrived here last night from Prineville, via The Dalles and Shaniko stage, and reports the following accident that happened Thursday at Creek's, or Willow creek, the first stage station this side of Prineville.

The Prineville and Shaniko stage left Prineville at 11 p. m., with the driver, Augustus Delore, full of whiskey and still drinking. On nearing the Creek station Delore thought he would give the benighted occupants of the stage an exhibit of his capacity as an expert in his particular line, with the result that the horses became frightened, and getting beyond his control, the stage wheeled foul of a small bridge south of Creek's and jerked a wheel off, throwing the occupants of the vehicle violently to the ground. The injured were A. Fenton, of Hillsboro, W. J. Calvin, of Salem, and A. B. Niles, of Walla Walla. Calvin and Niles were badly bruised, but not seriously, and when another vehicle was procured were able to resume their journey to Shaniko. Fenton, who is a young man, had his hip dislocated and was unable to proceed. The distressing feature about Fenton's case was that he had just received a dispatch from Hillsboro announcing that his mother was dying and he was hurrying to her bedside with all possible speed.

The ludicrous part of the incident occurred when the driver recovered his wits, after being thrown to the ground. Seeing the bottle that had been the cause of all the trouble, lying beside him uninjured, he seized it and raising it to his lips, took a deep draught and extending it towards the injured passengers, said: "Boys take one on me." "The wounded passengers," Sam says, "didn't seem to appreciate the tempting courtesies of the driver and refused to drink."

Encounter With a Deer.

Henry Taylor had an encounter this morning with Mr. Watts' pet male deer that he will not forget for many a day. It was still dark at a little before 6 o'clock, when Mr. Taylor left his home to open the George Rich store. As he was passing the Crum residence, on the corner of Third and Laughlin, he heard a strange patter of feet behind him and turned around to see what it was. In a moment the deer, which was evidently on the war path, had struck Mr. Taylor mid-shins and landed him in the gutter, following up the performance by jumping on top of him. Mr. Taylor grabbed the beast by a horn and leg and held on like grim death, regaining his feet for a time and again being thrown to the ground. About the time Mr. Taylor was almost exhausted the noise of the scuffle had attracted the attention of Frank Cram, who came to his relief. Mrs. Cram followed with an ax, and handing it to her husband that gentleman gave the vicious brute a blow over the left eye that the deer will probably remember as long as memory holds sway, if it does not result in settling his fighting proclivities for all time. This is not the first time the beast has acted meanly, but it will probably be its last. The other day it attacked a lady on the street near the Bee Hive restaurant. Mr. Taylor suffered all day from painful bruises on his right arm and right side.

THE SEWER QUESTION.

Good and Bad Features of the Several Plans Impartially Discussed.

Mr. Editor:—The sewer question is again vexing the minds of both citizens and the members of the council. Therefore I trust you will permit me to make a few comments bearing upon the subject.

There are three prominent ways of accomplishing the purpose, each of which has its advocates and each has its advantages and its drawbacks. Take the one adopted by the council a year ago. This would have been the speediest and possibly the cheapest. It was objected to, however, because it contemplated payment of the whole expense at once, and this by some who could not possibly meet such an expense on a short notice. It was argued by some also that that portion of the town not included in the system would later attach on to the mains without having borne any of the burden of constructing them. Even if they were willing to do so, there would be no practical way of refunding to the original builders. I will say also, although this has no bearing upon the financial plans now chiefly being discussed, that this plan contemplated a radical change in location from the old system. Instead of crossing the railroad track in from half to a dozen places and running out to a safe distance at least, one large main was to run parallel with the track on the city side and receive all the mains running north. It was then to run out under the bridge over Mill creek, where it could easily and cheaply reach the river. Incidentally I will mention that I yield to the opinion of the engineer that this plan will be cheaper than any plan that crossed the railroad in various places, and better than any that has a delivery short of the Columbia river.

Another plan is to be carried out by building mains upon petitions of residents along the routes. This has various objections, among them being that later others will be attaching to mains they never helped to build. Besides one family or neighborhood that is well sewered may be endangered by neighbors who could not or would not furnish proper sewage.

Yet another plan is for the city to have complete control of the whole matter. Regarding the whole plan as not only a convenience to some, but a benefit to all, the city can, by a small assessment, start at the bottom and gradually build up a little each year, and continue upon this plan until sewers are built everywhere they are needed. Under this system we would scarcely feel the expense and the worst places would be remedied first. There would be but one point to discuss after this plan is adopted; that would be whether to cross the railroad as the present system does, or pass one main out under the bridge as the engineer advised. Fortunately this is not a vital point, as either will be good. One is only cheaper than the other.

PEOPLE COMING AND GOING.

Mrs. A. Curtis, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Kirby, returned today to her home in La Grande.

Mrs. Chas. Hilton and daughter, Miss Florence, who have been visiting here for a few days, returned on this morning's boat to their home in Portland.

Hon. F. N. Jones and his bride arrived here today on the noon train and will make their home in The Dalles for the winter, at the M. A. Moody residence on Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brigham, who have been here for several months while Mr. Brigham was attending to his business of wool buying, will leave for their home in the East next Monday.

Henry Lorenzen left yesterday on a visit to his mother at the old home on the island of Foch, province of Schleswig, which he left twenty-two years ago. He expects to be gone about three months.

Mr. Henry Gulick returned a few days ago from a four months' visit among friends in New York state. He returns well and hearty and reports having had a very pleasant time. He had not been back here for forty-three years, and yet he found several old school companions and relatives that did all in their power to make his visit a pleasant one.
