shippung subsidy bill, says the New York Sun, is not a question whetber the country shall undertake the task of increasing the business of a few It is not a question of benefiting the seacoast at the expense of the rest of wealth and business of a few seaports. It is a qquestioui of developing consequences. This matter reaches deep into the interior and atfects di ectly the farmer thousands of miles inland and workingmen in every part of the country. A hundred inways. There is a vital relation between the farmer of the Central West, the iron ore miner of the North, the lumberman North and South and the restoration of the American flag to the commerce of The band of destiny points toward the sea. Let the flag go up, not on ships bought and brought from other countries, but on ships made here from truck to keelson. Let the driven home proclaim the fallacy of and right the truer policy of the by wise and prompt legislation.
