

NEBRASKA HAD A STORMY PASSAGE

Machinery Broke Down Three Times—Gales and Head Seas Constantly Swept Over the Decks.

New York, Dec. 26.—It was more than a merry Christmas for the 110 passengers on the belated Allan steamer from the Clyde, eight days overdue, the Nebraska crept into port with smashed lifeboats demolished lighthouses and broken and twisted rails. It was the first clear day the voyagers had seen since December 7th, when the Nebraska steamed out of Moville, Ireland, in the face of a gale that swept her decks.

On board the liner when she left Glasgow December 6th, were 10 saloon, 30 cabin and 70 steerage passengers. Officers and passengers declared the wreckage on deck gave but a faint idea of the horrors of the voyage. Three times the machinery broke down and the vessel had to be hoisted. Gales and head seas swept the ship from the moment she left Moville. At midnight of December 11th, the feed pipes of the engines gave out, and the Nebraska was hoisted for three hours, headed into the seas washing over her.

It was at this time that a wave smashed the two lighthouses containing the side lights. The vessel was rolling and lifting to the sea or plunging into them. The steering passengers were all in terror and the cabin voyagers clung to their berths. The feed pipes were repaired and improvised side lights placed. The engines could not force her forward at more than three knots an hour. Sometimes she moved less than two knots. Two of the lifeboats on the port side forward were smashed to splinters on December 15th. The vessel logged but fifty miles for that twenty-four hours, and for six days she made less than ninety miles. The engines had to be stopped on the 15th to cool some overheated journals, and the next day the main steam pipes gave so much trouble another stop had to be made.

The only one of the crew injured in the long voyage was William Thompson, a fireman, who was buried against the deck rails behind.

Captain David Ingram, of Vancouver, who has circled the globe twice, was one of the passengers. He said that three times the voyagers felt that all hope was gone. Not a meal could be served in the saloon during the voyage.

Allen G. Thurman Attacks Cleveland.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 26.—Allen W. Thurman, the son of "the old Roman," today in an authorized interview, ridiculed ex-President Cleveland's ideas of reorganizing the democracy, quoting this sentiment of his father's regarding Cleveland: "My father expressed my idea of Cleveland once, when he said, after reading Cleveland's message on the money question, 'while I have the greatest faith in my friend Grover's honesty, and integrity of purpose, I must say I have a poor opinion of his knowledge of money or anything else.'"

Mr. Thurman thinks the party is better organized at the present time than the Cleveland formula was followed, and it is twice more popular than it would be under it.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The partnership heretofore existing between A. M. Stringer and T. S. Kennerly, under the style of The Dalles Distillery Company, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, A. M. Stringer retiring and T. S. Kennerly continuing the business and paying all debts and collecting all bills.

To remove a troublesome corn or bunion: First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it, then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily; rubbing it vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days, to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. ## MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Chicago May Control Street Railways—Bill to Be Presented to the Next Legislature.

CHICAGO, Dec. 26.—Municipal control and regulation of street railways with popular safeguards in the nature of a permissive referendum and an open system of financing and provisions for ultimate municipal ownership are the main features of the bill to be presented to the next legislature by the Street Railway Commission of Chicago. The measure has been completed and passed upon by lawyers and is now ready to go before the members of the city council for approval and the general assembly for passage. The main points are:

Regulation of street railways in the interest of the public by city councils.

Modified frontage law.

Repeal of existing street railway act. Street railway grants to be submitted to vote of the people if city council so orders or 10 per cent of voters ask for such method. Future grants to street railway companies may contain provision for municipal ownership without compensation at expiration of the grant.

City may purchase street railways at expiration of grants. Cost of acquisition to be defrayed by street railway certificates of indebtedness, but no bonds are to be issued against the credit of the city.

Creation of street railway fund for receipts, interest on bonds and other moneys received through traction legislation.

Uniform manner of bookkeeping for all traction companies, the books to be open to inspection by state auditor at all times.

No bonds to be issued by any street railway company except upon permission of a state board, appointed to pass upon the matter.

Detailed statement of financial condition of every street railway to be presented to state auditor yearly and made public.

The street railway bill is to be followed by the subway bill, to be drawn in accordance with a resolution adopted by the council on February 5, 1900. Both bills are expected to reach the legislature in January.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Blakeley's drug store; every bottle guaranteed. 5

Cartridge Box Found.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec.—One of the clerks in the state auditor's office, in searching the vault for old records, found a cartridge box containing eight metal patched smokeless powder cartridges, 38-55, corresponding exactly to the bullet found in the hackberry tree, and which was believed to have passed through Senator Goebel's body. The significance of the discovery lies in the fact that Henry Youtsey, convicted of participation in the Goebel assassination, in October was a clerk in the auditor's office at the time of the assassination, and access to the vault where the cartridges were found, and that George Carner, another clerk in the office, testified that he saw Youtsey with a box of cartridges.

Bloody Battle in Lumber Camp.

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 26.—A bloody battle occurred Christmas eve at Adam & Knowlton's lumber camp on Chase Stream, Upper Kennebec river, and police and physicians, none of whom are nearer than thirty miles, have been summoned to the scene. The fight started in a dispute between a man known as "Ild" Hennessy and a Frenchman named Oullette, over religion, Hennessy being a Protestant and Oullette a Catholic. The two fought first with fists and soon resorted to clubs. In a few minutes the fight became general and about thirty men engaged in a terrific battle with axes, limbs of trees and lumps of ice.

A teamster named Wilson attempted to stop the fight and was laid senseless with a blow on the head. Then a teamster named Taylor took a hand as peacemaker and laid about him with all kinds of weapons. In a few minutes the ground was strewn with victims of Taylor's powerful blows, and those who had been injured in the mix-up. It is thought that of the twenty or more hurt some will die.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley's drug store. 5

Co-Operation For the Poor.

New York, Dec. 26.—An appeal to Andrew Carnegie, Miss Helen Gould, Nathan Straus and other wealthy philanthropists will be issued by the officers of the Co-Operative Brotherhood at once, asking them to help the movement of the brotherhood to establish co-operative bakeries and provision stores for the poor in this city.

"Bread and provisions which are to be sold in these stores at cost prices. The necessities of life are to be sold without profit. One thousand dollars toward starting a $2500 co-operative movement in Belgium, and has been subscribed by members of Bakers' Union No. 1," said President Storcken.

"I was one of the organizers of the co-operative movement in Belgium, and have been engaged in work of this kind all my life. Neither politics nor religion has anything to do with our movement. Workingmen of all religious beliefs and political opinions are asking to join this movement. It already has a strong trades-union of 5000 workingmen, who are ready to carry on this work unaided. But at the same time if there are wealthy philanthropists willing to aid us we shall jump at any offers of assistance that may come from them. With the capital they have at their command they could set the co-operative movement in this country so solidly on its feet that it would last as long as the nation."

Cremated Alive.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 25.—Joshua Lavering's three children were burned to death this morning and his house, together with its contents destroyed by fire. Lavering is a cripple, and earns his living by hauling wood. This morning he had gone to the woods to load his wagon and his wife accompanied him to assist.

About 11 o'clock a man ran up to them, and informed them that their house was on fire. Rushing to the scene they found the house entirely consumed, and, after a little search, the charred remains of their three little ones were discovered. The children were aged 4 and 3 years, and a 6-months-old babe, which the mother left sleeping in the carriage. The origin of the fire is uncertain, but Mrs. Lavering thinks the children must have played with the fire.

Squadron of Yeomanry Captured.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 26.—A squadron of Yeomanry, which had been following the Boers from Britstown, is reported to have been entrapped. There were several casualties, it is said, and the remainder of the force was captured.

General Kitchener has left Naauwpoort and has gone northward. The rapid concentration of troops in the disturbed districts through the personal energy of General Kitchener has allayed the local uneasiness.

Her Husband's Story

"My name is E. J. Sprong, and my address is 16 Bondman Block, Troy, N. Y. I want to tell how thankful I am that my wife's health has been restored to her. About a year ago she caught a dreadful cold, which settled in her bronchial tubes and lungs. She certainly had bronchitis, and I think consumption, too, and we despaired of her life. She had a tightness and soreness in the chest, and it was difficult for her to breathe. There were darting, sharp, dull and heavy pains, with constant coughing and expectorating. Each day she was worse than the day before. I was advised to get Acker's English Remedy, and did so, but my wife only shook her head and said: 'Another dollar thrown away.' She took the Remedy, however, and said the effect was magical. In less than an hour there was a remarkable change. She got better at once, and in a short time she was entirely well and strong again. The cure was permanent and there has been no relapse. I don't know what Acker's English Remedy is made of, but I am sure it contains something that fortifies the system against future attacks. My wife is in better general health now than ever, and you can't imagine how happy she is for her recovery. She tells everybody about Acker's English Remedy, and so do I, for I believe it to be our duty to the public to help every sufferer who has throat and lung troubles. My neighbors say it is a sure specific for croup, and has saved the lives of hundreds of little ones around in this vicinity alone."

Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s, 2s, 3s, 4s, 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York.
