County Treasurer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Found—A lady's black mitten. Owner can find it at this office.

A Tennessee man fell heir to $200,000 the next day after his wife had triumphantly secured a divorce from him, and now she is ten times richer than she was before.

Why pay fancy prices to peddlers when you can get Estey or Mason & Hamlin organs, the best in the world, from your home dealers at $40 to $50 less than they are asking?

Both ex-President Cleveland and ex-President Harrison opposed the election of Bryan, but now that the campaign is over they are doing all they can to embarrass the man who defeated him.

The local club of L. A. S. (League of American Sportsmen) will have a clay bird shoot on the beach New Year's day afternoon. Outsiders will be allowed to compete and are cordially invited to the contest.

Attorneys W. H. Wilson and B. S. Huntington went to Moro today to appear before the municipal court of that city in a case of an application for a saloon license. Moro has always been a dry town and the opposers of the saloon are putting up a stiff fight against it.

Railroad men at Pocatello, Idaho, went on a strike one day last week. The cause was the running in of a road engine to do switching. The switchmen would not stand this, and quit forthwith, demanding the removal of the locomotive, which demand was speedily granted. The strike lasted two hours.

The other dealers in town cannot sell any pianos and organs. We are having things our own way. Of course we are almost giving them away, and we dare not rush into print with prices, as it would make them still more furious. Call at Nickelson's music store, where the Wiley B. Allen Co., of Portland, are having their removal sale and turning the world upside down just now.

None who heard Mr. Elmore Rice in his recital at the K. of P. hall on his former visit to our city have forgotten the manner in which he made his violin speak to his audience, and they are anxiously waiting his return next Wednesday evening, when they will again hear him at the M. E. church. Tickets $1; on sale at Blakeley's drug store.

Never before has a music house in The Dalles delivered in a single day as many pianos and organs as we did on Christmas eve. Many were the homes made happy. And now for the new year. Every piano and organ must go. Prices cut no figure with us; they will not cost you much. There is lots of fun in the music trade now. Have you noticed it? However, it is all at Nickelson's music store.

Salem sets up the claim that her Sunday school census shows the government census of that town to have been a fiasco, and the Astoria News responds by saying that "Salem is off her base. Why, up in Portland the Sunday school census would show not more than 1000, while the government census gives the city 90,000 inhabitants. The best theory that Salem can advance is that her population was poorly enumerated."

The practice of receiving new year's calls having been revived with such success last year, many of our ladies have again signified their intention of receiving, while not a few of the gentlemen assure us they will be on hand. In order that the names of those receiving may be published it is requested that the ladies notify Miss Georgia Sampson or Miss Myrtle Michell before noon on Saturday, and these ladies will furnish THE CHRONICLE with a complete list.

The Enderby people didn't get their CHRONICLE last Saturday and we have just found out the reason. The Enderby bundle was put in a mail sack that had come to the CHRONICLE office with a lot of turnip seed from Representative Moody, and was thus carried to the postoffice. The sack carried a label with Mr. Moody's name on it, and a postoffice clerk supposing the sack was for Mr. Moody let it take the usual course in such cases, and the mistake was not discovered till two or three days after the bundle should have reached Enderby.

The storm of last Thursday evidently stirred things up a bit across the river, says the Astorian, as it carried away fifty feet of the Tokeland wharf, turned over a car on the E. R. & N. wharf at Nahcotta, and lifted the Methodist church at Bay Center from its foundation. About a half mile of the N. P. track was washed out between Willapa and Giesz crossing. The storm of the preceding Sunday had destroyed about eighty feet of the Tokeland wharf. The smokestacks of the Siler mill at South Bend were also blown down.

Last Saturday George Baxter sued Ewen McLennan in Justice Glisan's court at Antelope for $100 damages for trespass of McLennan's sheep on Baxter's premises. The Republican says the case attracted considerable attention and was ably handled by legal talent, imported and domestic. J. B. Hosford, of Moro, appearing for the plaintiff, while Ed Mays, of Portland, and E. C. Goodwin, of Antelope, handled the defense. The jury, which consisted of E.

C. Dickerson, Gus Hixon, Charles Wallace, William Towne, Ed Martin and P. A. Kirchheiner, returned a verdict for Baxter, awarding damages in the amount of $85 and costs.

Acting Postmaster Forest Fisher left today for Washington, D. C., where he has obtained a position in the census department. Mr. Fisher's services in The Dalles postoffice since the retirement of Mr. Riddell have been exceedingly satisfactory to the patrons of the office, and he carries with him to his new sphere of labor the earnest wishes of all who knew him for his future welfare. It was necessary that Mr. Fisher should be at Washington at the first of the year, so his bondsmen appointed J. M. Patterson, whose appointment to the office was confirmed a few days ago by the senate, to fill the vacancy till Mr. Patterson's own bonds are approved. Mr. Patterson therefore took charge of the office this morning.

From the Telegram we learn that Drake C. O'Reilly has been sued by the Columbia Southern Railroad Company, with which corporation he has been having considerable trouble, for over $14,000, said to be due on an assessment levied on the stock and alleged to be unpaid. Attachment proceedings have been commenced also. The complaint stated that the capital stock of the corporation consists of 3000 shares of the value of $100 each, and that December 10th 1000 shares had been unpaid. It is also stated that the defendant, D. C. O'Reilly, owns 424 shares, which he has held and voted, and that on December 10th, at a regular meeting of the board of directors of the Columbia Southern, an assessment of 35 per cent was levied upon each share of stock. The defendant is said to have been notified on December 15th that this sum of money should be paid, and that he has failed to pay over his assessment, which would amount to $14,840. Therefore the company asks the sum of $14,840, with interest since December 15th at 6 per cent.

Osteopathy.

Nature's method of healing, developed into a science by its discover, Dr. A. T. Still, the basis principle of which is the adjustment of the bones, the removal of obstructions to the perfect circulation of the blood, the removal of any undue pressure on the nervous system, muscles, tendons, etc., thereby establishing, according to the laws of nature, a perfect harmony of the whole system. All forms of diseases are treated successfully by osteopathy.

Dr. R. E. SMITH,
Specialist in nervous and chronic diseases, room 7, Vogt block.

A VERY SAD CASE.

Ten Thousand Pities That Some Young Bloods in The Dalles Won't Get Their Deserts.

W. T. Gardner, of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, was in town today looking after the case of a young girl of 16, who had fallen into bad company and had apparently started on the road to ruin. The girl, who is a mere child in looks, is an orphan, her mother having died when she was two years old and her father when she was seven. She never, therefore, knew a mother's care, and living here and there, at times among relatives and at other times among strangers, like Topsy, "grewed" up rather than was raised up.

Coming here eight or ten days ago the girl put up at one of the hotels and soon after her arrival took the bell-boy, a lad of her own age, into her confidence and told him she was without money and wanted to find work, either in the hotel or anywhere where she could earn a living. The young scrub took advantage of her situation and, as the girl alleges, ruined her. Most of the rest of her story cannot be told in these pages. It must suffice to say that her visitors became so numerous that the matter came to the ears of the hotel proprietor and she was summarily ejected.

After the girl had gone to another hotel Special Nightwatchman Alisky heard of her and reported the matter to Sheriff Kelly. Mr. Kelly immediately placed the girl under the care of a respectable elderly woman and reported the case to Judge Blakeley, who wired Mr. Gardner to come here at once. Unfortunately for the ends of justice the girl is past the age of consent and, much to Mr. Gardner's regret, a number of well-known young bloods of The Dalles are spared the disgrace of open exposure and possibly terms in the penitentiary.

After a long conference with the girl this morning, in the presence of Judge Blakeley and Sheriff Kelly, Mr. Gardner had the offending bell-boy summoned and in presence of the girl read the lad a lesson that he is not likely to forget for many a day. As the girl is too old for the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, Mr. Gardner concluded to take her to Portland and place her for the present under the care of a lady who will look after her welfare. The girl appeared to be penitent and was perfectly willing to go with Mr. Gardner, promising that she would do all in her power to be a good girl in the future.

Football on New Year's.

The game between The Dalles and Wasco for New Year's day has fizzled, owing to Wasco not being able to get a team together for the game; but The Dalles will play at that time with a Portland football team at The Dalles.

This paper did not intend to speak of it, but since there is to be no game between The Dalles and Wasco, and after the senseless and brutal attack of the Wasco newspaper regarding the game there recently between Wasco and our home team, it becomes necessary to say that The Dalles boys have used all honorable means to bring about a return game. This paper has no doubt that Wasco has good reasons for declining to meet The Dalles again and we accept them in good faith. However, The Dalles is ready and willing to meet Wasco at any time. We will play them with high school, our first team, second team, or any old team, crippled or otherwise.

The game between the Portland and the Dalles aggregation will be interesting. The players below are not allied with any club and have won four games out of five this season, and the other was a tie game between the Orions and themselves. It is composed of amateurs entirely.

As New Year's day is a holiday, it is hoped that all will attend and contribute to the support of the game. Our young athletes have spent a great deal of time and some money to put our town where it belongs in the ranks of the progressive ones. The Athletic and Commercial Club is also extending a helping hand, which is much appreciated, and after this season all athletics of our city will doubtless be under the auspices of our splendid club.
