JOHN F. HAMPSHIRE,
County Treasurer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

The Columbia Dancing Club will have their usual dance tonight at the Baldwin.

A marriage license was issued by the county clerk yesterday afternoon to W. L. Huckabay and Sadie L. Truax.

The CHRONICLE has still a few packages of choice turnip seed to give away to all who call at the office, as long as they last.

A dispatch from Wamic this afternoon announced that a stiff Chinook was blowing at that place and that the snow had nearly all disappeared.

A letter was received from Rev. U. F. Hawk this morning announcing that he would return home from Heppner tomorrow afternoon and be present at the quarterly meeting service at the M. E. church Sunday morning and preach at the same place in the evening.

The Shaniko Leader says: "Dr. Ray Logan is the only doctor in Moro at present and he thinks he can hold down all the practice here. Although Dr. Logan is a host in himself, we think he will have his hands full. As it is he don't get time to eat or sleep."

We learn from Fred Gunther that young Matthias, who is under bonds for stealing cattle, was examined this afternoon before Judge Fulton, at Moro, for lunacy. The friends of the young man insist that he has not been in his right mind since he received a gun-shot wound in the head some years ago.

Dr. Geisendorff returned on the noon train from Portland, whether he went yesterday with Mrs. Charles Hanson. The doctor assisted in an operation on Mrs. Hanson at St. Vincent hospital this morning and left her in a hopeful condition, although at best it will be a long time before she gains her wonted health.

Marshal Driver this afternoon arrested one William Smith on a warrant issued out of the recorder's court, charging him with the larceny of a razor valued at $2.50. The complaining witness is Fred C. Ripley, the barber. The razor was found on Smith's person when he was arrested, but his examination had not taken place at the time of going to press.

The Osteopath reasons as follows: A natural flow of blood is health, and disease is the effect of local or general disturbance of blood. That to excite the nerves causes muscles to contract and compress venous flow of blood to the heart; and the bones can be used as levers to relieve pressure on nerves, veins and arteries. Dr. R. E. Smith, Osteopath, room 17, Vogt block.

The Shaniko Leader understands that petitions are being prepared and will soon be circulated asking that all that portion of Wasco county between the Deschutes and Jona Day rivers and lying north of the Sherman county line, be annexed to Sherman county. The leader hopes such a measure will be introduced into the legislature and passed, as the territory described above naturally belongs in that county.

The board of regents of the State Agricultural College have authorized the director of the experiment station to establish a station for experimenting in grasses and cereals in Eastern Oregon. About $3000 is available for the work, and it is tolerably certain that the site will be selected in the neighborhood of The Dalles. Free use of suitable grounds have been offered for as long a term of years as is desired. It is thought that Professor Leckenby, who was here last summer looking over the grounds, will be asked to take charge of the station.

Within a week Seattle people raised over $100,000 to enable a local ship-building firm to obtain a contract for building a warship at a gross contract price of over three and a half million dollars and an estimated expenditure in wages of over two million dollars. Not only was the hundred thousand raised in a week, but it was over-subscribed to the amount of $3,835. The Telegram, commenting on these facts, asks "Could or would this have been possible in Portland?" And the only answer is, "Not in a thousand years."

Yesterday Sheriff Kelly received a dispatch from W. T. Gardner, of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, Portland, asking him to be on the lookout for Archie Simmons, an inmate of the home from The Dalles, and William Allen, another inmate from Pendleton, who had run away from the home and were supposed to be beating their way back to Eastern Oregon. On the arrival of the Regulator last evening Deputy Sheriff E. B. Wood found the two lads on board and landing them in the county jail, kept them there till the arrival of an officer from Portland, who took them back on the 3:30 a. m. train.

A meeting of Columbia Hose and Chemical Engine Co. No. 2 was held last night at the council chambers, at which the annual election of officers took place with the following result: Foreman, Frank French; first assistant, L. A. Schanno; second assistant, Joe Bonn; president, W. A. Johnston; secretary, Carey Ballard; treasurer, Max Vogt, Jr.; fire police, Gus Bonn, 3-year term; Max Vogt, Jr., 2-year term. Members of board of fire delegates, W. A. Johnston, H. W. French and Frank French. Roy Ballard was elected as a member of the company. Bert Baldwin tendered his resignation as a member of the company on account of continued absence from the city.

According to the Astoria News, the Astorians are so tired of the Oregon Telephone and Telegraph Company's service and methods that a strong effort is being made to establish a local telephone company in order to free the Oregon Telephone Company out. Business men are offering to take stock in the enterprise and scores of private persons have promised that if a local telephone company is launched they will pay for one or two years' service in advance. The News thinks it safe to say that ninety to ninety-five per cent of the patrons of the Oregon Telephone Company will withdraw their patronage and give it to a local company just as soon as they have an opportunity to do so.

In Memoriam.

The funeral services of Miss Minnie Groehler were held at the Zion English Evangelical Lutheran church, of which Miss Groehler was a member, the text being "And he said, 'It is the Lord, let him do what seemeth to him good.'"

The attendance was large, and this shows the esteem and respect in which the deceased was held by people both in and outside of the church. Besides the relatives of the departed, many friends mourn her loss. She was known as a quiet, unassuming, Christian girl, who was always earnest and sincere in words and actions; kind and obedient toward her parents and superiors; good to her brothers and sisters; true to her friends, and last, but not least, loyal and faithful to her church, an evidence in substantiation thereof being found in the fact that long before her confirmation she attended regularly the Sunday school, of which Mr. I. C. Nickelsen was the leader, and ever since then has upheld her church—the righteous obligation of every one who is, as the departed was, born, baptized and confirmed with the Evangelical Lutheran church, the church of the Reformation.

Her death, as those who saw her parting have testified, was calm and peaceful, due, in no small measure perhaps, to her early Christian training in the clear, simple, practical truths of the Bible, which, as her father testified, she found much delight and pleasure in reading. From it she learned what she was to believe, to experience and to do in order to live properly and to die happy. Thus was she prepared as the summons came to call her to the blessed inheritance of the saints and of all those of every age who have learned to love and rejoice in God's holy and blessed will. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord. They rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

The Father of all comfort and sustain the afflicted parents in their trial, and grant them and us a glad reunion with their child in everlasting life and glory, where all believers shall live and reign forever with Father, Son and Holy Ghost world without end. W. B.
