

ANOTHER "BOMBSHELL" FROM OUR GREAT REDUCTION SALE.

The Great Event is meeting with such favorable response that we have decided to make a bigger cut than ever.

...And Still They Go Down...

Despite the unfriendly elements, the happy throng still crowds our place for "plums." They know—the people do—that our stokes are merciless and our cuts are deep. When we say "our goods are cheap," we don't mean "cheap goods." There's as much difference between the former and the latter as there is between "an ardent lover" and a "lover of the ardent."

Young Mathias, who is under bonds for stealing fourteen head of cattle from parties in Sherman county and selling them to a resident of this county, had an examination last Friday at Moro and was adjudged insane. He passed through here for Salem Saturday afternoon in custody of the Sherman county sheriff.

Dock Akin left at this office today a large jack-knife that he found in the K. of P. hall at the close of the installation services and supper Saturday night. The owner can have it by calling and reciting its pedigree, for the weapon evidently has a history and bears evidence of having seen considerable active service.

The Salem Statesman suggests the name of Judge Bennett to fill the vacancy in the text book commission. No better appointment could be made, unless it would be Attorney John Gavin, of this city, who recently closed an eminently successful term of years as principal of The Dalles public schools to enter the profession of the law.

The state board of tax levy, composed of the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, Saturday fixed the state levy for 1901 at 5.7 mills. The levy for 1900 was 6.3 mills. The total amount of revenue to be raised by taxation for state purposes for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1901, which is not provided for by special taxation, is $671,487.78.

Mr. F. N. Jones, president of the Wool Growers Association, has called a meeting of the association for early in March. This is found to be necessary in order that permits for summer grazing may be sent to Washington and return before the opening of the grazing season, and the meeting is recommended by Captain Ormsby. Notice of the exact date will be published later.

"What are you crying about?" asked a kind-hearted stranger of a lad standing in front of a newspaper office, weeping as if his heart would break. "Oh, pa's gone up stairs to whip the editor." "Well, has he come down yet?" pursued the gentle Samaritan. "Pieces of him have," said the boy, with a fresh burst of tears, "and I'm expecting the rest every minute."

Sam Mason is a young populist statesman who studied law in Goldendale, and after having been admitted to the bar, hung out his shingle at Prosser. A Pop. statesman is nothing if not unique, and Sam's professional card in the local paper is entirely characteristic. One paragraph reads as follows: "Many persons not certain whether or not they have a case, will come and have me hunt the matter up and upon finding that they can do nothing, walk out, not offering to remunerate me for my time and trouble. These and like things have caused me to make these charges: All civil matters owing to the extent, 50 cents to $2; criminal cases, $2 to $5."

Near Coal Creek, in Cowlitz county, Washington, a company composed of business men of The Dalles is developing a coal mine, says the Oregonian. It has sunk several tunnels and bored with a diamond drill, and finds most promising prospects. Cubes of coal measuring four feet each way are taken out. The coal burns with a bright flame, and leaves a brownish ash. It is said to run about 54 per cent fixed carbon. It is less than four miles distant from the Columbia river, the nearest navigable water of which is Coal Creek Slough. T. T. Nicholas, who had charge of the work of opening up the Nanaimo coal mine, is managing the work on Coal Creek. Congressman Moody is a member of the company. The plans include a good road to the Columbia river.

Special Telegraph Dispatches.

THE CHRONICLE has arranged for a special telegraph service from Salem during the session of the legislature. This will give our readers earlier information regarding the important transactions of that body than they can obtain from any other source.

Clatsop's Gall in Vigorous Health.

A dispatch from Astoria says the Clatsop county delegation will introduce a bill in the legislature, the principal provision of which is the abolition of all fish wheels in the waters of the Columbia after August 15, 1901. Another provision declares that the waters of the Columbia river and its tributaries above tidewater shall be reserved as natural propagation grounds, and no fishing for salmon shall be permitted there after August 15, 1901, excepting with hook and line. The bill fixes the open seasons for fishing from February 1st to March 10th, from April 15th to August 15th, and from September 15th to the end of the year.

THE CHRONICLE suggests as a substitute for the proposed law a simple amendment to the existing law providing summary capital punishment, without benefit of clergy, for any person not a citizen of Clatsop county, who shall fish for salmon at any time of the year, with any device whatever, at any point in the Columbia river save that part that lies along the northern boundary of Clatsop county, from Columbia county to the government jetty.

Landslides and Washouts.

The O. R. & N., folks have had a hard time of it since about twilight Saturday afternoon when the No. 1 passenger got stuck between two obstructions in the Mosier neighborhood and land slides and washouts suspended all traffic till noon today when the first passenger passed through from the west. As usual it was next to impossible to get any accurate information regarding the number and extent of the obstructions but they could not have been as numerous or extensive as they were reported to be, else the trains could not have got through for a week.

A washout of a recent fall in the neighborhood of Mosier is said to have left many feet of the rails and ties suspended in the air. Sixty feet of trestle is reported to have been washed away in the neighborhood of Shell Rock and several land slides are said to have occurred near Mosier.

Report that the Chenoweth bridge had been washed out could not be confirmed and is not believed to be true. No. 2, passenger, that is due here at 12:15 p. m., had not arrived at 4:30 although it had been reported several times.
