THE OREGON LEGISLATURE.

This Session Promises to Be an Epoch in the History of Law-Making

SALON, Or., Jan. 15, 1901.

The present session of Oregon's legislature promises to be a long remembered one. The senatorial question, the assessment and taxation measure, and the new road law, when acted upon, will be marking stones in the history of law-making in this state.

While the economic fear tingles in the veins of the members, few clerks will be employed in the house. However, it is a well-known fact that it will be only a matter of a few days until some change in this line will be made and more clerks will be employed.

The usual orders for stamps, codes, papers and other supplies have been sent in, the governor's message has been read, and the assembly is now ready for business. Overshadowing all other things, however, stands the senatorial problem. Corbett's friends are watching every move, while the McBride forces are equally vigilant.

During the first week of the session a great portion of the members have been kept busy learning routine and preparing bills for introduction later on.

It might be said in passing that the organization of both houses was perfected very easily and quietly, many prophecies to the contrary notwithstanding, and the work of the state is progressing nicely.

Senator Daly, who had the misfortune to dislocate his shoulder, is recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Representative McQueen, of Lane, is still detained at home on account of ill health.

From a Pastor

"I am the pastor of the Baptist Church at Port Jervis, N. Y., and sometimes am called upon to take part in evangelistic work away from home. Not long ago I went to Sandy Creek, N. Y., which is swept by the damp winds from Lake Ontario. Here I contracted a bad cough, and became so hoarse that I could hardly preach to my congregation. It was not only distressing in a bodily sense, but extremely embarrassing to enter the pulpit in this condition. I had heard of Acker's English Remedy and, after service, I bought a bottle and began taking it. The next night my throat was nearly well, and I delivered my sermon without difficulty. In a few days I was thoroughly cured. I conceive it to be my duty to benefit mankind physically as well as spiritually whenever I can, and am glad to write these words in praise of this grand old medicine. Those with sensitive throats and those who catch cold easily should certainly take Acker's English Remedy."

(Signed) Rev. Ezra Terry Sanford.
Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s 2d, 2s 6d, 5s 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist and get your money back.
We authorize the above guarantee.
