SWIPED EDITORIAL WIT.

Mr. Bryan possibly read the complete election returns before announcing that he was a private citizen.

Isn't it strange that all these people who knew about the salt cure never thought to mention it until the Chicago professor spoke up?

Mr. Bryan says he is a private citizen with excellent possibilities of remaining so. Even that isn't as bad as being "crucified on a cross of

Mr. Bryan did not positively say that he would decline a nomination if any whooping, yelling convention should insist on it with a unanimous

Those who were hoping for great things from the new century will be disappointed to hear that the number of congressmen is to be increased at the very beginning.

A foreign gentleman who has been traveling in this country for some time complairs that while this country is rich in beautiful scenery, yet there are no ruins here. This gentleman evidently did not meet William Jennings Bryan in his travels.

Those who admired the stand taken by Senator Simon and the Oregonian in regard to the Porto Rican tariff bill and denounced the republican majority in the United States senate for its passage, claiming it was an act of oppression, are respectfully invited to explain why it has not been repealed. According to the terms of the law this can be done at any time by the Porto suit. Don't forget that we are head-Rican legislature, yet no move has quarters for the best on earth. Name been made in that direction, nor is LOWNEY settles it. there any demand in the island for the repeal of the bill. On the contrary it appears to give excellent Geo. C. Blakeley, satisfaction, the fact being that the opposition to it came from the tobacco and sugar trust of this country, and not from any considerable number of the people.-Salem Sentinel.

The only successful antidote for hazing that the investigating committee has been able to discover so tar is for the victim to get in and lick blue blazes out of his assailants, one at a time. Evidently it is a course in pugilism instead of mathematics that the candidate for West Point should take, says the Walla Walla Union.

Private advices from Salem are to the effect that Corbett's sack is wide open and that the old man's money is flowing like water. But the same advices assure us that Henry Woodpile Corbett will never be senator for Oregon while the world lasts.

AUGUST BUCHLER, Prop.

Of the product of this well-known brewery the United States Health Reports for June 28, 1900, says: "A more superior brew never entered the labratory of the United States Health reports. It is absolutely devoid of the slightest trace of adulteration, but on the other hand is composed of the best of mait and choicest of hops. Its tonic qualities are of the highest and it can be used with the greatest benefit and satisfaction by old and young. Its use can conscientiously be prescribed by the physicians with the cersainty that a better, purer or more wholesome beverage could not possibly be found.
