

Only Four More Days OF THE GREAT REDUCTION SALE!

We wish to call your attention to the fact that the remaining few days of the sale will see us crowded. Every article in the house is still reduced, as at the beginning. We haven't so much stuff to show you, but during inventory we have dug out some stunning bargains that are worth looking after.

In the DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT there are hundreds of bargains staring at you at every turn you make. The same can be said of the Shoe Department, during inventory the odd pairs have not been left behind by any means, so the shoe man has lots of odd bargains left—at odd prices too—and can fit odd feet to perfection.

In the MEN'S FURNISHING DEPARTMENT we have placed on our counters during this sale a line of Men's and Boys' Sweaters in navy blue, black and maroon, to be closed out at 49 cents. See windows.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Tonight being ladies' night at the club, the ladies are especially invited to attend and enjoy the evening at bowling or other amusements afforded.

At the school meeting Saturday, Dr. Duane, chairman of the board of directors, reported on their behalf that after a careful estimate of expenses for the coming school year, the board recommended a tax levy of 7½ mills. The report was adopted and a levy of 7½ mills ordered.

Smallpox has broken out among the Yakima Indians, and several lodges are in mourning because of the visitation of the evil spirit. The agency Indians have special police guarding their sick, but those living in their ancient teepees are trying the medicine men's plans to drive away the disease.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give a calendar social at the K. of P. hall tomorrow night, to which are invited free all persons who have contributed to the calendar. A literary and musical program has been prepared for the occasion, which will be published in tomorrow's CHRONICLE.

Love your children and they will love you in spite of all your short comings; keep faith with them and they will keep faith with you; treat them courteously and they will be courteous; maintain high ideals and they will follow them; make them the center of your life and they will make you the center of their lives.—Caroline Leslie Field in the February Ladies' Home Journal.

"Every old politician in the state has been resurrected and sent to Salem," declared a man who returned from a business trip there yesterday. "I have seen many lobbies, but never one so large as this, nor one containing such a bunch of has-beens and back numbers. Most of these gazabos have an awfully hard time looking wise. They go off in a room for a few hours, and then return to the hallways looking as if they were ready to burst with a secret they have."

Sullivan and Harris' new sensational melodrama of New York life around Five Points and the Bowery, entitled "The Angel of the Alley," will be the next attraction at the Vogt. It is said to be true in depicting life among the lower classes of a metropolitan city. Every scene is carried and some magnificent views, familiar to all, will be shown. The cast to portray the various characters has been picked very carefully and includes many well-known and popular players.

The little town of Hardman has one of the most remarkable youths for his age probably in Oregon, in little Walter Burgess, says the Heppner Times. He is now 9 years of age and has made a threshing machine that will thresh three or four heads of wheat and clean it as perfectly as any threshing machine invented, an engine with perfect action and a wind mill pump and tower six feet high that would do credit to any mechanic. His last work was to make a small warehouse, which every one who has seen it pronounces to be a little dandy.

The Salt Lake City board of health statistics show that from October 1st to December 31st there were 314 cases of smallpox in Salt Lake, of which 291 were persons who had never been vaccinated. Of the remaining twenty-three cases three were vaccinated in 1856, three in 1860, two in 1872, one in each of the years 1855, 1858, 1847, 1885, 1875, 1873, 1879, 1890, 1893, all outside the seven-year period for which physicians say vaccination is efficacious. The other six were vaccinated more recently, but there is nothing to show that their vaccination was successful.

Dr. Wythecomb, of the State Agricultural College, and Professor Leckenby are expected to arrive here tonight for the purpose of making final arrangements for the establishment of a grass experiment station. We learn from N. Wheelon that suitable lands have been secured on the river front and on the D. P. Ketchum place on Five Mile. Professor Leckenby claims to be able to plant a variety of alfalfa on the dry hills back of town that will keep green the year round without irrigation, and to establish a species of grass that will hold down the sands near the river and keep them from drifting.

A few days ago Hon. John Hahn made the statement to a reporter of the Daily News that he would not vote for the election to the United States senate of any man who would attempt to use money to further his candidacy. Mr. Hahn will now have an opportunity of showing his sincerity. If he desires he can readily be furnished with evidence that two members of the legislature have been offered $2,500 each for their assistance in sending the old man to the senate. The best of it is that the offer was made to each in the presence of the other, so there will be no chance to refute the testimony if it is presented.—Astoria News.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Young, of Bakedown, arrived here last night on their way home from attending the late meetings of the National Live Stock and National Wool-Growers' Associations held at Salt Lake City. The Live Stock Association alone represents a membership of 1700 persons, and the annual meetings of these associations have been productive of much good to the stock interests of the nation. Mr. Young is naturally proud of the fact that Oregon carried off the silver cup for the best sheep in America. He and Mrs. Young speak enthusiastically of the generous hospitality of the citizens of Salt Lake towards the visiting members of the associations. They took in the big tabernacle, the Mormon Sunday school, Mormon preaching and Mormon music, and on the strength of his name and of the further fact that his and Brigham Young's birth place, back East, was only separated by an artificial state line, Mr. Young and his lady were for a time the invited guests of one of the late Brigham's daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Young left for home on the noon train.

PEOPLE COMING AND GOING.

Miss Cora Aldrich, of Spokane, is visiting with the family of Mr. and Mrs. M. Parkins.

Miss Isabella and Mr. Fred Noltnor, of Portland, are visiting the family of Rev. D. V. Poling.

Misses Edna Weberg and Inez Peterson left this morning for Wapinitia, where they will visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chrisman are in the city on their way to Spokane, where Mr. Chrisman expects to locate in business.

TO GOOD PEOPLE.

We have sold out our carload of musical goods and are expecting another carload of organs at once. So please keep your eye on the Gates building, on Third street, opposite the court house, and we will show you something yet finer in an organ display than any town in Oregon has yet seen.

If you will write me from any part of country that you want an organ, you may soon expect us.

NO MATERIAL CHANGE.

Roberts' Bill to Pay Outstanding Seal Bounty Warrants Passed.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.]

SALEM, Jan. 29.—Notwithstanding that something was expected to happen today, the vote for senator showed no material change. It stood as follows: Corbett, 29; Smith, 26; McBride, 19; Hermann, 8; scattering 7; not voting 1.

The house today passed a bill authorizing the state fair association to grant license to saloons to be run on the fair grounds during the state fair.

The senate debated at length the warehouse measure.

Representative Roberts' bill providing for the payment of all outstanding warrants issued against the seal bounty fund passed the senate this morning, and, when signed by the governor, which it will be, will become a law.

Action on various charter bills is set for Thursday evening.

After voting for senator, both houses adjourned till 3 p. m.

"Extremely Funny."

A letter in the Lincoln County Leader recites some ancient history that must, at this particular juncture, be particularly interesting to the editor of the Oregonian. It relates to a time when Mr. Scott was laboring might and main to convince the people of Oregon that Henry W. Corbett possessed neither the character nor the ability to represent Oregon in the national senate. The writer, who is an old-timer, says:

"Noticing in the Sunday Oregonian a clipping from the Sheridan Sun, to which the above caption and a brief introductory comment had been attached as an answer to the same, I would like to ask Mr. Scott—evidently the writer of the caption and comment—if it was 'extremely funny' in 1871-2, when he was editing the Portland Bulletin for Benjamin Holladay and in the interest of John H. Mitchell for United States senator, when he denounced the inability and non-statesmanship of Mr. Corbett, who was then senator from Oregon and a candidate for re-election, with Mr. Mitchell for his opponent? Nearly thirty years have passed since Mr. Corbett left the senate, but he has been a standing candidate ever since against John H. Mitchell or his friends. Does the writer of 'extremely funny' remember what he said of the transaction of 1866, when Mr. Corbett was elected to the senate? I mean the $900 purchase of Aaron Rosenheim of Portland, member of the legislature from Multnomah."
