

QUEEN OF HOLLAND MARRIED

Programme of Royal Nuptials at the Hague Followed Without a Hitch—Ride to Church in Golden Carriage

THE HAGUE, Feb. 7.—The civil ceremony of the marriage of Queen Wilhelmina to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin was carried out at 11:30 a. m., in accordance with the programme. Immediately afterwards the procession started for the church, headed by fifty Hussars, the bride, bridegroom and queen's mother riding in a golden state carriage drawn by eight horses. They were warmly acclaimed by the crowds assembled.

The church was reached soon after noon. The church was filled with representatives of all classes of society in Holland and foreign states. The queen looked very handsome in her wedding dress and the brilliant uniforms and bright decorations made a picturesque scene. The court chaplain, Dr. Van Der Vlier, standing before the bride and bridegroom, delivered an address. His text was from the fourth Psalm: "Lord lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us."

"The festal hour has arrived," said the pastor, "wherein the entire people has its share of delight. The prayer contained in the text embodies the essential conditions for lasting married happiness, which does not depend on external things, but on the disposition of the heart. The prayer for the light of the Lord's countenance seems to suggest some darkness and it is certain clouds will show themselves at times in the conjugal heaven."

"This union which we today are celebrating has already demanded sacrifices. The husband has had to leave his country and people, and the bride has had to leave the side of a dearly loved mother. In future, too, be sure the reverse of life will fall to your lot. Do not then forget the prayer of David: 'Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.' It will be necessary for you, if you are to fulfill thoroughly the duty of marriage, to fulfill the duty of love in your mutual relations. In that relation man is the head and woman is the heart. The Psalm in this prayer will also be your help when you have to bear your mutual burdens, for in marriage two sinners are united, each having his or her faults.

"According to the command of God, 'These two shall be one.' Now only love can forever preserve this tie. But if you wish this bond not to be loosened, your heart must be filled with prayer, 'Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.'"

After the chaplain's address and after the nuptial benediction had been pronounced, the bride and bridegroom exchanged gold rings, according to the Dutch custom, and the wedding party then proceeded to the reception-room, attached to the church, where the queen tenderly embraced first her mother and then her husband. The queen's mother, too, kissed the latter. The bridegroom then kissed his bride and his own mother.

The newly wedded pair received the congratulations of their families and drove to the palace over the same route they had previously traversed. A gala wedding breakfast followed.

The weather this morning was intensely cold. The stands, the windows and the roofs along the line of the route to the Groote Kerke were thronged with people.

On the occasion of her marriage, Queen Wilhelmina has pardoned or lightened the sentences of 364 prisoners.

Trouble Expected.
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—A special to the Record from Arkansas City, Kan., says: The prohibitionists of Winfield have formulated an address to the mayor and city council which says:
"We, the citizens who love law and order, know that our town is being afflicted by open saloons and other vice shops, which are running daily in open violation of our prohibition laws. We beg you to take measures at once to suppress this violation of law. This is our ultimatum. We do it with a full sense of what we are saying, solemnly pledged if we are not heard in this way we will be in another."
The document is signed by the "Committee for Law and Order."
No action was taken by the officers of Winfield, and it is believed the prohibitionists will take the law in their own hands. The trouble began in Arkansas City, Kan., yesterday when a committee of three from the ministry called upon Mayor Hees and presented a written request asking him to use his power to close up the joints and relieve the necessity of a saloon riot by the citizens.
Narrow Escape From Injury.
VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 7.—From reports received here today the heavy wind which prevailed along the Columbia river valley for several days the fore part of this week caused considerable damage to timber and property in the eastern part of Clark county. In the foothills back of Washougal and in the vicinity of Cape Horn, forest and fruit trees were uprooted and in several instances farm buildings were blown down or crushed by falling timber. One report describes a narrow escape by falling timber of the McKenzie family, who live in the foothills at Sunnyside. A giant fir crashed into their cabin, smashing it to the ground. The husband escaped from the building but the wife and two children were imprisoned in the ruins of the demolished house for several hours. They were finally liberated by the combined efforts of Mr. McKenzie and several neighbors. Their escape from death is said to be miraculous, none being seriously injured except Mrs. McKenzie, who sustained a fractured arm.

Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like shouting its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Want Horseshoeing Licensed.
SALEM, Or., Feb. 7.—Horseshoers from Portland, The Dalles, McMinnville, Albany, and other points are pushing the passage of the bill to regulate and license the business of horseshoeing in Oregon, and requiring horseshoers to pass an examination, and providing for a board of examiners. An apprenticeship of four years is required, and every person now engaged in the business either as master or journeyman shall not be required to pass an examination; provided, that within 90 days after the passage of this act he files with the secretary of the board an affidavit setting forth his name, residence and where engaged in business, and pay the treasurer a fee of $5. Thereupon a certificate of examination shall be issued to him.
The board shall consist of a veterinary surgeon, two master and two journeyman horseshoers, to receive $3 per day during the actual performance of duties, to be paid from the fees received by the treasurer. The latter is required to file a bond. The examination fee is $10.
The horseshoers' committee is armed with a letter favoring their bill, written by W. T. Shanahan, of the Oregon Humane Society.
There are said to be laws of this kind in force in a number of states. The bill has been read twice and referred to the labor committee.

Warning to Mrs. Nation.
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—In its current issue the Northwestern Advocate, the leading publication of the Methodist Episcopal church west of New York, comments on Mrs. Carrie Nation's crusade of force against saloon in Kansas. It says, in part:

"We do not know how wise the lady is, but we hope she is aware that she has no more legal right to 'smash' saloon windows in Chicago than she has to hurl a stone through Bishop Morley's front door or window. At the same time we agree with the lady that all liquor-selling is illegal according to higher law, in whose name Mrs. Nation is likely to be arrested if she makes trouble in the Chicago streets.
"When people prove that they can make speeches and take a basket of well-assorted stones and throw all of them accurately—do all this after reaching middle life, yet having had the grace of quiet in previous years—we respect them, and therefore must refrain from giving advice to them. Some innocent people may see that which the wise in this world's wisdom see not. We do not know. We shall want to find out, and to rejoice if the lady from Kansas confounds the wisdom of every city official in Chicago.
