OREGON LEGISLATURE.

No Change in the Senatorial Contest.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.]

SALEM, Feb. 14, 1901.—The house this morning passed a measure transferring the title of certain lands owned by the state in Union county to the state agricultural college for use as a branch experiment station.

Carter's bill providing that liens might be placed on threshing machines against wages due to threshing crews was defeated.

In the senate Clem's bill, requiring retail liquor dealers to dispense with stained windows, curtains and other devices used to conceal the business and patrons of the place from the public gaze was defeated.

Daly's bill relating to the form of the official ballot passed, as did the bill for precinct assessors.

The result of today's vote for senator was: Corbett, 32; Hermann, 29; Inman, 26; Williams, 1; Robertson, 1; Richard Williams, 1.

Death of John Dalrymple.

The many friends of John Dalrymple were greatly shocked and grieved to learn this morning of his death from pneumonia at his home on the Floyd ranch, east of town. He had been ill only a short time, and all that medical skill could do was done for him, but in vain.

John Dalrymple was born about fifty-five years ago in Wigtonshire, Scotland. He emigrated to the United States about seventeen years ago, and spent the greater portion of the time since then in Wasco county, near the place where he died. He leaves a wife and eight children, six sons and two daughters.

Mr. Dalrymple was a hard-working, honest and industrious man, and one who bore an honored part in all the relations of life. His death is deeply regretted, and the sympathy of this community goes out to the bereaved family. The funeral will take place at 11 o'clock tomorrow from the residence, where the funeral services will be conducted by Rev. D. V. Poling. The interment will be in Odd Fellows cemetery.

How It is Done.

The first object in life with the American people is to "get rich," the second, how to regain good health. The first can be obtained by energy, honesty and saving; the second, good health by using Green's August Flower. Should you be a despondent sufferer from any of the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Appendicitis, Indigestion, etc., such as Sick Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Sour Stomach, Habitual Constipation, Dizziness of the Head, Nervous Prostration, Low Spirits, etc., you need not suffer another day. Two doses of the well-known August Flower will relieve you at once. Go to Clarke & Falk's and get a sample bottle free. Regular size, 75 cents. Get Green's prize almanac.

In the Circuit Court.

In the circuit court this morning Judge Bradshaw sentenced John Dillion, who was convicted of larceny from a dwelling, to one month in the county jail. Extenuating circumstances doubtless influenced the court in pronouncing so light a sentence.

Joe Elmer, who was convicted of larceny from a dwelling, was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary. George Alec, an Indian, who was convicted of horse stealing, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

The court was occupied nearly all day with the Reese case and it had not been concluded at the time of going to press.

Program of Entertainment.

The following program will be rendered at the entertainment to be given by the Court street school pupils, assisted by their friends, at the Baldwin opera house tomorrow night:

Reforms Suggested.

The following statement of views regarding the need of reform in funeral customs have been formulated by the ministerial association of Olympia, Wash.:

As to the time of funerals—Except in case of absolute necessity, funerals ought not to be held on Sunday, because of the interference with church attendance, and because the minister's regular duties on that day demand all his time and strength without this addition. As to exposing the corpse to public

How to Cure Croup.
Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Amenia, Dutchess county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by Blakeley, the druggist.

Your Face
Shows the state of your feelings and the state of your health as well. Impure blood makes itself apparent in a pale and sallow complexion, Pimples and Skin Eruptions. If you are feeling weak and worn out and do not have a healthy appearance you should try Acker's Blood Elixir. It cures all blood diseases where cheap Sarsaparillas and so called purifiers fail; knowing this we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Blakeley, the druggist.

Reports show a greatly increased death rate from throat and lung troubles, due to the prevalence of croup, pneumonia and grippe. We advise the use of One Minute Cough Cure in all of these difficulties. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Children like it. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.

The late John Dalrymple carried a $2000 insurance policy in the Mutual Benefit Association of New York, that was written by Max Vogt, junior, last September.
The funeral of Miss Stella Frizzell took place this afternoon from the Methodist church. Among the numerous attendants was a large number of the school companions of the deceased from the High school building. The services were conducted by Rev. U. F. Hawk.
Jim Daley, an opium fiend and all-around degenerate who lately served a two year term in the penitentiary for stealing sheep, was placed last night in the calaboose where he remains at this writing, "as crazy as a bed bug." Just what will be done with him depends on whether he will soon recover his senses or stay crazy.
The superior court of Walla Walla has had ten divorce cases entered on its docket since the year began, and five of the applications have been granted. The defendants, with one exception, are the male parties to the marriage contract, not one of whom raises a semblance of objection to the dissolution of the marriage tie.

The Dalles company that owns the local mine on Coal creek, near Stella, in Cowlitz county, Wash., are determined to get their coal in market as quickly as possible. One of the company returned to The Dalles this week, having let the contract to clear bridge and grade the tramway from the mine to the Columbia river, and the contractors are now at work on the road.
Senator Burrows says he has a new story, and here it is: "There is an old darky who works for me. He lost his wife—No. 4—the other day and I was sympathizing with him the best I could, telling him that they would meet in heaven, etc., when the old fellow broke in: 'I know dat, Mars Burrows; I know dat. I ain't makin' no objections. It were de act of an all-wise and unscrupulous Providence.'"
The exact information concerning saloons in Manila, which some time ago was asked for in vain, has been furnished in the late report by the Philippine commission. A year ago a kind of high license system was established by the American authorities, and in consequence the number of bar rooms has diminished from 224 to 88, and only 48 of these sell spirituous liquors. The native wine shops, whose number was estimated formerly at 4000, have been reduced to 400—a diminution of ninety per cent. This strikes us as being good practical temperance work.
The local legislature of the Province of Ontario has passed a resolution expressing sorrow at the queen's death and deep attachment to the throne. In supporting this, J. P. Whitney, the opposition leader, was bitterly sarcastic over the refusal of the mayor of New York to hoist the city flag to half-staff. "The respectable citizens," he said, "unite in showing their sorrow, but the Tammany bosses and civic officials of the crime-governed city, who live by black-mailing and vice, could not honor a noble and virtuous life. The action of the mayor but accentuated the grief of all honored men and women."
The figures show that the present affliction of la grippe in the East is particularly severe on hard drinkers, and that frequently after the violence of the disease has been supposed to be exhausted, insanity succeeds. Another fact has been emphasized, namely, that when attacked with la grippe it is not good to assume that it can be thrown off in a day or two. The best plan is to take to the bed at once and, under the care of a skilled physician, fight the disease from the start. Again, people, when the grippe is around, should be most careful to see that their feet are warm and dry and that their digestive apparatus is kept in the very best possible condition. Epidemics are notices to mortals that they have not quite been doing their duty toward themselves.

The Jolly Neighbors' whist club met last evening with Mrs. E. B. Sinnott, at the Umatilla House. The large parlor was magnificently decorated with palms and carnations while the floor was covered with Turkish rugs. Tables were arranged for twenty guests and fifteen games were played, after which a dainty lunch was served. Following the luncheon was a game designated a musical medley, in which Mrs. Frank Cram carried off the prize, a handsome miniature water color picture in gilt frame. The company broke up a little after midnight, after unanimously voting that they had spent a most delightful evening.
The Astoria News quotes a Chinaman of that town to the effect that the Chinese are considering the advisability of again changing their law regarding the growth of their hair. The proposed new law, it is reported, will adopt the American style of hair dressing. It is said the Chinese formerly observed this style and wore clothing similar to that now in vogue in this country. This was about 300 years ago, but a new emperor changed the style, and queues and buns have since been the rule. Whether or not the Chinese will go back to the old style cannot be stated by local Chinese, but there is a very strong sentiment in favor of short hair, as considerable time is required to dress the long braids now worn.
