FULTON ON FISH-WHEELS.

Clatsop's Senator Seems to Think the Right to Catch Salmon in the Columbia Is Reserved by the Almighty for Clatsopers.

SALEM, Feb. 21, 1901.

When the salmon protection bill came up for discussion in the senate yesterday afternoon, President Fulton, in support of an amendment which provided for the including of the Columbia in the list of Oregon rivers on which fish-wheels and fish-traps were to be prohibited, made the following remarks:

"It seems to me that the people of Oregon cannot tolerate this wholesale destruction of a great industry. A few years ago 600,000 cases of salmon were packed in the Columbia river packing houses, and something like $2,000,000 was paid out to the working men of the state for their labors. It was the same to Oregon as a gold mine right at our very door. Is there another industry to be compared to it? The fish-wheels at the dalles are so set that salmon cannot pass to the natural spawning grounds above. It is thus impossible to supply those grounds with spawn. Last year only 250,000 cases were secured.

"The industry gives employment to between 3000 and 4000 men on the Columbia, 1540 licenses being issued in the state of Oregon alone, and probably as many more in Washington. Twelve thousand people are thus dependent for their livelihood upon this industry. The business has fallen off, and if present conditions continue only a few years will elapse before the time will arrive when no salmon will be found in the markets.

"They say if we prohibit fish-traps and fish-wheels we will destroy an immense capital which has been invested in this business. Now the wheels cost $2000 each, and have paid for themselves over and over and over again at the expense of an industry which they are destroying. Shall we turn this river over to men who will despoil its commercial importance? Are we here to protect the rights of the public? I stand here pleading for the commerce of Oregon; I stand here in the interests of one of the finest food fishes in the world. Will you help protect this industry, or will you help destroy it? Those wheels, of which I have spoken particularly—those at the dalles—stand right across a grand highway, which has been placed by the hand of the most high God for the benefit of His people.

"California does not allow fixed appliances in her rivers. British Columbia has prohibited these traps and fish-wheels. Washington also has made a similar prohibition in all her rivers except the Columbia. The people of Washington do not know of any other waterway except the Sound. They do not recognize the Columbia as a commerce-producing stream.

The amendment was adopted. Floral lotion will cure wind chapping and sunburn. Manufactured by Clarke & Falk.

Two tramps, of Finnish nationality, who were trying to beat their way from Mosier to The Dalles, were so severely injured at the former place early this morning that it is feared one of them may die. It appears they were seated on the brake-beam of a flat car that was on a side-track at the Mosier station, when a freight train, unexpectedly to them, struck the flat-car and threw the men off their seat and ran over them. The men were brought here and had their injuries temporarily attended to by Drs. Logan and Geisendorfer, when Judge Blakeley sent them on the 5 a. m. passenger train to St. Vincent's Hospital. One of them, who gave his name as Oiber Quaas, had his right foot mashed and the right thigh crushed into a shapeless mass. The other suffered a compound fracture of the right leg.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was given to the public at a time when all civilized humanity were hesitating between their prejudices and their established modes of thought and the growing conviction felt in their innermost hearts that slavery was all wrong. One result was the testimony of many colored persons and fugitive slaves who said to Mrs. Stowe, "Since that book has come out everybody is good to us."

In England many demonstrations were made and noble ladies admired the book. It is significant that the Queen of England, in concurrence with Prince Albert, steadily resisted every attempt to enlist the war-like power of England against the northern states.

A Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle free from Clarke & Falk. Regular size, 75 cents. Get Green's prize almanac.
