"Your dishonor," said Mrs. Nation to the Topeka judge, who asked her if she were ready for trial, "your dishonor, I am incapable of trying my case this afternoon as I have been poisoned by cigarette smoke in the county jail."

The smallpox patient, the only one in town, we are glad to say, is getting along nicely and, barring something unforeseen, will soon be on the road to recovery. The Bettington building, where Jack Allison was taken down with the smallpox, was fumigated yesterday and the yellow flag has at last been taken down.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Still No Election of a United States Senator.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.]

SALEM, Feb. 22.—The house convened this morning at 9:30, when the following senate bills were passed:

Proebstel's nickel-in-the-slot machine bill, by unanimous consent.

Inman's bill making owners of vessels liable for injury done to public property. This bill is intended to cover cases similar to that of the late Morrison street bridge accident.

Fulton's Astoria charter bill.

Booth's bill relating to the location of mining claims.

The senate resolution to amend the constitution so that state institutions might be located elsewhere than at the capital.

Master's bill abolishing June elections. A bill authorizing the publication of 12,000 copies of the school laws.

A bill transferring $1700 to the military board.

The senate passed the following house bills:

Barrett's bill fixing the boundary of mining claims.

Shipley's primary election law.

Reave's bill appropriating water for irrigation and household purposes.

The house defeated the Linn county division line bill.

The senate defeated Montague's bill for compensating Indian war veterans.

The vote for senator resulted as follows: Corbett, 34; Inman, 26; Williams, 16; Hermann, 9; Fulton, 4; Darcey, 1.

Program of School Entertainment.

The following are some of the numbers that will be given at the entertainment for the benefit of the school library Saturday night at the Vogt:

Piano Duet Misses Pearl Grimes, Emily Crosson
Washington's Farewell Address Wm. Cross
"A Judith of 1864" Miss Grace A. Holmes
"Tis All That I Can Say" Miss Susie Gambell
"Just Like Other Folks" Miss Holmes
"Through sunny Spain" Miss Gambell
"Mignon" Miss Gambell
Comet seems Merchant of Venice Miss Holmes
"If Dreams Come True" Miss Gambell
"The Night Wind" Miss Holmes
"My Sun of Love" Miss Holmes
"Baby and I" Miss Holmes
"Farewell to Summer" Miss Gambell

Miss Susie M. Gambell is known to several of The Dalles people. She is a singer of rare talent and unusual power. Miss Grace A. Holmes, of the new Holmes School of Oratory, is generally considered by those of who have heard her as the best public reader on the coast. She studies expression from the standpoint of interpretation.

Tickets were placed on sale today at Clarke & Falk's. A few of the best seats will be reserved at 35 cents. General admission 25 cents.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

The Shortage in the School Funds to be Investigated by the Attorney-General.

[Special Correspondence.]

SALEM, Or., Feb. 22, 1901.

In order to straighten up the accounts of the school land board, a shortage in whose accounts was mentioned in yesterday's issue, the judiciary committee has introduced the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, under and by virtue of concurrent resolution No. 5, a committee consisting of two members from the senate and three from the house was appointed to investigate and report upon the school funds of the state of Oregon, and

WHEREAS, said committee upon the 20th day of February, 1901 filed its report thereon to the effect that there appears to be a shortage or deficit in said funds during the year pending December 31, 1894, in the sum of $30,949.73, which said sum appears to be in no wise accounted for, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the house concurring, that a copy of said report be sent to the attorney-general of the state of Oregon with instructions

First—That he give this matter his official attention and take such steps therein as are necessary for the protection of the interests of the state of Oregon.

Second—That he be permitted to employ such clerical aid in his said investigations as to him may be necessary and convenient therein.

Third—That the senate and house of representatives recommend to said attorney-general that in his said investigations he employ the clerical aid or such thereof as may be necessary through whom the alleged deficit has been made known.

Fourth—That the said attorney-general is instructed, in case any mismanagement or misappropriation of the state funds be discovered to exist, to prosecute the wrong doer or wrong doers to the full extent of the law, and in all ways use his best effort in the protection of the interests of the state of Oregon as aforesaid.

During the joint ballot for United States senator yesterday much excitement was caused by Mr. Dresser who, when his name was called, arose and said in part:

"Mr. President, I hold in my hand the Oregonian, dated today, in which the question is asked, 'Will Mr. Dresser explain?' I do so without hesitancy, although unprepared, in these words: Something like five or six months before the last election I had an understanding with Mr. Simon and Mr. Steele and others that I was to be the joint representative from Multnomah and Clackamas counties. It was understood that I was to vote for Mr. Corbett for the U. S. senate if he should be a candidate. I also agreed to help Multnomah county in her interests at the legislature in all matters that were right. When the Clackamas county convention was held the delegation to the state convention was in my support, however. Graham Glass Jr. notified me just before that convention that there were many candidates for the position and that it would be necessary for me to make my senatorial position more plain, and the letter, of which I suppose this in the Oregonian today to be a copy, was handed to me for my signature. I signed it, although not eager or anxious to do so.

"Until ten days previous to the session I had intended to vote for Mr. Corbett. But at this time I heard rumors regarding the conduct of Mr. Corbett in carrying on this campaign which showed that the methods of that man and his supporters were somewhat questionable. I thought seriously of the stories told me; I weighed the matters carefully. What was right? I thought it was right for me not to vote for Mr. Corbett and his methods. I did not want to vote for Mr. McBride and told him so. I was in fact supporting no candidate. At his solicitation one day, I met Corbett in his room alone and he said to me, 'Why don't you do as you agreed and vote for me?' I said, 'I have been satisfied that the manner in which your campaign has been conducted has not been proper. I have the confidence of my people and the democrats and populists of my county trust me and I am going home with their confidence still.'

"We had a further talk but no agreement was reached, and I left Mr. Corbett in a pleasant humor. I have not sold out for money or position, in fact the people whom I am now voting with have no positions to give. If I had wanted that kind of a place I should have gone to the other side.

"A man yesterday showed me what has been printed in the Oregonian today, and asked me if I wanted that published. I answered him in language that means 'I don't care what you do with it.'

"I was told by a party yesterday that I was wanted in Speaker Reader's room. I pleaded as an excuse that important measures were just now arising which commanded my attention. I started for the room but turned and came back to the house to look after my business. Later I went to Speaker Reader's office, and upon opening the door found seated there Jonathan

Bourne, Graham Glass Jr. and Henry McGinn. (Laughter.)

"Now I cannot be driven into this thing—I cannot be bought! (Cheers for a half minute, which the president was unable to suppress.)

"The campaign methods of Corbett and his friends do not honor the state. If it drives me to political oblivion, I cannot help it. I believe I am right.

"Who made Graham Glass Jr. the imperial czar of this state? Mr. President, I wish to cast my vote today for the Hon. Geo. H. Williams."

Special Council Meeting.

A special adjourned meeting of the city council, held last night, it was decided that in the matter of choosing lights for the city, according to the terms offered by E. Kurtz and associates, the city would be best served by a service consisting of fifteen arc lights of 1200 candle-power and fifty-four incandescent lights of 32-candle-power.

The recorder was accordingly instructed to draw up an ordinance instructing the mayor and recorder to enter into a contract with E. Kurtz and associates for the lights decided upon according to the terms of Kurtz and associates' offer.

A petition signed by Emil Schanno, William McCrum, John Marden, A. S. Bennett, Vic Marden, M. Z. Donnell and H. J. Maier, was presented asking the council to take such action as may be necessary to obtain complete control by the city of Fourth street from Dr. Shackelford's corner west to the point where Fourth street intersects the western boundary of Dalles City, so that the city might have the same right to repair that part of Fourth street as it has to repair the other streets of the city.

The recorder was instructed to notify the petitioners to embody the subject matter of their petition in the form of an ordinance and submit it to the council for their approval.

It was decided to build a sidewalk on the south side of Clay street from Court street on the west to a point near the Bagley property on the east.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and la gripple during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this, says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la gripple in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of la gripple to result in pneumonia." A Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle free from Clarke & Falk. Regular size, 75 cents. Get Green's prize almanac.
