TREASURER'S NOTICE.

All Wasco County warrants registered prior to September 1, 1907, will be paid on presentation at my office. Interest ceases after November 22, 1900. JOHN F. HAMPSHIRE, County Treasurer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Rooms to rent suitable for light house-keeping. Apply at this office. 123-1w. It is said there is considerable mining excitement on Bridge Creek, Wheeler county.

Mrs. Brittain has been confined to her room for a week with a severe attack of the grippe.

Don't overlook the benefit amateur minstrel performance Thursday evening, February 28, 1901.

Gumbert, the popular cigar and tobacco dealer, has a grand surprise in store for his customers. Wait for developments.

Personally, I do not believe that any one needs meat more than once a day. By careful experiments, during hard labor say for fourteen hours a day, I find one meal of meat all that is necessary.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in the March Ladies' Home Journal.

Died, in this city, Friday, February 22nd, of consumption, after an illness extending over a year, Alice Ethel Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Martin; aged 15 years and 6 months. The funeral will take place from the Calvary Baptist church tomorrow, at 2:30 p. m.

A. A. Urquhart, of this city, received a dispatch today announcing the death of his father, James Urquhart, at Napavine, Washington, at the age of 80 years. The deceased leaves eight sons and one daughter, two of the sons, Andrew and Alex, being residents of this county. Alex left for Napavine this afternoon.

Miss Holmes and Miss Gambell arrived on the noon train today. Prof. Thompson of Hood River, where they gave an entertainment, says that all were pleased and the entertainment the best of the season. Both ladies possess unusual talent. The entertainment this evening will be a rare musical and literary treat.

When John Gates was examined at the city jail and $1300 in $100 bills found on his person, Nightwatch McClain jokingly asked him: "Is that Corbett money?" Gates responded: "I shall have to answer you the way Ex-Governor Pennoyer answered the president of the United States." In view of the mystery that surrounds the affair this is considered a very good joke.—Albany Democrat.

Those who would like to learn at the earliest possible moment the result of tonight's senatorial contest at Salem, will be interested in knowing that arrangements have been made with the Western Union to receive dispatches at the Umatilla House till the legislature adjourns. The houses meet at 8 o'clock.

Prior to the time that Mr. Roosevelt was made president of the New York police board no provision had ever been made for policemen who ruined their uniforms in rescuing persons from drowning. Mr. Roosevelt took the matter up before he had been in the office a week and ordered that every uniform thus unfitted for use should be replaced at the cost of the city. He went still further: Down on the river front was one old roundsman who had been in the service many years, and during that time had saved twenty-nine persons from drowning. He was at once made a sergeant, and, as if to celebrate the promotion, he saved his thirtieth life the next week.—March Ladies' Home Journal.

There was left at this office today a half-dozen apples that have a right to special mention. They are of the Ben Davis and Northern Spy varieties, and were grown in the orchard of Mr. George Martin, of Pleasant Ridge, some eleven miles south of here and close up to the timber line. The apples are remarkably fine specimens of the varieties to which they belong, and they are as solid as the day they were plucked from the trees. Mr. Martin six years ago planted the trees from which these apples were taken under the protest of many that they would never amount to anything. The result has more than justified his expectations and he has since increased his original planting to six acres. One good thing about Mr. Martin's orchard is that he has never been bothered with scale or moth of any kind, and he does not believe there is a thrifter lot of trees than his in Wasco county.

A well-known lady of this city has been troubled for years, like many others of both sexes, with a corn, which in her case was on the upper part of the fourth toe of the right foot. Seeing, in an eastern paper, the advertisement of a corn specific, she selected "Yankee Doodle Corn Salve," she sent for six boxes. The inducement for ordering so many was the offer of six chances in a grand drawing that was to take place right away; one of the prizes in which was a magnificent silk dress pattern. Instead of the silk dress she drew a brass brooch worth probably two for a nickel. The brooch was indignantly thrown over the back fence. But that was not the worst of it. The salve played Old Harry with the sore toe, bringing on a running sore and corrosion of the bone, so that her physician has informed her that there is no salvation for the afflicted member but amputation, and this must be performed as soon as her condition will permit the use of the necessary anesthetic. This is a true story and its moral is: Don't monkey with "Yankee Doodle Corn Salve."

School Evening Tonight.

It is hoped that every seat in the Vogt will be occupied tonight to listen to the excellent program that will be given there. The schools of The Dalles are a source of pride to the city. The Dalles has the deserved name of being a splendid school city, and parents from away move to this place so that their sons and daughters may receive their education here.

It is a fact that good books and reading "maketh a full man." It enlarges the mind and employs the thoughts of boys and girls, as well as men and women. It is necessary that the libraries of The Dalles schools be enlarged. There are not enough books to supply the demand. Get boys and girls to reading good books and you are paving the way to future successes for them. Remember your boy and your girl will derive benefit from the library, so assist the cause by patronizing the entertainment that more books may be purchased.

A CITIZEN.

That $1500 Affair.

Chief of Police Gibson, of Salem, L. H. McMahan and H. J. Gill, came up from Salem last night on the 7 o'clock train and this morning returned to Salem with John Gates, the man who had $1300 on his person when arrested in this city yesterday. The warrant was issued at the instance of Mr. Gill, who when he had secured the money wanted Gates released. Gates is assistant janitor at the state house, though a resident of Woodburn. Instead of a robbery it seems to have been a case of breach of trust or something of the kind. The rumor is that the money was in Gates' hands to pay for a senatorial vote, and Gates thought he might as well have it as any body and so started on a little trip up the valley. It is probable the matter will be hushed up as much as possible, but it is to be hoped will not be permitted to be, but that the truth shall come out.—Albany Democrat.

ROBERTS GOES TO CORBETT.

Special to THE CHRONICLE

SALEM, Feb. 23, 1:42 p. m.

The joint ballot today resulted as follows: Corbett, 35; Bennett, 25; Williams, 12; Hermann, 9; Fulton 5; Kelly, 2.

Roberts voted for the first time for Corbett.

After joint ballot the houses adjourned till 8 o'clock this evening.

GOT CORBETT OVER A BARREL

That's the Way Our Salem Correspondents View the Situation.

Special to THE CHRONICLE

SALEM, Feb. 23, 3:30 p. m.

Mitchell seems to have strong support. Corbett is undoubtedly defeated. It is persistently rumored that Mitchell will be successful. It is said the democrats have agreed to throw their support to Mitchell.

The houses are hurrying through bills under the gag rule.

More business by half than was done during the entire last session.

Today each member as his name was called alphabetically was allowed to call up one bill other than his own from the other house.

McAlister introduced a memorial to congress for the division of the state. It was overwhelmingly defeated.

A Pleasant Evening.

(Communicated.)

In the Women of Woodcraft is taught and practiced the doctrine of the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man, the sisterhood of woman; in short, fraternity impregnates the atmosphere of the wood of Cedar Circle, and the order of Women of Woodcraft in general, as was clearly demonstrated in the smiling features and neighborly hand clasp of everyone present at the regular meeting of Cedar Circle last night.

Mrs. Weber, the guardian neighbor, left this item with us, that after several applications had been balloted on, nine applications referred to committees, and four initiations, all other business was disposed of and all at the camp-fire listened to the presentation speech of the guardian neighbor, as this was the birthday of Mrs. Inez Filloon. A few pleasant remarks were made and a beautiful berry spoon was presented Mrs. Filloon in honor of her birthday, and as a token of regard and esteem in which she is held by the neighbors of Cedar Circle.

To say Mrs. Filloon was surprised is putting it mildly; she was overwhelmed, but recovered sufficiently to respond gracefully, saying that Cedar Circle in particular, and the Women of Woodcraft in general, may rest assured that everything that she can do to further the best interests of the order will be done. And thanking all again and again, the camp-fire was extinguished, and a program listened to, and then a banquet was spread in honor of the occasion. This is one of many of the pleasant, social, whole-souled, fraternal evenings as given by Cedar Circle, and is one reason the order grows so rapidly; because fraternity is not only taught, but practiced. Cedar Circle has adopted this verse as its motto:

Live for something; have a purpose, And that purpose keep in view. Drifting, like a helpless vessel, Thou canst not ever be true. Half the wrecks that strew life's ocean, If some star had been their guide, Might have now been riding safely, But—they drifted with the tide.

A Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle free from Clarke & Falk. Regular size, 75 cents. Get Green's prize almanac.

How to Cure Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Amenia, Dutchess county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by Blakeley, the druggist.
