EVIDENCE OF THE DELUGE

Rev. Dr. Wright Says He Has Found It — Has Investigated in Vicinity of Mount Ararat.

New York, Feb. 25.—Letters have just been received from the Rev. Dr. George Frederick Wright, the authority on the glacial period and biblical geology, telling of the results of his search in Asia for evidence that the deluge covered the whole earth. In a letter received in New York last week from him at Jerusalem, Professor Wright wrote:

"The account of the flood in the Bible is not such as to lead us to expect much direct geological evidence of it. A submergence of a year, several thousand years ago, would leave few signs which are not obliterated by time. The Bible history stands on its own merits and has independent value. The main question of geological interest is: Are there irreparable objections to the account?"

"The main answer to this question turns upon the geological theories concerning the possible or probable rate at which changes of land levels may proceed.

"Lyell's theory of uniformitarianism has been pushed too far and has had too much infinite, discrediting the theory of geological catastrophes. Professor Prestwich's great work on geology does much to counteract the errors of Lyell and his followers.

"Catastrophes comparable to the flood are not strange things in geology. The glacial period was connected with a series of catastrophes. I have traveled 12,000 miles in Asia to find evidences of the glacial period, and have found none. There was no general glaciation of Eastern and Central Asia, as there was of America and Europe.

"But I have found indisputable evidence of an extensive submergence of the land extending to the base of Mount Ararat, and that the submergence took place subsequent to the appearance of man on the earth. The Russian geologists have recently found remnants of man deep down in the deposits connected with the spaces of submergence."

The debate over the deluge question has been waged for 300 years, and Professor Wright's suggestion will probably reopen it with energy.

He Tried a Sample Bottle

Nearly every day people come into drug stores and ask the Druggists to recommend some medicine for their trouble. Very often they refuse to do so, because, as a rule, they do not believe it proper to advise anyone to take a patent medicine of which they do not know the ingredients. It is the physician's business to prescribe. Some make an exception, however, when anyone has a cough, cold or throat and lung trouble. "I always recommend Acker's English Remedy, because I know just what it will do. It has cured every case where I have seen it tried. It is the best expectorant and tonic I ever handled in my 14 years' experience. I will give just one instance of a gentleman who had been troubled for years with a nasty, hacking cough. I advised Acker's English Remedy. He tried a sample bottle, and was cured before he had taken half of it, at no cost whatever. This is an exceptional case, however, as it usually takes two or three bottles."
