

Rich Laces and Embroideries.

Hand in hand go Laces and Embroideries with Wash Goods. Vast preparations in the latter naturally call for corresponding stock of the former. We have never had such an extensive and desirable stock. All-overs, Bands and Edges, embroidered with infinite care; Galoons and Insertions that set women's hearts in a flutter of delight; every piece is good to look at; every pattern changes to some new surprise.

Val. Laces

In hundreds of patterns, from the cheap to the fine English and round-thread Italian Vals.—

1c to 25c per yard.

Cream Laces, Black Laces.

Arabian and Russian Applique.

Embroideries

In Cambrics, Nainsooks and Swiss All-overs, in stripes, open work and blind effects. Charming designs in matched sets, from 2c per yard to $6.

New and Dainty Wash Fabrics.

While wearing-time has not yet arrived, still Wash Goods are selling every day. Ladies in furs and winter garments buying the thinnest of summer dresses seems strange, but therein they show their shopping wisdom of "coming early." So many and varied are the patterns that they would really become tiresome, were it not for their entrancing beauty.

County Treasurer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Dress rehearsal tonight. Play tomorrow night.

Charles Heppner will sing "Goo Goo Eyes" at the Vogt tomorrow night.

We regret to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. Chris Paulsen, of this city.

"The Wife" at the Vogt tomorrow night. Get your tickets at Clarke & Falk's now.

Good music. Birgfeld's full orchestra, eight strong, will furnish the music at the play tomorrow night.

Rev. Mr. Lake, of Portland, will hold services at St. Paul's Episcopal church in this city tomorrow evening.

Kelsay and Murray will be seen in their acrobatic tumbling turn between acts at the Vogt tomorrow night.

Lovers of good singing will be repaid by hearing Mr. Grenville Goddard sing at the Congregational church this evening at 8:15 p. m. Admission 25 cts.

Mrs. Goddard will be glad to meet those who would be interested in forming a class in elocution, at Menefee & Parkins' music store, on Tuesday morning, at 10:30.

Mrs. Boyden-Goddard arrived on the noon train from Hood River. Those who are interested in elocutionary work will do well to attend the concert at the Congregational church at 8:15 p. m. this evening.

Special meetings will be held at the Methodist church this week. The services will begin at 7:30 p. m. Rev. E. C. Parker, a member of the Puget Sound quintet, will have charge of a chorus choir. The general public is cordially invited to these services. No collection will be taken.

Deputy Sheriff Wood and Constable Jackson returned last night from Salem, where they took Ralph and John Winkle, the men who were sentenced last week to a year and a half each in the penitentiary for stealing wool from the Wasco Warehouse. While at the penitentiary Mr. Wood learned that the convicts, Hugh Brown and Robert Wilson, who were sent from here over a year ago under a sentence of eight years each for horse-stealing, have earned the distinction of being two of the toughest subjects the penitentiary officials have under their jurisdiction.

Mr. Grenville Goddard, who with his wife will furnish the major portion of the entertainment tonight, sang Julian Jordan's "The Great Heavenly Choir" in a most acceptable manner at last evening's service in the Congregational church. The large audience was more than pleased with the rendition of the solo, which fully showed the wonderful range of his voice. Those who enjoy hearing a splendid baritone should be present at the church tonight.

In the matter of the refusal of the commissioners' court to allow a bill of Hugh Glenn's amounting to $14.42, as reported in Saturday's CHRONICLE, it is due to Mr. Glenn to say that the bill in question was presented through a misunderstanding. The bill was for paper used in papering the county court room, and through a misunderstanding with the paper-hanger it was charged to the county, while the paper-hanger had put in a bill for the same items, on his own account, which was allowed.

Mrs. Viola Williams, a former resident of The Dalles, but who has made her home in Portland for the past ten years, died in one of the hospitals of that town yesterday of cancer of the stomach. Mrs. Williams' age was 46 years. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Winifred Carroll, who lives in Southern Oregon, and Miss Minnie Williams, who lived with her mother in Portland. The remains will be brought here for interment and the funeral will take place from Crandall & Burgett's undertaking rooms tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

At the Methodist church last evening Rev. U. F. Hawk discoursed on the question, "What is to be Believed About Christianity?" Mr. Hawk asked his congregation to imagine the conditions that would prevail in this city if its 3500 inhabitants would all from this time forth follow implicitly the teachings of Christianity. There would no longer be a saloon in the city, the preacher held, nor any business for one, nor a gambling den, nor a gambler, nor a house of ill-fame. The price of real estate would climb skyward and the postoffice would be loaded with mail inquiring about rents and the price of lots, so desirable would the city become as a place of residence. The sermon was the last of a series of four, which have been listened to with great pleasure. The only regret was that this was the last.

SALMAGUNDI.

When the young lady at the recent oratorical contest shouted loud and strong: "God gives us men!" a pleased look passed over the faces of the marriageable ladies of the audience and many smiled approval.—Albany Democrat.

The new chattle mortgage law, which was passed by the late legislature, and is now in effect, does away with the old provision that an affidavit of non-satisfaction shall be affixed to a mortgage annually in order to keep it alive.

John Lind, employed in a Spokane commission house, attempted to pull what he thought was an over-ripe banana off a bunch that had just been received and was surprised to find that it was a copperhead snake from Costa Rica, which immediately gave chase. Lind escaped being bitten and the snake was captured.

The Paris correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch tells some of the marvels of liquid air, as shown by M. D. Arsonval. He showed a beefsteak dipped in the liquid air, and then let it fall on the floor, when it sounded like a stone and broke to pieces. It was eventually reduced to a pink powder, easy to masticate and assimilate. Ice dipped into liquid air cut glass like a diamond, mercury became as hard as antimony, metals had their qualities increased tenfold by the application of liquid air, conducting wires reduced to a hair's breadth in thickness remained strong as a cable. These were only a few of the wonders displayed.

Obituary.

Ella, the beloved wife of Charles Keys, of this city, was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows' cemetery Saturday afternoon beside the remains of her father, Chas. W. Dearing, whose death occurred only five days previously. The services were conducted by Rev. U. F. Hawk, and the unusually large attendance at the funeral afforded a striking evidence of the strong hold the deceased had gained on the affection and esteem of her neighbors, in a community in which she had no blood relatives and where she was a total stranger only a short year and a half ago.

Of the father and daughter it may be said, as it was of the father and son in bible story, "They were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided." Mrs. Keys was the only child of her father, who was left wifeless when Ella was an infant of less than two years old. From that time until the hour of his death, thirty-seven years after, they lived together and the one object of the father's life was to make his child happy. And never was fatherly affection more worthily disposed.

Mrs. Keys was born in Bennezzette, Pennsylvania, January 6, 1862, and died March 9, 1901. She was united in marriage to her surviving husband in 1882. In 1894 Mrs. Keys, with her husband and father, came to the Pacific coast and settled in Portland, remaining there till about a year and a half ago when they came to The Dalles.

The immediate cause of death was pneumonia, with which she was stricken at the time of her father's death, when she was suffering from the effects of the mental and physical strain incident to that event. She leaves, besides a husband, seven living children, the eldest of whom is a boy of 17 and the youngest a child of 23 months. The bereaved husband and children have the heartfelt sympathy of this community in their irreparable loss.

Anton Schott's Concert.

The fine popular program for Anton Schott's concert next Friday night will be composed of folk songs and national hymns of different nations and popular operatic numbers such as "The Heart Bowed Down," the Scotch ballad "Tom the Rhymer," songs of the Armorer and of the Czar by Lortzing, the lovely Romanza of Mignon; American, German, Irish, French, Spanish and Italian folk songs—Home Sweet Home, In einem Kuechlen Grunde, Last Rose of Summer, Rendez-moi ma patrie, Ultra-Mar and Santa Lucia; the American, German Mexican, Austrian and French national hymns and also the Grail Navigation from Wagner's most popular opera, Lohengren, in which role Anton Schott is well identified in Europe, and which he has sung in all the principal cities of Europe and America.

The great Wagner tenor will be assisted by Miss Ottilie Schnecking and Lucien Vannod, who have been associated with him for the last few years.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world, and sold by Clarke & Falk. Get Green's prize almanac. 2

AUGUST BUCHLER, Prop.

Of the product of this well-known brewery the United States Health Reports for June 28, 1900, says: "A more superior brew never entered the laboratory of the United States Health reports. It is absolutely devoid of the slightest trace of adulteration, but on the other hand is composed of the best of malt and choicest of hops. Its tonic qualities are of the highest and it can be used with the greatest benefit and satisfaction by old and young. Its use can conscientiously be prescribed by the physicians with the certainty that a better, purer or more wholesome beverage could not possibly be found."
