A large attendance is requested at tonight's session of Friendship Lodge, No. 9, K. of P. There will be work in the third rank.

Dr. W. Rose, deputy supreme organizer of the Order of Washington, a fraternal beneficiary order, with headquarters at Portland, is in the city for the purpose of organizing a local union. The order has a number of members here, but has never had an organization. The new union will be organized this week or next.

Six things are requisite to create a happy home. Integrity must be the architect, and tidiness the upholsterer. It must be warmed by affection and lighted up with cheerfulness, and industry must be the ventilator, renewing the atmosphere and bringing in fresh salubrity day by day; while over all, as a protecting canopy and glory, nothing will suffice except the blessings of God.—Dr. Hamilton.

Rumor has it that Louis Davenport, mayor of Mosier, is greatly disappointed because the dicker between The Dalles and Hood River people over the matter of bringing electric power from Hood River to The Dalles has fallen through. It was Louis' intention, so he says, to contract for a slice of the power sufficient to light the city of Mosier and run a street car system from Mosier avenue to Davenport boulevard.

Rev. C. F. Clapp preached two very instructive sermons at the Congregational church yesterday. Mr. Clapp's discourses are always intensely interesting and to the point. A pleasing feature of the evening service was the offertory, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," sung by Miss Gambell. It is not always our privilege to hear such a sweet voice as she possesses. Services will be conducted by Rev. Clapp every evening during this week, to which all are cordially invited.

The executive committee of the board of regents of the Corvallis agricultural college has been in Union to arrange for the establishment of the new experiment station on the branch asylum lands. The committee has determined to erect a two-story brick building, 30x40, for station headquarters. A comfortable residence, for use of the station chief, is already on the farm. Prof. Leckenby, who was to have been in charge of the experimental work to be conducted in Wasco county, was placed in charge.

The Portland Chronicle says that Jeff Dripps, of this city, was in Portland a few days ago with a fine span of 1900-pound horses, and had no trouble in disposing of the same for the neat little sum of $400. He also brought a smaller horse, weighing about 1100 pounds, which four years ago would have been worth about $20 or less, which was easily sold at $80. This will show what the war, which has been absorbing all the good horses on hand, and the backwardness of the farmers, who have failed to breed, is doing for the grower of good horses.

Colonel L. L. Hawkins, who has become known as the father of the Portland Free Museum, is arranging to form an exploring party to visit the John Day fossil beds next summer, as an outing. Mr. Hawkins desires to supply the museum with some of the interesting fossils which have made the John Day and Crooked river localities famous for the past thirty years. The proposition is to leave Portland some time in July, by rail for Heppner, Shaniko or some point adjacent to the fossil beds, and from there take wagons provided with food and camp outfits. Mr. Hawkins will invite a geologist or two to join the party.

The services yesterday at the Methodist church were well attended. Notwithstanding the rainy weather a good congregation was present in the evening to hear the sermon by Dr. H. K. Hines in honor of the pioneer preachers of The North Pacific West. Jason and Daniel Lee, and H. K. W. Perkins received special mention. In the morning after the reception of new members, Dr. Hines preached a short but eloquent sermon on the theme "I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ." Text, Philippians 3:12. Although the doctor belongs to the pioneer preachers of fifty years ago, he possesses great vigor and acceptability. He is no doubt one of the best informed men on the missionary history of the Northwest, now living.

A BIG ENTERPRISE

That is Fraught With Important Results to The Dalles.

Pursuant to authority conferred on W. Lord, B. F. Laughlin, S. O. McCoy, D. M. French, Smith French and F. A. Seufert, directors of the Wasco Warehouse Milling Company, supplementary articles of incorporation were filed today in the office of the county clerk. Under these articles the enterprise, business, pursuit and occupation in which said corporation proposes to engage in addition to those mentioned in the original articles of incorporation are:

- I. To acquire rights, riparian rights and water supplies, and water power for the purpose of generating and furnishing electrical power for all purposes.
- II. To acquire, lease, own and deal in water and water power, and to construct, develop, utilize and distribute water power and electric power, and to furnish electric power for all purposes.
- III. To construct, own, maintain and operate electric machinery, lines, appliances for power, telephone and lighting purposes.
- IV. To deal in all kinds of electrical machinery and appliances.
- V. To buy, sell, lease, construct and operate mills for the manufacture of lumber and other materials.
- VI. To construct, own and operate railways, both steam and electric, including street railways of all kinds.
- VII. To construct and operate canals and pipe lines for the conducting of water by means of pipes laid under ground, and to sell and distribute water for city, domestic, manufacturing and irrigating purposes; and to construct, maintain and operate dams and reservoirs.
- VIII. To acquire, own, lease and mortgage real estate.
- IX. To borrow monies and to issue negotiable bonds and other securities and to mortgage, hypothecate and pledge any and all of its property as security therefor.

As announced Saturday, the capital stock of the Wasco Warehouse Milling Company has been increased from $150,000 to $300,000. The Milling Company has purchased The Dalles Electric Light Company's plant, so that the two enterprises are now under one ownership and general management.

In connection with this expansion of the business of the Wasco Warehouse Milling Company it may be mentioned that the management of the electric power and light department of the business has been placed in the hands of Hon. E. O. McCoy, a gentleman whose name is a synonym of business enterprise and integrity wherever that name is known.

THE CHRONICLE is authorized to say that simultaneously with the arrival here of electric power from White river falls, a complete revision of the prices of electric lights will be made with the probability of a considerable reduction from present prices, as the belief is that the power at White river falls can be harnessed more cheaply than any similar power contiguous to The Dalles.

A Victory for the County.

The case of Henry Gardner versus Wasco County occupied the time of the circuit court at Moro from Friday morning till after midnight Saturday, and resulted in a verdict in favor of the county. Gardner sued the county for $8,500 damages for injuries received on the Rice grade on lower Fifteen Mile, on December, 1898, through an alleged defective condition of the county road.

In the wagon with Gardner at the time of the accident to himself was Mrs. Teressa Reese, who was killed, and whose heirs were defeated in an action for damages at the last term of circuit court at The Dalles.

Gardner's case was a re-trial. The first trial went against him, and an appeal was taken to the supreme court, which reversed the decision of the lower court on a technicality of law and ordered a re-trial. Gardner obtained a change of venue to Sherman county on the allegation that he could not obtain justice here. Two hours after the case was submitted to the jury a verdict in favor of Wasco county was returned.

Menefee & Wilson appeared for the county, and are to be congratulated on a result that saves the county $8,500, besides a heavy bill of costs that falls on the defeated party.

Found Dead.

Yesterday the roadmaster at the Summit, eight miles east of The Dalles, found the body of a man apparently about 50 years of age in a clump of brush about 50 feet from the railroad track. The body lay face downwards, with one arm extended forward, while a single blanket covered the arm, head and body as far as the waist. A bullet had pierced his left cheek and come out at the back of his head. In his pockets were found a watch, $14 in money and a revolver. The revolver was folded in a piece of cloth and on the theory of suicide could hardly have been found in the man's pocket after he was dead. The body was brought here and an inquest held, which occupied the most of the day.

From the testimony it would appear that the man's name is John Courtwright; that he lived in this city till about two weeks ago when he moved his family to Sherman county where he has a wife, married son and grand-daughter. The jury could not agree as to the cause of death and adjourned till tomorrow, pending a post mortem examination.

Paloma's Concert.

The following program will be played by little Paloma and Karla Schraumm in The Dalles Wednesday, March 27th. Those who wish to submit themes for Paloma to improvise from are requested to prepare them during the first interval. They should be of not over three or four bars in the treble clef, plainly signed. During the second interval the motifs will be collected and handed to Paloma. She will draw one and improvise from it.
