A full line of the celebrated Dent gloves for ladies was received today by Pease & Mays.

A marriage license was issued today by County Clerk Lake to Charles Bunn and Florence Jordan.

Ladies can have their goods accordion plaited at Pease & Mays; any width up to twenty inches.

Astoria has organized a new commercial club, with A. Scherneckau as president. The club starts out with a membership of 150.

Wes Palmateer, of Dufur, has rented the J. W. Akin residence on Benton street and moved his family to the city to get the benefit of our public schools. Mr. Palmateer has gone to work in the Payette feed yard.

D. H. Curl has sold his house and lot on Eleventh street, between Liberty and Lincoln, to Joe Knebel. Mr. Curl has bought what is known as the "Sewer" Brown place on Thirteenth street, between Lincoln and Liberty.

Those who were so unfortunate as to miss hearing Paloma last night, may consider themselves favored in having an opportunity to avail themselves of the privilege afforded by a second concert tomorrow night at the Vogt.

Last night the directors of the Gentleman's Driving Association opened bids for the lumber for fencing the race track, when the bid of Joseph T. Peters & Co., of this city, was found to be the lowest and they were awarded the contract.

An exchange says that an editor was blessed the other day. Rather strange statement. A baby boy came to his trade-furnished home. A little sister examined the tiny tot and asked the father: "Did you get him on advertising, too, papa?"

Since word came here of General Funston's capture of Aguinaldo, the local democratic war horses have it all fixed that Roosevelt and Funston would be a mighty hard pair to beat. Just how they know that Funston is a republican we cannot tell, but we suppose it is from the inner consciousness that all good men either are or ought to be republicans.

The members and friends of the Methodist church are especially requested to be present at the prayer meeting this evening. This will be the first meeting since the revival. Matters of interest and importance will be presented this evening.

Philanthropic Portland women will establish a "Noon Rest" for working girls and women near the business center of the city. Their working brothers find their noon rest about some cigar store or saloon. This is the difference, says the Eugene Guard.

The ladies of St. Paul's Guild are working hard over their approaching sale and promenade concert, which comes off on Monday evening, April 8th, at the Baldwin opera house. It promises to be an affair of unusual interest in these times of interesting affairs.

There is wood in the Philippines so hard that the natives use it for nails in building houses of softer woods. For want of a better name the Americans call it "bullet wood." It is made into nails five inches long. It is said the natives have been using bullets made of this wood.

The Portland Telegram says the freight rate on wool from Arlington to Boston has been reduced from $1.65 to $1.50 per 100. It also says the tariff on wool from Arlington to The Dalles has been changed from 65 cents per 100 to 35 cents per 100, or nearly cutting the former rate in two.

Mr. and Mrs. Rover B. Sinnott will leave in about a week for Portland, where they will make their future home and where Mr. Sinnott will resume the practice of law, which has been interrupted since the death of his father, which made a temporary attendance on the business of the hotel a necessity.

Senator Mitchell has returned from New York to Washington, and is at the Dewey, where he will remain two weeks attending to department business, before returning to Oregon. Saturday evening a dinner was given him by Nathaniel McKay, which was attended by Commissioner Hermann, Representatives Grosvenor, Dick and other members of congress.

"Well, Maggie," asked a teacher of a little girl, "how is it you are so late in coming to school today?" "Please, sir," was the reply, "there was a wee bairn cam' to our house this mornin'." "Ah," said the teacher, with a smile, "and wasn't your father very pleased with the new babe?" "No, sir; my father is awa' in Edinburgh the noo, an' disna ken about it yet; but it was a guid thing ma mither was at home, for gin she had been awa' I wadna hae kent what tae dae wi't.—St. Andrews Gazette.

This afternoon, at about 1:15 o'clock, a lady living in rooms that overlook a good portion of Second street, saw a large volume of smoke ascend out of the big metal funnel of Ruch bakery, and, not waiting to see the source of the smoke, lost her head and telephoned the central office that there was a fire at the back of Ruch's grocery store. Of course the fire alarm was rung in and the usual hurrying to and fro followed as the fire laddies responded to the call with their usual promptitude, and the net result is that the city is about $20 poorer, all because somebody hadn't the forethought to ask Mr. Ruch what was the matter with the fire in the bakeoven.

It is beyond our power to write a technical criticism of the concert given last night at the Vogt by little Paloma and Karla Schramm. We do wish to say, however, that the splendid work of these two little girls more than met the expectations of the audience, who were delighted with the mastery way in which the several numbers were rendered. Paloma's work is that of a finished pianist, while her little sister is not far behind, as was demonstrated by the manner in which she played her solo number. The little performers deserved a much larger house. As was announced last evening at the close of the performance, Paloma and Karla will give another recital tomorrow (Friday) evening, with an entire change of program.

At the Christian church last night the speaker commenced by calling attention to the fact that people were not saved by chance. God has a plan for everything. The salvation of man is no exception to the rule. The book of Acts is the only book in the Bible which contains any account of this plan in operation under the Christian dispensation. The speaker then referred to the blackboard, on which he had written six accounts of conversions, viz.: the 3,000, the Samaritans, the eunuch, Paul, Cornelius, and the Philippian jailor. Each case was taken up separately, and it was found that in God's plan man had to believe, repent, confess and be baptized in order to receive the pardon of his sins. Good audience and an increased interest every night. The subject for this evening: "Three States of Man, or Man in Time and Eternity."

I Kissed the Cook.

I kissed the cook. Ah me! She was divine—
Cheeks peachy, dark-brown eyes, lips red as wine;
Long apron with a bow,
A cap as white as snow,
By far too tempting, so I kissed the cook.
I kissed the cook, this angel from the skies,
And yet I did not take her by surprise.
'Twas mean, I will allow,
But if you'll make the vow
To keep it, I'll tell you how I kissed the cook.
I kissed the cook. Poor, helpless little lass—
The chance so good I could not let it pass.
Her hands were in the dough,
She dare not spoil, you know,
My Sunday suit, and so I kissed the cook.
I kissed the cook. I might have been more strong,
But then I guess it wasn't very wrong,
For just 'tween you and me,
The cook's my wife, is she?
So I'd a right, you see, to kiss the cook.

At the Congregational Church.

The service last night was well attended and a deep interest pervaded the congregation. After a bright praise service, Mr. Clapp preached a manly, thoughtful sermon based on the text "Lord remember me when Thou comest into Thy kingdom."

This was the best service of the present series, and much is expected of the meetings yet to be conducted. The conviction is gaining in the minds of all who have heard Mr. Clapp that his method and spirit are exceptional. With him it is "Come, let us reason together." There is nothing of the sensational order about his work. His is simply a plain, simple presentation of gospel truth as the truth appears to him.

Mr. Poling sang a solo before the sermon and Prof. Landers one after it last night.

Tonight the subject will be "The Wedding of a Prince." The regular church quartet of male voices will sing a number this evening and Mr. Poling will sing as a solo "Saved by Grace." Service to begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Assessor C. L. Schmidt expresses his determination to conform to the law in the matter of assessing the property of the county, and has so instructed all his deputies. The assessors must, as far as practicable, inspect the property to be assessed and place their own values upon it, not allowing the owners to list the values as they do the property, as has been too often the case with all assessors heretofore. Each property owner, or agent, will be required to take oath that the list submitted "contains a full and correct statement of all property owned or controlled" by the affiant at 1 o'clock a. m. on the first day of March. As under the new law it does not matter, as far as the state tax is concerned, whether property is assessed at its full cash value or at one third, values will be increased to something bearing a nearer relationship to their equivalent in cash than has been the custom for many years. If this latter part of the program is carried out nobody need be surprised if the tax roll of 1901 shall show six million dollars' worth of property in the county instead of three. The result, to the honest taxpayer, would be a decrease of taxes instead of an increase and a decrease in the rate that would make a good impression on would-be settlers or investors.

Official announcement is made that the O. R. & N. Co., in addition to its experimental farm at Walla Walla and its cultivation of grasses in Morrow county, is about to establish a system of fruit warehouses in the Inland Empire. The first of these will be built at La Grande. The excavations for the foundadition will be made this week and the building will be completed in the fall. It will be of stone two stories in height, and will cost about $10,000. The ground floor will be for the cold storage of vegetables and general farm produce. The upper story will be provided with modern facilities for keeping fruit cool and fresh. The fruit department will have a capacity of 9000 boxes of apples. These can be kept through the winter in good condition for the most remunerative market in the spring. Other points, being considered as suitable for the establishment of cold-storage plants are Hood River, The Dalles, Rockford, Colfax, Waiteburg and Milton.

The Dalles is surely and steadily growing, both in business and population, in spite of all the prophecies that we have been hearing for half a score of years. Old business houses have expanded and largely increased their stocks, while a list of the new ones that have started here in the past two or three years would surprise one who has never given the matter special attention. "There is hardly an empty house in town that is fit to live in," said Judge Brownhill, of the real estate firm of Hudson & Brownhill, to THE CHRONICLE, "and we have numerous applications that we cannot fill. Just to show you how it is let me tell you of a couple of incidents that happened, one yesterday and the other the day before. In each case a house was put in our hands for rent. In one case the house was rented and a month's rent received in advance in five minutes from the time the residence was placed in our hands. In the other instance the time for a similar result was just fifteen minutes. If we had a score of houses at from $12 to $20 a month we could rent them all in a week.
