Up in Washington a man is said to have been around selling oil stock with samples of doctored mud taken from the land. Now is an excellent season of the year for people to be bilked in oil stock. Advantage will be taken of the excitement to foist upon the people fake concerns.—Albany Democrat.

The local Woodmen of the World will have a social entertainment tonight, to which all local and visiting neighbors and their wives and all members of Cedar Circle are cordially invited. A fine program has been arranged and it is the intention to make the occasion one long to be remembered.

At Viento this morning Sheriff Kelly sold on execution, in favor of Maier & Benton of this city, a number of railroad piles belonging to the Central Navigation & Construction Company, to satisfy a claim of seventy odd dollars. The piles were purchased by the Oregon Lumber Company for the amount of the claim.

Let it not be forgotten that the "exquisite humor" displayed in the name, Tommy Atkins, belongs rather to the war office than to the public. That institution used to issue little pocket manuals, in which each soldier's name, age, date of enlistment, length of service, etc., were entered, and the method of filling in the form was explained by the use of a hypothetical name, not the John Doe of the legal professional, but Thomas Atkins. The books were first so called, and then the soldiers.—The Academy.

It should be kept in mind that the Menley Trio will give another entertainment in the M. E. church, on the night of the 18th instant. The trio, having that night to spare, were induced to stop over here while on the way to Portland. It is said they had twenty applications from other places for the night but gave the preference to The Dalles. As these talented people give an altogether clean and most enjoyable entertainment, they should have an audience that will fill every corner of the church.

The supreme court has affirmed the judgment of Judge Bradshaw's court in the case of Mrs. M. J. Mosier, respondent, vs. Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, appellant. In this case Mrs. Mosier obtained a judgment against the company for $1500 damages sustained through a portion of her land sliding into an excavation made by the company in the repair of their road. The opinion of the court maintains the doctrine that an owner of land is entitled to have it remain in the state in which it was placed by nature, supported and protected by adjoining soil. Judge Bennett conducted the case for Mrs. Mosier.

The promenade concert at the Baldwin last night was a very pleasing and successful entertainment and was quite largely attended. It will be gratifying to many to know that it realized to the band of energetic lady promoters the handsome sum of $100. The program was excellent; its only fault being that there wasn't more of it. The opening piano duet by Misses Schmidt and Peterson fully met the expectations of the audience regarding these accomplished young ladies. The mandolin duet by Messrs. Dawson and Parkins and the banjeurine solo by Mr. J. Girvin Peters well deserved the hearty encores which both received. The dialect recitation of Mr. Claude Frizzell was very good, indeed, and Mr. Charles Heppner's Negro song, "Lamb, Lamb, Lamb," was rendered in a manner worthy of a crack veteran minstrel. Mr. Levin's short drama, "Sweet Dreamland Faces," was exceedingly well rendered, and in connection with this somewhat difficult little piece the acting of the leading performers, Mr. Levin and Miss Sampson, is deserving of special commendation. Mr. Levin has, in addition, the sincere gratitude of the lady promoters of the entertainment for valuable services kindly and gratuitously contributed toward its success.
