

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. A. A. Jayne arrived here on the noon train from Hood River.

Charles McAlister, the Crow sheep king, is registered at the Umatilla House.

Senator J. N. Williamson was a passenger on the noon train for Prineville, whence he carried a grip-sack containing 32 pounds of coin silver, worth $500, for the Prineville National bank.

P. Reiley, a brother of Thomas Reiley who was murdered at Trout Creek last Thursday, arrived yesterday from San Francisco to see after his brother's interment, and left today for Trout Creek to look after the deceased's interests at that place.

Mrs. Hostetler's Afternoon.

Nature did no more toward giving us a charming day yesterday than did Mrs. Hostetler for her forty-five guests who assembled in response to her invitation. The pretty parlors were enhanced in their beauty by an abundance of palms and cut flowers.

After an hour spent in endeavoring to give their opponents all the hearts possible, the guests enjoyed a repast such as only an experienced housekeeper could produce.

Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Mrs. Geisendorfer tied for the head prize, which finally went to the latter; while Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. Blakeley and Mrs. Kuck all proved they were heart winners by claiming the consolation prize, which Mrs. Blakeley finally carried home.

As the ladies went to their homes the universal verdict was that a more delightful afternoon or a more charming hostess would be hard to find.

Mrs. Hostetler was assisted by Miss Dawson and little Jessie Hostetler and Aileen Kelly.

Those present were: Mesdames Pease, T. Kelly, Blakeley, VanNorden, Kuck, McCoy, Crowe, Thompson, Bonn, Ketchum, W. H. Wilson, Hobson, J. Weigel, Dr. Ferguson, Crandall, Groat, Schenk, Sheldon, Baldwin, Crossen, N. B. Sinnott, Seufert, Fish, Logan, Moody, Crosby, Kinersly, Peters, Tolmie, Bennett, H. S. Wilson, Houghton, Lord, French, Donnell, Geisendorfer, Lueddemann, Miss Lord, of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Evening With Mr. and Mrs. Houghton.

A most happy evening was enjoyed by the members of the Twentieth Century Whist Club and a number of other friends of Mr. and Mrs. Houghton yesterday evening.

Seven tables were arranged and a very lively two hours spent at the ever entertaining game of whist.

Mrs. Hostetler and Mrs. Tolmie carried away the prizes, which were especially appropriate.

The discussion of a very fine, well-served lunch consumed an hour, when cards were handed around for a "Menu" game, which proved very interesting and jolly. Mr. Tolmie and Mr. Crosby proved themselves equal to the occasion, and when cutting was resorted to Mr. Crosby proved the lucky man.

The rooms were beautiful, cut flowers and lighted candles being in evidence, and especially beautiful and very much admired was the large palm which Mrs. Houghton has grown from infancy.

Present were, besides host and hostess, Miss Lord, Mesdames Sheldon and McCoy, Messrs. Nicholas Sinnott and Ed Hostetler, Messrs. and Mesdames Lord, Alfred Bennett, J. C. Hostetler, A. Crosby, Geo. Blakeley, John Schenk, Hugh Logan, A. J. Tolmie, H. S. Wilson, T. J. Seufert, Judd Fish.
