The firms of A. M. Williams & Co. and W. A. Johnston accept the challenge tendered by Pease & Mays and Mays & Crowe for a game of baseball.

The recital at the Congregational church last evening was not so well attended as it should have been. The dramatic and humorous recitations by Miss Rodkey were splendidly rendered and enthusiastically received. The young lady was somewhat handicapped by a severe cold. The musical numbers by Miss Gambell were exceptionally well rendered, and delighted the audience.

An intelligent young lady, after entering a young man until the chickens were crowing their last mighty crow, handed him a pencil and paper and asked him to make nine ciphers in a line thus: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0; then commence at the first and from the right side of the first cipher draw a straight line down; on the right side of the fourth make a short line up; on the right side of the fifth make a straight line down; on the right side of the seventh make a short line up; on the right side of the eighth make a straight line down, and then read what he had written. He did.

The banquet and entertainment given by Mt. Hood Camp, Woodmen of the World, on last Tuesday evening, was a success. The hall was filled with members of Cedar Circle, Women of Woodcraft, to whom the banquet was given, and members of Mt. Hood Camp. This was the result of the recent membership contest, when Cedar Circle challenged Mt. Hood Camp, and the former won, having elected thirty-six new members, the majority being benefit applicants, and Mt. Hood Camp elected about half as many. A good time was had and Cedar Circle extended a cordial vote of thanks to the Woodmen as royal entertainers. Both orders are growing.

A few days ago J. H. Blakeney, of this city, left here with a number of horses which he intended to dispose of in the Portland market. Just as he mounted one of them yesterday morning at the stable where he had them for sale, the animal reared up, and, falling back, fell on Mr. Blakeney and broke his left leg. Some two years ago Mr. Blakeney had the misfortune to have the same leg broken in another place, when it was set incorrectly and had to be broken and reset, leaving him in the hands of physicians for nearly a year. After the accident yesterday Mr. Blakeney was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital where he was last treated for a similar trouble.

In last Monday's CHRONICLE there appeared an item which stated that it was the intention of the owners of the Bailey Gatzert to put that boat on the run between The Dalles and Portland, commencing May 1st, and that in retaliation the D. P. & A. N. people intended to send the Reliance to the Sound to compete with the Flyer, which belongs to the same company as the Gatzert. Wednesday evening's Telegram quotes the article and adds, by way of comment, that "representatives of both of the companies mentioned, when questioned regarding the matter referred to in the foregoing, stated they knew nothing of any such arrangement." Very likely. There are representatives that sometimes know very little of the secret purposes of the companies they represent. THE CHRONICLE item is true, notwithstanding. Our authority is W. C. Alloway, general agent of the D. P. & A. N. Company.

The authorities are on the lookout for a number of small boys who have been accustomed of late to make night hideous for pedestrians in the neighborhood of the M. E. church. Their custom is to string ropes or wires at various heights across the sidewalk, or place planks and other obstructions in such position as to insure that pedestrians would stumble over them. As a sample of their work it is told that a gentleman and wife, while on the way home the other night from a down-town entertainment, fell over a wire that was stretched across their path about six inches from the ground, and while the gentleman was struggling to his feet he was bit square in the mouth with a rotten egg, flung from the hands of one of the hilarious kids, who was hidden in the darkness. The authorities know the boys who are guilty of these depredations, and are only waiting to get the dead cinch on some of them.

Early one morning, nearly two weeks ago, an Indian pony, covered with sweat and bearing evidence of having been hardy ridden, was found hitched to a stall in the Payette feed yard. Mr. Payette enquired the animal had been left there by somebody who would call around in due time, but no one ever came. Now that the beast has well nigh eaten its head off, Mr. Payette would be pleased if the owner would call and, after paying its board bill, take it away. It is of brown color, about 12 hands high; weight about 800 pounds; is branded G with a cross on right stiffler; has scars on the breast and right postrer that look as the results of contact with a barb wire fence; has white right hind foot; is aged probably 10 or 12 years; is considerably saddle marked and has a fresh saddle gall on the withers. When found by Mr. Payette it was hitched to the stall by a short rope, but had neither saddle nor bridle and appeared to have been ridden bareback.

An Afternoon at Mrs. Hostetler's.

Mrs. Hostetler's afternoon of Wednesday was as grand a success as the previous one of Tuesday. The house was in beautiful dress and everything passed off gayly. The game, "A Play on Words," was highly interesting, and more than twenty ladies, and for the prizes, which were carried off by Mrs. J. M. Filloon and Mrs. Otis Patterson. They were exquisite pieces of china, always so dear to a woman's heart.

The lunch was a very toothsome one and well served. The play cards were a unique idea in the way of an Easter card.

Mrs. Hostetler was assisted by Miss Patterson and little Misses Erma and Nova Dawson.

Those receiving invitations were: Mesdames Morgan, Sommersville, L. Christian, F. Christian, S. French, J. W. French, D. M. French, Nellie Bolton, Brooks, Donnell, M. Z. Donnell, Myers, Eshelman, Doane, Ed Williams, MacAllister, James Blakeney, Johnston, Perry Cram, Filloon, Condon, McArthur, Hawk, Vause, Knaege, Wingate, Sampson, Glenn, F. Bailey, C. Cooper, Cushing, Kelsey, Guthrie, Laughlin, Harris, S. Bolton, Poling, Gifford, S. L. Young, C. E. Dawson, M. A. Dawson, E. M. Wilson, Wm. Michell, Lewis, Davenport, Patterson, Mier, Woodworth, Tackman, B. S. Huntington, J. M. Huntington, Geo. Ruch.

Death of Miss Clara Davis.

This community was greatly shocked this morning to learn of the death of Miss Clara Davis, which occurred last night at the home of her uncle, Judge Bradshaw, of this city.

Miss Davis had retired at the usual hour last night. She had been the victim of chronic dyspepsia for years, but of late had been in better health than usual, with the exception that for the past two or three days she had complained at times of a severe pain in the region of the heart. Not appearing at the usual hour this morning her uncle asked his little son to awake her. The boy returned in a few minutes saying he was unable to do so, when the judge visited the room and was surprised to find her cold in death. Dr. Logan was immediately sent for, although it was too evident that she was beyond all human help.

Miss Davis was the daughter of a maternal half brother of Judge Bradshaw. Both her parents died while she was a child, when she went to live with her grandmother, Judge Bradshaw's mother. From the death of the grandmother Miss Davis made her home with her uncle, to whom she was as tenderly endeared as if she had been his own child. She was a most amiable young lady, gentle, unassuming and affectionate, who won the hearts of all who came within the circle of her acquaintance. She was born in Salem, Oregon, September 25, 1875.

The funeral will take place from Judge Bradshaw's residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the services will be conducted by Rev. D. V. Poling.

Gumbert's popular cigar and tobacco house wish to announce that they are now ready to supply the public with New York Sunday Worlds, at five cents a number, the demand having been so large that we were forced to triple our usual supply. Being now prepared to satisfy the usual rush, we hope disappointment in receiving the New York Sunday World will be a thing of the past, as our supply will now be so large that the public in general need not hesitate to send in their orders. We wish to extend many thanks to the public at large for their kind patronage in our periodical department. That chances on a beautiful cigar-ribbon sofa pillow is given with each periodical purchased is no doubt the cause of the liberal patronage in this department. Ring up local phone 231 and we will deliver anything you may order in our line. Don't forget that with every 25-cent purchase we give a chance on a $300 piano now on exhibition at our store. Drawing on piano July 27, 1901. Drawing on pillow April 27, 1901. a10
