PEASE & MAYS.

You're Wrong

If you have an idea, sir, that because you could not get a good pair of shoes for less than $5 or $6 ten years ago that you are still obliged to pay that much for a first-class shoe. Modern improvements in the manufacture of shoes have cut the cost in two. Ten years ago five dollars would not have bought such shoes as we are now selling for

$3.00

Vici Kid, plain or cloth top, Box Calf, Russia Calf in black or brown. We have higher priced shoes to sell, but you won't wear so many of them if you care to examine our $3.00 shoes.

Come in and see about it. Spring styles are waiting for you.

A force of men went to work yesterday morning to build the fence around the speed track of The Dalles Gentlemen's Driving Association.

Now is the time to get a bicycle. Mays & Crowe's special sale lasts one week only. You cannot buy a Pennant bicycle for $17.50 after this week.

The ladies of the Good Intent are requested to attend a called meeting of the society at the home of Mrs. U. F. Hawk tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 promptly.

Mays & Crowe sold six bicycles Saturday. This is a pretty good sale of bicycles for one day in a town the size of The Dalles. It is hard to understand how such a wheel as the Pennant can be sold for $17.50, but they do it.

Ira Kistner, of Tygh, who was tried yesterday afternoon in Recorder Gater's court on the charge of having cruelly abused his saddle horse, was found guilty. His little sport cost him, all told, probably not far from $50.

Elder J. B. Lister, corresponding secretary of the Oregon Christian Missionary Convention, will speak at the Christian church tonight at 8 o'clock. The members are urgently requested to be present, as there will be some matters of business to be transacted after preaching.

Tickets and plan of seats for the "Irish Duke" play are now at Clarke & Falk's P. O. pharmacy. If you want good and comfortable seats, you must hurry up and get them immediately, as they are selling very lively. Remember that the reserved seats are only the same price as general admission seats, 50 cents. Children 25 cents. Splendid rehearsals are in progress.

While in Portland the other day August Buchler fell in with a couple of young men who are skilled tanners and who are looking for a place in which to start a tannery. On Mr. Buchler's representation they were persuaded to come here and look over the situation. They are here at present and, we understand, are in favor of remaining if a suitable site can be obtained.

John Brookhouse, of Dufur, shipped this morning to St. Paul, Marion county, a carload of horses, which he sold to Jackson & Pendleton, of that place. The horses would average about 900 pounds and were unbroken. They netted Mr. Brookhouse $18 a head free on board the cars. Mr. Brookhouse sold last week thirty-five head to parties living in the Hood river valley.

Rehearsals for "The Henrietta" are moving along nicely, and by the 26th the cast will present a very even performance. Mr. Levin has made arrangements with the Western Union Telegraph Co. whereby a stock indicator will be in full operation on the stage, checking and printing off on the tape the rise and fall of the markets. In fact, Watson Flint's office on the stage will be connected, by private wire, direct with the New York stock exchange.

The commercial association of Lewiston, Idaho, is working to create stronger sentiment for opening the Columbia and Snake rivers for navigation. A committee has been appointed to confer with other commercial bodies in the Inland Empire on the proposition of inducing congress to take a hand in the matter. A circular will also be issued descriptive of the whole Columbia river basin and the advantages to accrue to it from an open river to the sea. It will be presented to McKinley during his visit to this section and to the river and harbor committee at Washington. This is a good move and should be supported by every commercial body and the public sentiment of this entire inland country. Time will be when the dalles will be overcome in some manner, and effort put forth now hastens the hour when our property values will be increased and greater opportunities opened for the development of our industries.

The board of water commissioners met last night and opened bids for the water pipe needed for contemplated extensions of the city mains. Mays & Crowe, Maier & Benton and Sexton & Walther, of this city, bid on iron pipe, as did also a Portland firm. The Puget Sound Pipe Company, of Olympia, Wash., bid on wooden pipe, and after due deliberation their bid was accepted. The contract with this company calls for 400 feet of 8-inch pipe; 1325 feet of 16-inch and 1200 feet of 4-inch, with the reducers and all necessary extras. The total cost is $1,630.40, including $80.40 for extras. These wooden pipes are all to be painted on the outside with asphaltum and bound around with strap iron. The company guarantees them to stand a pressure of 250 pounds to the square inch and to last ten years. A representative of the company appeared before the board and exhibited a sample of pipe that was laid in Olympia in 1878. It appeared to be perfectly sound. The contract calls for the laying of the pipe, making all necessary connections and setting fire plugs; the city to dig the trenches for the pipes and cover them after they are laid and connected. The saving effected on this contract, as compared with the cost of iron pipe, is over $600. Many people, who have had extensive experience with wooden pipe, insist that when it is of good quality and is properly prepared it will last longer than iron pipe.

L. B. Cox's Last Message.

Shortly before his death, when he knew that the end could be expected at any time, Lewis B. Cox called for paper and pencil one day and wrote the following message:

To My Friends: A little more than twenty-one years ago I came to Oregon, without acquaintances, without experience in my profession and without means. I am now lying on a bed of which death can be the only termination.

During these intervening weeks and days there has come to me one unvarying story of love and sympathy from every walk in life and every stage of acquaintanceship. So sweet a spirit of peace and joy has filled my room that I cannot go without giving some feeble expression to it. I am overwhelmed with the human sympathy which has reached out to me from so many different directions; but I must take it only as a manifestation of an inexhaustible well-spring of love, which can refresh and inspire the whole world.

Let me pray that not to me only, but to all others, your loving tenderness may be shown; not to those in sickness only, but as well to those in health. Give a helping hand and a word of comfort and hope to your struggling brother; clear his path of difficulties, rather than beset it with obstructions; help him to be a better man, and by so doing you will help yourselves to be better men.

It cannot be that all the love you have shown me comes from perishable life; I cannot believe that it will pass away with my consciousness and be lost. We shall meet again in a land where love will reign supreme, and where in eternal sunshine all clouds will have passed away. L. B. Cox.

For sale, on easy terms, a fine fruit, hay and truck farm of about 200 acres, ten miles from The Dalles. Fine improvements; about sixty acres bottom; creek through the place; an ideal home and income property. For further particulars see Gibbons & Marden, The Dalles, Oregon. m22wtf

Ditter-Schanno Wedding.

The marriage of Mr. Joseph Ditter, of North Yakima, and Miss Alma Schanno, of this city, took place this morning at St. Peter's Catholic church, Rev. Father Bronsgeest officiating. The beautiful ceremony was witnessed by a goodly number of the friends and neighbors of the bride. Mr. Leo Schanno, brother of the bride, acted as best man, and Miss Agnes Schanno, of Walla Walla, a first cousin of the bride, acted as bride's maid.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party adjourned to the home of the bride, where the discussion of an elegant luncheon fully occupied all the time till the hour set for the departure of the bride and bridegroom on a wedding trip to California. A carriage full of young people accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ditter to the passenger depot. The young folks had not forgotten to fasten an immense bow of white ribbon on the traveling trunk, and amid the protests of the bride and groom, they insisted on guarding the trunk and its adornment till both were safely housed in the baggage car. Nor had they forgotten to lay in a bountiful supply of rice and old shoes, which fell in showers at the proper time and place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ditter expect to spend a month or six weeks visiting points of interest in California, after which they will return and make their home in North Yakima, where Mr. Ditter is interested in a prosperous dry goods business, and where he is highly esteemed as a successful young business man.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Schanno, of this city. She is a most estimable young lady, who is greatly beloved by a large circle of friends here, and who is well worthy of the best that can be said concerning the husband of her choice.

The CHRONICLE joins with hundreds of Dalles friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ditter many happy days.
