If any lady who attended the dance last Friday night at the Baldwin inadvertently carried home a fancy handkerchief not belonging to her, will she

Who is Henrietta? K. Skibbe says she is Miss Georgia Sampson. Whom do you say she is? If you can guess, and guess right, and get your guess in first, we guess you can have those seats. J. B. says it's Miss Glenn. Put on your guessing cap and find "the woman in the case."

M. Z. Donnell recently received a present of 100 pounds of maple sugar from relations of his mother back in Indiana. Mr. Donnell is waiting for a chance to buy the biggest Chinook salmon he can get his hands on, when he will send it in return.

The advance sale for "The Henrietta" opened this morning with a rush. Go to Clarke & Falk's and get your seats early. A gallery will be placed over the auditorium Friday night, whereby it is hoped that the acoustics of the hall will be improved, and that the voices will be heard distinctly.

Foley Bros. & Larsen, the railroad contractors, have almost completed their contract at Mosier, and will move camp from that place to Spokane about the first of the month. The only work remaining to be finished in the Mosier neighborhood is that on the tunnel, which will not be completed for two or three weeks.

Hudson & Brownhill yesterday sold C. W. Emerson, of Lower Fifteen Mile, three lots adjoining the Felix Sexton property on the west. The price was $300 cash. The lots belonged to C. S. Shank, of Seattle, who was formerly a book-keeper for the late firm of Filloon Bros. Mr. Emerson will build on the property and move his family here.

W. O. Johnson was arraigned yesterday afternoon in Justice Brownhill's court on complaint of Perry Wing charging him with assault and battery. G. E. Bartell has sworn out a complaint in Justice Brownhill's court against Van Rensler Blondin, charging him with the crime of secreting and refusing to deliver up to the proper officer state property. The property in question is a suit of clothes which Blondin had the use of as a member of the state militia. Blondin has not been arrested and is supposed to have left this part of the country.

Mrs. Ann Lucinger died Saturday night and was buried from the Catholic church yesterday afternoon. The deceased was a native of Scotland, where she was born 74 years ago. She came to The Dalles in the spring of 1865 and was married a few years afterwards to Henry Lucinger, whom she survived something like a score of years. The deceased left no children and no relatives known to anybody here. She was in feeble health for years and her death was not unexpected.

Mrs. N. Harris has kindly consented to open her residence for an entertainment to be given there tomorrow night for the benefit of the school library. A choice literary and musical program will be rendered and refreshments will be served. As this is a most worthy object there should be a large attendance. The time of the meeting has been fixed in the moonlight, and the place is conveniently reached by the new sidewalk up the old brewery hill. Parties who are unable to attend in person can do a good turn by sending a contribution of at least one admission fee of 25 cents.

The local officers of the law have been unable to get any clue that would indicate who committed the robbery at Farley & Frank's saddlery shop Sunday night. It is said, however, that on that particular night there were some half a dozen vaqueros in town, all of whom have well-established reputations for cattle and horse-stealing, and it is a most reasonable presumption that the hooking of a nice new saddle and other cow-boy fixin's would have been right in their line of business. The slick way the thieves have disposed of their plunder would indicate that they are no slouches.

The following appears in the Kendrick, Idaho, Gazette of the 12th inst. Henry W. is a brother of R. H. Weber, of this city, who recently left the employ of his brother as traveling salesman to accept his old position in Kendrick: "Henry W. Weber, who was in the employ of McGrew in 1897 and 1898, has again been employed by Mr. McGrew. This illustrates what industry, honesty and ability brings a man—good positions always await them. Mr. Weber, or Henry, as he is usually called, has many friends who will be glad to see him again at the counter of McGrew's establishment."

Charley Evans, the well-known locomotive engineer of the O. R. & N. Company, arrived here yesterday on his way home from spending about a month visiting old friends in Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Evans confirms all that we have been hearing about the immense immigration that is now moving from all parts of the East to the Pacific coast. He was surprised, however, to find the name and fame of Seattle in everybody's month, and Portland, in every way a much better town, never mentioned. Mr. Evans was glad to learn that during his absence a Portland detective had found a $110 gold watch that he lost in the railroad hold-up that took place on the O. R. & N. road a few miles east of Portland, about four years ago. The watch was found in a Portland pawnshop and is now in the hands of the chief of police, awaiting the arrival of Mr. Evans in Portland.

Sues for a Divorce.

Laura Manley, by her attorney, W. H. Wilson, has filed a complaint in the circuit court praying for a decree of divorce from her husband, Joseph B. Manley. The complaint alleges that the parties were married in California on the 4th of February, 1881, and ever since have been and are husband and wife; that the plaintiff for fifteen years past has been a resident of Wasco county, and that no children have been born to plaintiff and defendant.

The defendant charges her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment and personal indignities that have rendered her life burdensome. In particular the plaintiff alleges that in the fall of 1890 the defendant became "very angry at a trivial matter and struck the plaintiff, knocking her down; that he then choked her and placed his foot upon her throat and stood upon her prostrate form, thereby injuring her and causing her great pain and suffering; that for the last several months the defendant has been habitually cross and abusive to the plaintiff, and has frequently called her an old _____, and _____, and has notified persons not to trust the plaintiff nor to sell her anything without the pay therefor, and has otherwise greatly vexed and annoyed the plaintiff. That specifically on the 12th of April, 1891, at Dufur the defendant became angry at plaintiff and called her a liar and kicked and struck her several times, inflicting serious and painful wounds and bruises, and also pulled her hair and otherwise abused and mistreated her.

The complaint sets forth that the defendant is the owner of 400 acres of land in Wasco county of the value of $4,000, and has personal property of the value of $100 and a one-third interest in a crop of wheat valued at $400; that the defendant has given to J. B. Manley, who is the only son and heir of the defendant, certain land and premises in the town of Dufur of the value of $1000, and that this action was taken in order to defraud the plaintiff of all interest therein. The plaintiff alleges that she has no money and is sick and afflicted and not able to work or earn a living for herself; wherefore she asks for an order of the court that the defendant deposit with the clerk of the court the sum of $300 to enable plaintiff to prosecute her suit. She also asks, in addition to a decree of divorce, one-third of the real estate owned by the plaintiff and the sum of $1000 for the maintenance of the plaintiff and for her costs and disbursements of this suit.

City Directory.

That The Dalles has long needed a complete and up-to-date city directory is admitted by everyone, and we are pleased to state that this want is soon to be supplied. Representatives of The Dalles City Directory Company will call on our business men this week, and we bespeak for them the liberal patronage that the enterprise deserves. The work is in the hands of competent men, and this gives assurance that it will be thoroughly done. Every home in the city will be visited; the name, residence and occupation of every business man and the head of every family will be given, together with the names of officers, time and place of meeting of all societies, and such other statistical information as necessary to make the directory complete in every detail.
