PEASE & MAYS.

time, and for perfectly enjoying every feature provided by the hostess for their entertainment. After social greetings, each was provided with a card bearing an unfinished quotation, which by matching with another secured them partners for a game of words. Soon all were engaged in studying out and placing together syllables forming some word indicated. Much amusement was thus furnished, particularly to those who at the close of the game found themselves the winners of a prize and the envied of those less fortunate. All, however, were soon furnished a consolation prize in the form of a splendid lunch, which the young ladies enjoyed in a manner which attested its merit. The later hour was passed with a lively game which was kept up until the midnight hour. Although having met Miss Lord but a few times, her new-found friends deeply regretted the necessity of bidding her "good bye" as well as good night. Mrs. Laughlin was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Lueddemann.

Professor Lackaby, who will have charge of the grass-experiment station in Union county, arrived here this morning and after stopping over left on the afternoon train for Portland. Professor Lackaby told THE CHRONICLE that much against his will The Dalles had been abandoned and the state lands in Union county chosen for experimenting with grasses. Union county was no place for that work. The professor had first and last insisted that The Dalles was the best place, but the O. R. & N. Company was determined that The Dalles should be ignored and the company's representatives had their way. The O. R. & N. people had a good many strings to their bow and their influence with the regents of the Agricultural college was, of course, greater than the professor's. However, in spite of them, it is almost certain that an experiment station will be started here to determine what kind of vegetation is best adapted to hold down the drifting sands that lie close to the banks of the Columbia river. The big sand drift on the Catholic Mission property has been offered the government, as large an acreage as may be needed, and Professor Lackaby expects a lease to be executed in a short time when he will return here and commence the preparatory work that is necessary for the planting of the grasses in the fall. The season is too far advanced for planting at this time.

Wanted—A girl to do general house work. Apply at the residence immediately south of the Episcopal church, on Union street. 27-1wd

Drop all other social events and attend the Horace Ewing "Widow Bedott" performance which makes its appearance at the Vogt opera house tonight.

The young lady friends of the M. E. church have commenced preparation for a novel entertainment which will be given at the Baldwin about the 15th of May.

The Wasco Warehouse Milling Company this morning set a force of men to work to construct a grade leading from the brewery hill grade directly to the new mill, so as to avoid the necessity of teams turning around when they come down the hill with wheat to be delivered at the mill.

George McLeod, of Kingsley, says that while coming to town yesterday he saw a field of barley just beginning to head out. The field lies south of the Benson road and belongs to J. Benson, Sr. The barley stands about fifteen inches high. It is believed to be the earliest in the country.

Word comes from Kingsley that a fine rain fell on the ridge last night extending this way to Dufur, but in lessening quantity as it came farther this way. A similar report comes from the Dutch Flat country, so that it is probable all the higher altitudes south were similarly visited. While these districts were not suffering for rain it was a welcome visitor, nevertheless.

Through the courtesy of Representative M. A. Moody this office has a lot of government garden seeds for disposal to anybody who may call for them, without respect to his politics, religion, race, color or previous condition of servitude. The seeds are principally selected varieties of watermelon, lettuce, spinach, onion and cucumber. dawtf

A. L. Anderson, a railroad contractor, formerly an extensive farmer of the Klickitat valley, with a large outfit of men and tools and teams, was a passenger on this morning's boat for Kalama where he goes to work on the railroad now being built between that town and Vancouver. Mr. Anderson has just finished a contract for the O. R. & N. Company at Echo, Umatilla county.

Mrs. Schuster, widow of the late August Schuster, some time sheriff of Klickitat county, died Friday last at the home of her son east of Goldendale. Mrs. Schuster was the mother of Mrs. Emile Schanno, of this city, and Mrs. Fred Wickman, of Ten Mile. Mr. and Mrs. Schanno and Mrs. Wickman and her son, Fred, and Fred Guinther and wife left here Saturday to attend the funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon at Goldendale.

Dr. H. W. Kellogg, pastor of the Taylor Street First Methodist Episcopal church, of Portland, will deliver his popular illustrated lecture on "Wonders of Europe," at the Methodist church of this city on Friday evening of this week. This lecture will be illustrated by over 125 superior stereopticon views. The doctor is one of the most eminent speakers on the Pacific coast. Those who have long been desirous of hearing him can do so on Friday evening.

Old-timers, who were acquainted with Charley Hall, who was for many years a resident of The Dalles till he was stricken almost helpless some five or six years ago with locomotor ataxia, a peculiar affection of the spinal cord, will be interested in knowing that he is still an inmate of the Good Samaritan hospital and that while there is no hope of his recovery of the use of his lower members his life bids fair to be prolonged for years. We are told that at times he suffers intense pain that can only be relieved by powerful opiates. Charley was a kindly, genial soul as ever live! and his many friends in The Dalles sincerely regret his sad and hopeless affliction.

The Weekly Crop Bulletin of the 29th says: "Reports of damage to the fruit crop by frosts are numerous, but not general. Considerable strawberry bloom has been killed in Southern Oregon and in the Hood River valley. This damage will not materially reduce yields, but will make the marketing of the crop a week or two later than usual. Besides the strawberries, peaches, apricots, pears, silver prunes and cherries have suffered the most from frost. The Italian or Fellenberg prunes are nearly through blooming, and the young fruit has set well and gives promise of abundant yields. Apples in most places are now in full bloom, and as yet they have suffered no harm from frosts."

From J. W. Howard, of Prineville, who lately arrived here from Crook county with about 250 head of cattle, we learn that when he left home there was quite a talk among the wool men of Crook county of having their wool hauled all the way from there to The Dalles by wagon instead of by rail from Shaniko. As far as cattle is concerned, Mr. Howard, who is a large shipper, declares emphatically that he will never ship a hoof at present rates of $58 a car from Shaniko to Troutdale. He can do better. He came here by way of the Warm Springs reservation, where he had only one light toll, that, namely, across the Deschutes near the agency. He had good open range all the way till he came to Wapinitia, and the cattle arrived in fine condition, losing practically nothing on the way, and certainly no more than they would have lost on the cars. One steer that he weighed at home and here for a test had lost nothing. Mr. Howard says he had no difficulty in procuring a pass through the reservation, and he supposes any one could get one. All his pass cost him was the pay of one Indian policeman at $1.50 a day, who accompanied the cattle while they were within the boundary of the reservation.

Frank Fleming, of Dead Dog, who had the misfortune to suffer a compound fracture of one of his legs a few weeks ago in Portland through the fall of a horse he was riding, is expected here tomorrow on his way home. THE CHRONICLE is pleased to learn, on the authority of Senator F. P. Mays, that Mr. Fleming has recovered steadily from the first, and although the fracture was painful and necessarily slow of recovery, there was never a moment when the amputation of the wounded member was entertained, as Mr. Fleming's partner, Jim Brown, told THE CHRONICLE a couple of weeks ago, while on his way home from Portland. Mr. Brown gave the attending physician as his authority, but there is hardly a doubt that the doctor was thinking of another man whose leg was amputated about that time. In any case, THE CHRONICLE does not for one moment suspect that Mr. Brown told anything he did not believe to be true, and we have little doubt that no one will be better pleased than he to learn that he was mistaken and that Mr. Fleming has recovered as rapidly as could have been expected under the circumstances.

The presence of over a score of young ladies such as gathered at the home of Mrs. B. F. Laughlin last night to spend the evening with Miss Adams and Miss Lord, was in itself the signal for a merry
