Laughing in Their Sleeves.

NEW YORK, May 2.—There is a good deal of inflammatory rhetoric in a portion of the English press on the subject of J. Pierpont Morgan's raids on English shipping, says the London correspondent of the Tribune, but it would be foolish for Americans to deceive themselves respecting the real judgment of the shipping interests in England. It is an open secret that American competition in ocean freights is not feared when syndicate steel interests buy fleets which can be sailed under a foreign flag alone, but only when it threatens to cheapen construction of ships and create a genuine commercial marine under the American flag.

As facts stand, the Leyland Line has made a good bargain with Mr. Morgan and cleared a handsome profit. Other lines are willing to sell out on similar terms, and the shipyards of the north of England, the Thames and Scotland would be fully employed in replacing inferior with superior fleets. English agitation over the operations of the syndicate is fictitious. If Mr. Morgan goes into business as a shipbroker on a large scale, half the commercial marine of England will be his for the asking. But convenient as this policy may be for speculative purposes, it will not create an American merchant marine.

Champoeg Shaft Unveiled Today.

CHAMPOEG, May 2.—This has been a red-letter day Champoeg. With fitting ceremony and in the presence of thousands of visitors the granite monument erected to the memory of the 52 founders of the provisional government of Oregon, established in 1843, was unveiled. It was an event that marks an epoch in the history of Oregon, and forever dedicates as historic ground the spot upon which the first American government west of the Rocky Mountains had its birth. It was 58 years ago that here by the close vote of 52 to 50 the destiny of the then new Northwest was decided.

The ceremonies attending the unveiling of the monument were of a most interesting character. Pioneers and pathfinders—the men who helped lay the foundation of the great state of Oregon—were the principals in the exercises that were listened to with close and almost reverential attention by the thousands of visitors who found it a pleasure and a privilege to be present. The monument was unveiled by the sole survivor of the memorable meeting that resulted in the establishment of Oregon's provisional government, the venerable Francis Xavier Matthieu. All of the addresses were by pioneers, who have been identified with the growth and development of the state from its infancy.

One-Sixth of Natives of Luzon Dead—Killed by Americans or Died of Fever.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Brigadier-General Bell, who has just arrived in Washington direct from the Philippines, where he was in command of four departments of Southern Luzon, is quoted in a Times special from the capital as saying:

"One-sixth of the natives of Luzon have either been killed or have died of the dengue fever in the last two years. The loss of life by killing alone has been very great, but I think that not one man has been slain except where his death served the legitimate purposes of war. It has been necessary to adopt what in other countries would probably be thought harsh measures, for the Filipino is tricky and crafty and has to be fought in his own way.

"One of my sentinels was beheaded within 150 yards of my headquarters. His executioner was a boloman, who came into camp disguised as a fruit vendor. He had his bolo hid in his basket and at the opportune moment he drew it and with one blow cut off the sentinel's head.

"The Filipinos in my district were in the habit of stopping the wagons of natives and imposing a tax of one American dollar on each load of hemp. Frequent complaints were made to me, and one day I sent Captain Hand, of the Forty-ninth infantry, to stop the practice. He and six men concealed themselves in a covered wagon. When they were held up they opened fire on the insurgents and five of them were killed. After that there was no more levying of taxes.

"The insurgents also caused us much trouble by tampering with our telegraph wires. For a while we were obliged to treat every one outside of our lines as an enemy. If a man was caught within 150 yards of a telegraph pole he was shot. On one occasion six Filipinos were found dead holding to a wire which they had wrapped around a tree. No one knew who shot them, but their fate was sufficient to keep any of their comrades from tampering with the lines again."

Crime of a St. Paul Father.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 2.—The body of a 9-year-old boy named Rosenfield was taken from the river near Fort Snelling today. This is believed to confirm the police suspicion that William Rosenfield drowned his four children and himself a week ago. The crime was most brutal, the father first abducting the children, who were in the custody of their mother at Minneapolis, securing a rig and driving with them to the river.

William Rosenfield, the father, had for some time been separated from his wife, who has been living in Minneapolis while Rosenfield lived in St. Paul. One week ago Rosenfield hired a buggy and got his children from the relatives who were keeping them. He tried to prevail on his wife to accompany him, but she refused. The next morning the horse was found wandering aimlessly around. The body found today was positively identified, and a systematic search will now be undertaken to find the other bodies.

Girl in Male Attire Confesses.

OREGON CITY, May 2.—The girl in the city jail, who continued to insist that her name was Cora Fletcher, until a late hour today, was forced to admit tonight that she was Maggie Dunn, from near LaCamas, Wash. A young man named Davis, an employe at the paper mill, identified the girl, and the man arrested with her as Wolf. Davis had known them both near LaCamas, having worked with Wolf in a logging camp. Wolf, it is said, left a wife and five children to run off with a 16-year-old girl. Chief Burns does not know what he will do with the pair until he consults the district attorney.

A Baging, Roaring Flood.

Washed down a telegraph line which Chas. C. Ellis, of Lisbon, Ia., had to repair. "Standing waist deep in icy water," he writes, "gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Finally the best doctors in Oakland, Neb., Sioux City and Omaha said I had Consumption and could not live. Then I began using Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles." Positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung troubles by G. C. Blakeley, the druggist. Price 50c. 5

Found Ancient Log.

ALBANY, May 2.—While excavating yesterday morning for a hydraulic elevator in the basement of the store of S. E. Young & Son, workmen made an interesting discovery. They found an immense log 27 feet below the surface of the ground. The diameter of the log has not yet been determined, but it is evidently great. The log was partly turned to coal, and a geological student says that the log had lain there for centuries. The rocks excavated were round and smooth, showing the action of water. It is supposed that the business part of Albany was formerly the channel of the Willamette. Some years ago the skeleton of a large animal, presumably a mastodon, was found when a basement was being excavated 300 feet south of the present discovery.
