THE CHRONICLE has a communication from Rev. W. Brenner, in reply to Rev. J. B. Lister's letter of yesterday, which was received too late for today's issue. It will appear Monday.

C. A. Borders will commence Monday with a force of men to dig the trenches for the water main extensions recently ordered by the board of water commissioners. Operations will begin on the extension in the neighborhood of the Harris residence on the bluff south of the brewery.

President Lytle, of the Columbia Southern, offers to contribute $1,000 in cash towards a free bridge across the John Day river in the vicinity of Thirty-Mile, Gilliam county. The bridge, with a county road across the John Day at that place would act as an important feeder for the Columbia Southern.

Miss Josephine Jenkins and Miss Maude Gilbert left on the noon train today for an extended visit in the east. While absent they will visit the Buffalo exposition in addition to stopping at other eastern cities. The young ladies will be absent at least all summer and probably longer.

Harry Gilpin today sold two car loads of beef cattle to the Union Meat Company at 4 1/2 cents a pound gross. Speaking of Harry reminds us that Mrs. Gilpin presented him with a fine young daughter the other day, so that putting these two events together it does look as though McKinley prosperity has struck the Gilpin family sure enough.

From H. D. Parkins we learn that the entertainment given at the Endersey school house last night by Miss Mabel Riddell's pupils was a very gratifying success. The house was packed to the door. The basket sale exceeded all expectations, the baskets bringing all the way from 75 cents to $1.90 each. The net result was that the full amount needed to pay what was owing on the school organ, namely $32.80, was raised and the debt wiped out.

A whole churchful of people were delightfully entertained for an hour and a half last evening at the M. E. church by Rev. Dr. H. W. Kellogg in his lecture on a trip through Europe, illustrated by stereopticon views. The lecture was simply a pleasant, fireside chat, explanatory of the scenes shown on the canvas, which helped to make them intelligent, and in many instances very real to the beholders. While all of the pictures were well worth seeing some of them were amazingly beautiful and such as one would have liked to linger over very much longer than the doctor's time permitted.

Now that the council has given orders to the poundmaster not to enforce the cow ordinance on the bluff west of Union street let them, in fairness to all, extend the non-enforcement order to all the bluff region, to that east as well as to the west of Union street. As a matter of fact the cow is a very important factor in the household economy of many a poor man and those who have no cows might well bear a little inconvenience once in a while for the sake of those to whom the cow is a household necessity. Regulations that are strictly proper below the bluff do not always apply to the conditions that exist on the bluff and it is surely so in this case.

"Nathan Hale", Clyde Fitch's powerful Revolutionary play will be presented at the Vogt tonight. The entire production, including its massive scenery and gorgeous costumes, will be shown exactly as it was seen during its extended run at the Knickerbocker Theater, New York. The title role will be in the capable hands of Mr. Howard Kyle, who is well known through his association with Modjeska and other Shakespearean stars. His sweetheart in the play, Alice Adams, will be enacted by Miss Jessie Izett, whose beauty and ability have won for her a pre-eminent place among our leading ladies. The supporting company is more than adequate.

John Cooper, a farmer of Dry Hollow, while delivering farm produce this morning to parties living in the neighborhood of the St. Mary's Academy, had his right leg broken and left arm bruised and cut to the bone, through his team getting frightened at the steam saw and running away, causing the upsetting of the wagon and the bed to fall on him with its full weight. The unfortunate man, who is 78 years of age, when taken from under the wagon was conveyed to a house near by where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Geisen-dorffer. Besides the broken leg and the bruised and cut arm the old man was injured internally but not, in the doctor's judgment, seriously.

Parsing the Word Kiss.

The word kiss may be parsed as follows: Kiss is a conjunction, because it connects. It is a verb because it signifies to act and to be acted upon. It is a preposition because it shows that the person kissed is no relation. It is an interjection (at least it sounds like one), and is a pronoun because "she" stands for a noun. It is also a noun, because it is the name of the oscillatory action—both common and proper—second person necessarily. It is plural number because there is always more than one. In gender it is masculine and feminine mixed. Frequently the case is governed by circumstances and light, according to rule one: "If he smite thee on one cheek, turn the other also." It should always begin with a capital letter, be oft repeated, continued as long as possible, and ended with a period. Kiss might be conjugated, but ought never to be declined.

Regular Monthly Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held last night in the council chambers. Residents of the bluff west of Union street petitioned the council not to enforce the cow ordinance in that district, and on motion of Councilman Liebe, the prayer of the petition was granted and the marshal was instructed not to molest cows belonging to persons residing in the district mentioned unless the animals should be found in other districts of the city where the ordinance is in force.

Councilman Schackelford presented a resolution instructing the recorder to notify the Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company that on and after the date of the notice the city will require the company to pay a rental of one dollar per month for the use of the grounds used by them for wharfage and warehouse purposes. After some discussion the resolution passed. Councilman Schackelford's resolution was introduced by him to protect, as he conceives, the rights of the city in the matter of the tenure by which the D. P. & A. N. Co., hold the land leased to them by the city by an ordinance approved by Mayor Menefee, June 17, 1895. Councilman Schackelford holds that the boat company has a secret arrangement with the railway company, which prevents competition and nullifies the lease. The clause of the ordinance-lease which the councilman relies on to justify his position, is Section 4, which provides that the grants made and provided for in the ordinance are made and provided upon the express condition that the D. P. & A. N. Co. shall use the grounds granted them in operating an independent line of transportation in competition with the O. R. & N. Co., and if at any time the D. P. & A. N. Co., shall become the property of or pass into the control of any person, company or corporation operating said road, then all property and rights granted in the ordinance shall immediately revert to The Dalles. The marshal was ordered to strictly enforce the ordinance prohibiting the bicycles on all sidewalks of the city.

Councilman Liebe introduced an ordinance amending the ordinance providing for a license on dogs, and reducing the license fee from $1.50 on male dogs to $1; and on females from $3 to $2. The ordinance was passed.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size, Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.
