MRS. MCKINLEY ILL

Taken to San Francisco to Obtain Rest—Condition Is Not Alarming—If Improvement Is Not as Rapid as Hoped For, Programme For Remainder of Tour May Be Curtailed.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The sudden illness of Mrs. McKinley has caused an unexpected change in the itinerary of President McKinley. He arrived in this city quietly this afternoon several hours ahead of the time set. The state of Mrs. McKinley's health was such this morning that the president decided to leave Del Monte and bring his wife to the home of Henry T. Scott, of this city, where she could have complete rest for a few days, and where a specialist could be consulted if necessary. A special of two cars and a locomotive was made up from the president's special, and at 12:30 the President, Mrs. McKinley, Miss Barber, the president's niece, Secretary Cortelyou and wife, Dr. Rixey and H. T. Scott and wife left Del Monte for San Francisco, leaving the remainder of the presidential party at Del Monte.

Only a few hundred people greeted the president upon his arrival in this city. His coming was not generally known, and only those who chanced to see the bulletins posted by the newspapers announcing that the president would reach the city at 4 p. m., awaited his train. The president, in order to avoid the crowd that was expected to assemble at the Southern Pacific depot at Third and Townsend streets, left the train with his little party at Valencia street, a station in the southern part of the city. When the train, consisting of a baggage car and the president's special coach, stopped at Valencia street, Mrs. McKinley was carried in a steamer chair by two colored porters from the private car to a closed carriage in waiting. She was heavily veiled, and the President and Dr. Rixey followed close behind. Mrs. McKinley was gently placed in the carriage and the President and Dr. Rixey took seats in the same vehicle. The president was quite pale and looked serious. The rest of the party followed in carriages.

A DAY IN HOOD RIVER VALLEY.

The Teachers and Their Friends Spend a Day Most Delightfully.

It is to be regretted that so few took advantage of the delightful excursion planned by County School Superintendent Gilbert for the teachers and their friends on Saturday.

Starting on the D. P. & A. N. boat at 7 a. m., the party who went arrived at Hood River landing at 9, where were found waiting conveyances for a large-sized excursion party. Expand as we would, we could only fill two of the commodious vehicles provided, and we started gaily off for an eighteen-mile drive over hill and dale, along the east side of beautiful Hood River. Along our route for miles stretched a smiling country, covered with beautifully-tilled fields and blooming fruit trees, with many a promise for the future of crisp and juicy apples, for which this section is so well known, our agreeable host pointing out every spot of interest or note, among them the site for the Hood River Electric Light Co.'s new plant, which is to vie with liberty in lighting the world, and put the wheels in motion for many a factory and mill along the banks of that rushing, turbulent stream.

Our first stop was made at Pine Ridge schoolhouse, where we met a royal welcome from the teachers and pupils and their friends. The school term having ended the day previous, the closing exercises had been postponed for our entertainment, and a most enjoyable little program was rendered by the pupils, after a hearty word of welcome had been given us by Mr. Turner, who for nearly forty years has resided in the district. This was responded to by Prof. Landess in his happiest vein and followed by several short and pithy little talks by various others and the national anthem by the whole assembly, and finally all were invited to partake of ice cream, cake and lemonade under the pine trees' shade, and a delightful surprise it proved to us all. The grand finale was a rousing cheer for Prof. Gilbert, and that followed by one for Pine Ridge school. There the pretty school building stands, flanked on either side by two grand snow mountains and facing Point Defiance, grim with pine trees and flecked with glittering snow banks, the rich dark green and glistening snow standing out in the sharp contrast nature loves so well.

At 12:30 we took our seats again for the drive, each one of us carrying away a souvenir of rich, velvety pansies and daisies, which were prepared for us in profusion. Prof. Thomson, our Hood River Jehu, took the lines, snapped the whip, and we bowled off again to feast our eyes on all the beauty spread on our right and on our left, passing many attractive homes and a schoolhouse, then crossing Hood river at Tucker's mill and coming up on to the strawberry plateau between the Columbia and the mountains. The day was perfect as a "day in June," and nothing was lacking to make the trip delightful.

It seems the Hood River farmer raises alfalfa the first year for hay—mows his crop and markets it at $20 per ton—sends the roots on through to China and turns over the soil again on his own side for strawberry fields planted in the fall. By spring these plants are doing their utmost to out-do the alfalfa crop, and they bring in about $1000 to the acre if well managed. They are not shipped by the box, nor by the crate, but literally by the ton. The strawberry plant is ubiquitous, but it is on its native heath, for one of our party told of wild strawberries in 1870 growing in profusion as large as the thumb and a yield of about thirty gallons, on a space the size of her parlors, and at one picking. There were no fish stories told that day.

Arriving at Crapper's school house the party indulged in lunch and hilarity for an hour or so, the levity being much enhanced by the addition to the party of Mr. Truman Butler and his genial wife, who were glad of an opportunity to meet some of their old Dalles friends and neighbors and drove out from town to do so. From this point we turned our faces riverward, passing miles of irrigating canals and hundreds (I think) of pretty little farms, cozy and well kept, blooming in the sunshine.

Returning through the shady streets of the village we again crossed Hood river on the bridge near its mouth and made our way to the steamboat landing, the Hood River delegation continuing to wish us God speed. The charming day was ending as we approached The Dalles dock on the "Dalles City," whose officers lent their aid in making the return trip delightful. Our only regret was that so many of the teachers were obliged to miss so much pleasure and recreation.

Question Answered.
Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion and biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's prize almanac. Clarke & Falk's. 1
