WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

New shipment of Strausky enameled ware just received by Mays & Crowe.

The Court street sewer has burst again, this time in the neighborhood of Fifth street.

Jay Bird bicycles at $13.50, and Penant bicycles, brand new while they last, at $14.50. Maier & Benton. It is better to laugh than to cry, is the thought uppermost in the minds of the Character concert committee as they are preparing their program.

Dad Butts has sold the W. R. Barrett place at the east end of Fourth street, now occupied by the family of B. H. Grant, to F. H. Wakefield for $1000.

Moore & Gavin today filed in the circuit court a petition for a writ of review in the case of the State against J. Brown, who was recently sentenced to a fine of $40 in the court of Recorder Ned Gates.

Hot waffles, with maple syrup and coffee, will be served in the parlors of the Methodist church this evening from 5:30 to 9 o'clock. The members of the church solicit the patronage of their friends. Waffles and coffee 20 cents.

The Arlington Record says: "Smythe & Son have sold their wool to J. M. Russell & Co., of The Dalles Scouring Mills. They had 259 sacks, weighing about 80,000 pounds. The price obtained, as we are informed, was 9½ cents per pound."

At the regular Saturday night drawing, at M. T. Nolan's grocery and book store, Charles Koehler, of Dufur, held the coupon entitling him to the magazine subscription, and Bill Charley, a Tumwater Indian, held the one entitling him to the picture.

The steamer Bailey Gatzert will begin its regular run tomorrow (Tuesday) and will arrive at The Dalles in the early afternoon and leave for Portland at 5 o'clock. This steamer came through the locks Saturday and returned to Portland in three hours and twenty minutes.

Two young fellows from the country were arrested yesterday for fast riding on Second street at a time when it was thronged with the Portland excursionists. The lads were turned loose after a time and were warned that they must not repeat the offense.

The Blue Mountain Eagle is responsible for the following: "Emmet Cochran, a sheepman of Monument, reports a ewe from his band having given birth to five lambs, all of which are doing fine. A band of this class of ewes and a hundred per cent increase should be easily made."

The Arlington Independent says: "Chas. McAllister has within the past week purchased over 8000 yearling wethers at prices ranging from $1.60 to $2. The buying was done around Antelope, Shaniko and other points outside this county; mostly, however, in Gilliam and Klickitat counties."

Yesterday's baseball game resulted in a victory for the Dalles boys by a score of 17 to 7. There was a good attendance, the greater number of the on-lookers being from the ranks of the Portland excursionists. It was a well-fought contest, and our boys were on all sides given the credit of having put up a good game.

L. C. Hendricksen, the well-known Portland jeweler, came up yesterday on the excursion train, accompanied by his nephew, L. Wilson, and together with H. D. Parkins, of this city, drove up the river several miles to get a desirable photographic view of Mount Hood. Unfortunately a cloud covered the mountain and the picture was not obtained.

Those who imagine that the apricots have all been killed in this section should see an apricot twig that was handed THE CHRONICLE Saturday by Emile Schanno, who had just plucked it from a tree in Charles Frazer's orchard, in Thompson's Addition. The twig is only eight inches in length, but it has on it no less than thirty-four apricots, each about the size of a pigeon's egg.

P. Willig, the tailor, was severely cut in the face yesterday through jumping off one of the excursion trains while it was passing the Umatilla House. Mr. Willig had got on the train at the depot, supposing it would stop, as all passenger trains do, at the Umatilla House. He only discovered his mistake when the train had attained a somewhat rapid pace. When he jumped he fell forward and his face struck the hard ground with considerable violence.

Seventeen of the Portland excursionists were locked up in the city calaboose for several hours yesterday to keep them out of mischief till the hour of the departure of the first excursion train for home, when the police officers escorted them to the depot and saw them safely loaded on the cars. They were all boys of from 16 to 20 years of age, and at the time of their arrest were as drunk as lords. Another young fellow, who in a state of drunken hilarity had clambered on the top of a passenger car as the train started from the station, rolled off on Second street at a time when it was thronged with the Portland excursionists. The lads were turned loose after a worse for his fall, and loaded on the next train.

An interesting report of the school teachers' excursion of Saturday will be found on the first page.

The races to be held under the auspices of The Dalles Driving Association on Thursday of this week, are purely for sport, no purses or prizes being offered, and as keen rivalry has been excited, rare amusement may be looked for. The aim of the association is to furnish clean and wholesome sport without the evils generally attendant upon such occasions, and the personnel of the association is sufficient guarantee of their undertaking. The ladies of The Dalles are particularly requested to be present, thereby assisting the association in their endeavor to furnish a refined entertainment.

Police in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—An extensive resume of the organization and varied conditions of the Philippine native police force is contained in a statement made public today by the division of insular affairs of the war department. The report recites that because of the poverty of the municipalities, the Philippine commission appropriated $150,000 to provide increased pay for the body and offered through General MacArthur further incentive in the way of increased compensation for cases of meritorious and faithful service. Late reports received at the war department indicate that an efficient and local force of native police has now been organized, with prospects of further extension and increased ability. The total force now numbers 6349 officers and men, a great many of whom are on the "meritorious list," and receive additional pay. The body at present is concentrated principally in northern Luzon, although the Visayas, Mindanao, Jolo and southern Luzon have police forces of considerable strength. In many of the towns the men are fully uniformed.

Wind Caused a Wreck.

SEATTLE, May 11.—A special from Nanaimo, B. C., to the Times says:

Capt. John Irving with four of the crew of the steamer Princess Louise arrived here this afternoon after a 20 mile row across the Gulf of Thornmanby from the island just south of Texado, where the Louise went on a reef last night and now lies fast. The captain and his four men were nearly dead from exposure and cold.

The Louise left Vancouver at 6:30 last night for northern British ports with twenty-five passengers and a large quantity of freight. The forward lookout, as the steamer was passing Thornmanby island, sung out, "Rocks ahead!" The engines were reversed but the steamer struck at almost full speed, smashing her forefoot and sticking fast. The wind had blown the steamer out of her course.
