WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

A girl wanted. Inquire at the European House. m14-4t

A fresh consignment of delicious crawfish is now on tap at the Owl. J. Falt & Co., proprietors. m16-1f.

Wanted—A woman to do plain sewing. About three months' work on hand. Apply at this office. m14-1wk

Parties wanting to lay in their cordwood for the winter will do well to see us before buying. Maier & Benton. 3t

Buy Bird bicycles at $13.50, and Pen-nant bicycles, brand new while they last, at $14.50. Maier & Benton. 13 3t

Only eight counties have paid their state tax in full up to this time, two of the eight being Wasco and Sherman.

Miss Louise Rintoul will teach a summer school near Baker City on the completion of the public school term here.

The first sale of wool at Shaniko for the season took place Tuesday when a San Francisco buyer paid eleven cents a pound for a clip.

Twenty-seven hundredths of an inch of rain fell here since last night, and we could stand twenty-seven times as much without growling.

Don't overlook the special sale at Pease & Mays' on Saturday. Ladies' shopping bags retailed at 50, 75 and $1. will be sold for 25 cents, a rare bargain.

Wanted—Ten homesteaders at once. The last chance to get good timber claims near the Columbia river. Address H. W. L., care of the Chronicle office. m15-2t

A number of horsemen from outside points, as far off as Pendleton, were here this morning to attend the speed matinee. Like the rest of us, they are pleased, always, to give way to a good shower of rain.

C. J. Danty was arrested last night by Officer Champlin and lodged in the calaboose till this morning, when he was arraigned before Recorder Gates on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $5.

The river this morning stood at 27.8 feet, a rise of one foot and seven inches in twenty-four hours. The Daily River Bulletin predicts that the river will probably reach 31 feet Friday; but it is safe to say it won't.

Brent and Frank Driver recently sold their flouring mill at Tygh Valley to a man named Taylor, from Woodburn. Mr. Taylor went out from here today to his newly acquired property, in company with Bruce and Percy Driver of Wamic.

It is very gratifying to learn that The Dalles hospital is now half filled with patients and, judging from the number of letters of inquiry that are coming to Dr. Ferguson, there is every prospect that it will be filled to its fullest capacity before many weeks.

The "benefit of clergy" was a legal custom which allowed priests to withdraw their cases from a secular to an ecclesiastical court. The evidence of being a clergyman was an ability to read. If a man could read only a single verse he was entitled to the benefit of clergy.

The Dalles district Epworth league annual convention will be held this year on June 7-9, at Goldendale, Washington. The district embodies all the Epworth leagues in Kittitas, Yakima and Klickitat counties, Washington, and those of Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties, Oregon.

Another comical number on the Character concert program for next Tuesday night will be the Irish recitation in costume by a "Mick" who makes his first appearance on a Dalles stage that evening. Rehearsals for the "skule" and for the sketch "Per Telephone" take place each evening.

The owners of the Bailey Gatzert have hired a force of men who will go to work in the morning, if the weather is favorable, to build an office and freight house on the scow used as a landing. The building will be 24x44. Work would have commenced this morning but for the break in the weather.

The new wooden pipe to be used as water mains on the bluff arrived yesterday from Olympia and will be put down at once, as all the trenches have been dug. The iron main to be used on the Second street extension, from Taylor street to the new flouring mill, has not yet arrived but is on the way from the foundry in Alabama.

Mr. Carnaby, of the American market, says the first man to bring strawberries to The Dalles market this year was John Bunn, whose place is near the old garrison property. Mr. Bunn brought in nine boxes which he sold to the American market, which retailed them at 30 and 35 cents a box. This was on the 3d of May. On the following day Alex Anderson brought in one box.

Among the additions to our school laws enacted by the last legislature is a section that provides that "no dancing shall be permitted in any schoolroom; nor shall any furniture which is fastened to the floor be removed; and whoever removes any school furniture for any other purpose than repairing shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $10 for each offense."

The rain during the early morning justified the postponement of the speed matinee, notwithstanding that the sky cleared up somewhat before 2 o'clock. The long grass bordering on the race track, wet with rain, would have made it very unpleasant, especially for lady spectators, who were expected to be present in large force. Let us hope for more favorable circumstances a week from now.

D. Ellis Caldwell, doctor of medical psychology, has secured rooms 10-11, Chapman block, and makes this unparalleled offer: "I will give free treatments to all sufferers, until further notice. A few of the many diseases I treat and cure—lung, asthma, kidney and liver, rheumatism, stomach and blood disorders and all female trouble. Exception: A charge will be made for the treatment of stammering and for private calls." Office hours—9 to 12; 1 to 4. m15-16

It is thought to be a rather remarkable coincidence that the only rain we have had for many weeks should come on the day appointed for the driving matinee by The Dalles Gentlemen's Driving Association. If these gentlemen can make a perpetual contract with Mr. Jupiter Pluvius to have a good soaking rain every time they make an appointment for a speed contest, the people will accept the disappointments without a kick, provided always that the contract does not run during a month or two in harvest.

It is reported that the late Sam Brennan, who died two weeks ago and was the first inmate of the new I. O. O. F. cemetery, was buried with his feet to the west. The transposed position of the remains is attributed to Grand Master Welch, who assisted in the burial and dedication ceremonies, and who, it is whispered, made the mistake purposely in order that Sam, when he heard Gabriel's horn, would arise and go towards Astoria. As everyone would be traveling in the opposite direction, this would make Astoria a one-man town in the next world the same as it is in this. —Fossil Journal.

The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company have just issued a very attractive little twelve-page pamphlet, entitled "Crags, Cascades and Cloud-Capped Hills of the Columbia," descriptive, as its name would imply, of the ever-varying panorama that meets the eyes of a passenger on board one of the company's steamers from the moment the boat leaves the harbor of Portland till she touches her wharf at The Dalles. The pamphlet is generously illustrated with half-tone pictures by Gifford, opening with a magnificent view of the port of Portland and closing with a surpassingly beautiful picture of The Dalles, with Mount Hood in The background. The body of the pamphlet contains a well-written description of the points of interest to the tourist and traveler. The work is mechanically perfect and does credit to the Chronicle office that produced it. Copies of the pamphlet will be sent free to any address on application to W. C. Alloway, general agent, The Dalles.

It was quite a disappointment that the rain stopped the matinee this afternoon and the affair had to be postponed till the same hour this day week. The disappointment, however, has not ruffled our equanimity for if we had been compelled to choose between the rain and the matinee we should have chosen rain every time. Rain is always welcome here in May, and we never can have too much of it. But just at this particular time it is more than welcome for the ranchers within ten miles or less of the Columbia river were complaining, some of them, at least, that this is one of the driest Mays they have known for many a year.

Chatham Island, lying off the coast of New Zealand, is peculiarly situated, as it is one of the habitable parts of the globe where the day of the week changes. It is just in line of demarcation between dates. There at high 12 Sunday, noon ceases and instantly Monday meridian begins. Sunday comes in a man's house on the east side and becomes Monday by the time it passes out the western door. A man sits down to his noon day dinner on Sunday, and it is Monday noon before he finishes it. There Saturday is Sunday and Sunday is Monday, and Monday becomes suddenly transferred to Tuesday. It is a good place for people who have lost much time, for by taking an early start they can always get a day ahead on Chatham Island.

The Chicago Record-Herald asserts that in the opinion of all engineers a sea level canal across the isthmus of Panama is the most desirable, although it would be the most expensive. The greatest objection to it is the length of time required for its construction, which is estimated at twenty years. It is believed that with the work already done a canal with locks across Panama could be completed in six or seven years. Ten years is the time fixed for the Nicaragua route. The reason that the sea level canal at Panama would take so long a time is that the space is limited and it would be possible to work only a small number of men and excavators. The heavy digging is all at the water sheds, within the limits of a few miles.

The Bailey Gatzert steamed up to her wharf near the Umatilla House Tuesday on her first trip to this city in fine style. All who went aboard were unanimous in the decision that she is a fine boat. She returned to Portland, leaving here at 4:20 o'clock p. m., arriving in Portland at 10:30. She brought a good many round-trip passengers as well as through passengers. The schedule for leaving The Dalles is 4 p. m. every day except Mondays. There were a great number of our citizens at the landing to see the new steamer arrive and leave. Wednesday she arrived at her dock here at 3:30 p. m. and left promptly at 4 p. m., passing from the locks at 6:30, making the trip down in two hours and a half.

"Rainbow" Party.

One of the pleasant parties of the season was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. T. Baldwin at her palatial home on Fourth street, in this city.

"Rainbow" was chosen, from which the ladies were to form words, Mesdames E. C. Pease and E. L. Lueddemann winning the first and second prizes, respectively, being in the first instance a solid silver souvenir spoon, and the last an engraving.

The mental task ended, the guests were asked to partake of a splendid luncheon of sandwiches, ice cream, cake, etc., one of the novelties being a small bouquet at each place, snugly placed in an imitation flower pot, which proved to be delicious orange gelatine, covered with chocolate, in which the flower stem was concealed.

The decorations were very beautiful, and were of the rainbow.

Mrs. Baldwin was assisted by Mesdames Douthit, Moody and Bettington and Misses Rosemary Baldwin and Mary McInerney.

Those present were: Mesdames Mar-killie, Douthit, Kuck, H. French, Van Norden, Mac Allister, Johnston, Wood, Schenck, Sheldon, Hostetter, C. E. Dawson, J. W. Dawson, Filloon, Bennett Tolmie, F. Christian, Gleason, E. French, D. M. French, Otis Patterson, Moody, Logan, Houghton, Crowe, J. Weigel, H. S. Wilson, Phillips S. Bolton, Morris, McCoy, Geisendorfer, Fordyce, J. Bonn, E. M. Williams, Bettington, Pease, Lueddemann, and Miss Mary McInerney.

Don't expect a "cheap" enameled utensil to last long. It doesn't. Don't think such a one can be kept clean. It can't. Don't believe the "cheap" enamel isn't steadily crumbling away. It is. Don't imagine in using such you're not eating the enamel. You are. Don't figure you are saving money buying the cheapest. You're not. Don't forget the "cheap" has but one coating of enamel. Just one. Don't fail to recollect that imported Stransky steel-ware lasts for years. Don't buy that kind if health and economy are of no consequence. Don't try to get the genuine elsewhere, for it's sold exclusively by m16 1f MAYS & CROWE.
