THE CHRONICLE besieged the Western Union all this afternoon for a press dispatch giving the condition of Mrs. McKinley, but without avail. There is no apparent foundation for the rumor that she died this morning.

Continental Union, No. 76, Order of Washington, will entertain its members and initiates with an ice cream social tomorrow (Saturday) evening, May 18th, at its hall in the postoffice building. All members of the order are cordially invited.

Will Cross, who was severely injured last Monday in one of his legs through the fall of his pony, is now resting easy, although he suffered a great deal of pain for a couple of days. The injured member was not broken, but the pain was probably as great as if it had.

The editor of the Goldendale Sentinel

pate himself on the head in this fashion: "The Sentinel family believes in expansion. The editor's wife, Thursday, presented him with twin daughters. As a result the paper will be enlarged in the near future and thus accommodate our growing advertising patronage. Delinquent subscribers are kindly requested to help along in the cause by paying up, and a year in advance."

Either the laugh you will have over the deestrick skule exercises at the Charter concert Tuesday night, or the sketch "Per Telephone" will be worth the price of admission, 35 cents, to say nothing of the other excellent numbers on the program. Plan to attend.

There has already been delivered on the ground 150,000 feet of lumber for the new flouring mill building. The silos and heavy timbers arrived last night and were unloaded today. Tomorrow morning a full force of carpenters will be put to work at the construction.

The auction sale of forty head of horses by Jeff Dripps commenced this afternoon at Ward & Robertson's stables. At 3 o'clock a few had changed hands at very moderate prices. The sale will be continued tomorrow, commencing at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. If you want anything in the horse line here is your chance to get it at a bargain.

C. W. Diekmann, of Portland, formerly of Demos Springs, brought up on the Gatzert last night the Hambletonian stallion, "Rustler" which he will take to Moro for the season. The horse was visited today at the Ward & Robertson stables by a number of horsemen, who pronounced him one of the finest animals of his class ever seen here. Rustler was sired by Rustic, record 2:30, he by Whippler Hambletonian; dam Kittie L, by Geo. M. Patchen, junr, record 2:17.

Wednesday evening Judge Bradshaw sentenced D. L. Bruner, the Crook county murderer of Thomas Kelly, to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. The Prineville Journal says Bruner took the verdict of the jury very coolly, in fact all through the trial he conducted himself more like a schoolboy who expected a chastisement for some minor offense than a man whose life was at stake. Bruner has the appearance of a boy of 20 years of age. He is married and his girl wife was present at the trial.

There is a very curious piece of stone at the jewelry store of J. E. Adcox & Co. It is neatly dressed off in the form of a whetstone, which it really is, and measures twelve inches in length. It looks like a piece of sandstone, but differs from the true sandstone in having thin lateral layers of a darker substance. The peculiarity of the stone consists in the fact that it is flexible. You can bend it more easily than you could a piece of soft wood of the same thickness, and it is capable of being stretched to the extent of a quarter of an inch to the foot. The moment the force that bends or stretches it is removed the stone flies back to its normal condition. The stone is a present to Mr. Adcox from an old friend in South Carolina. It was taken from a quarry in that state, the only one of the kind known. In South Carolina it is known as limber stone.

Mr. Dufur for U. S. Marshal.

The Dufur Dispatch has this to say of its neighbor and friend, Hon. W. H. H. Dufur:

W. H. H. Dufur is spoken of as next United States marshal. We sincerely hope he may land the prize, for Harrison is deserving of it.—Shaniko Leader. And so do we hope "Harrison may land the prize," for he is certainly deserving of it, and it would be an honor to our town and also to the republican party of this county and the state at large in appointing him to this position when the vacancy occurs. Harrison has faithfully discharged the duties of the little position of forest supervisor satisfactorily to every one concerned, even exceeding the expectations of his friends and receiving compliments, and many of them, from the press of the state. Then, if he has done better than his friends could expect in the discharge of his reserve duties, why should he not receive a higher and more suitable position? We think he should, and join hands with the Leader in saying "Harrison is deserving of it."

Philosophical Reflections.

A Dalles man, who is some thing of a philosopher in a small way, hands in the following:

At a certain livery stable on Second street there is a dog chained to a trunk, evidently for the purpose of keeping one from running away with the other. But which? Now, if said canine carries off the trunk he may be mistaken for a thief, and necessarily be hauled over the coals for his misdemeanor; but if the trunk carries off the dog it may be considered a good riddance of bad rubbish. If the trunk be intended as a custodian of said quadruped, to keep him out of mischief and prevent his following the natural bent of his inclinations, and his nose at the same time, while looking after other people's business, then said trunk may be considered a suitable servitor of the city's welfare and entitled to the respect and good wishes of all lovers of peace and harmony throughout the community.

Again, if said canine has nothing more to do than to guard trunks, it might be well to hitch him to another trunk, not far distant, representing a well-known dry goods house for advertising purposes. Success to the faithful guardian of our city's welfare, and a warning to all other dogs not to get into trouble and suffer likewise for their good or bad behavior.

Metaphysic—If I say "I lie," I speak the truth; but if I say "I speak the truth," I lie. Do I lie, or speak the truth?

Don't.

Don't expect a "cheap" enameled utensil to last long. It doesn't.

Don't think such a one can be kept clean. It can't.

Don't believe the "cheap" enamel isn't steadily crumbling away. It is.

Don't imagine in using such you're not eating the enamel. You are.

Don't figure you are saving money buying the cheapest. You're not.

Don't forget the "cheap" has but one coating of enamel. Just one.

Don't fail to recollect that imported Stransky steel-ware lasts for years.

Don't buy that kind if health and economy are of no consequence.

Don't try to get the genuine elsewhere, for it's sold exclusively by Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion and biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's prize almanac. Clarke & Falk's.

If the people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or waterbrash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

If anything ails your hair, go and see Frazer; he's the headquarters for all hair remedies. Remember that he makes a specialty of these goods. tf
