TREASURER'S NOTICE.

All Wasco County warrants registered prior to September 1, 1897, will be paid on presentation at my office. Interest ceases after November 29, 1900. JOHN F. HAMPSHIRE, County Treasurer.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Who lost a briar root pipe with amber mouth-piece? There is a found one at this office.

Another new shipment of Manhattan shirts has just been received by A. M. Williams & Co.

A band rehearsal will be held at the club rooms Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock sharp.

Commencing tomorrow A. M. Williams & Co. will place on sale a line of fine muslin underwear at wholesale prices.

Knights of Pythias are requested to be in attendance at the meeting tonight, as matters of importance will receive attention.

The ladies will serve ice cream and cake after the Character concert Tuesday evening at the Baldwin. Cream and cake 15 cents.

Little Zedediah Ezekiah Honeysuckle will speak his first piece at the Baldwin tomorrow night, as will also several others quite as amusing.

Who knows what the "M. W. R. Co." is? There is a letter at the postoffice so addressed, but nobody in the office knows what "M. W. R." means.

Domestic strawberries were selling today at 20 and 25 cents a box. Before the week is out they will be down to 15 cents, and, possibly, two for a quarter.

The cook at the California Chop House Saturday night fell off the merry-go-round and sustained injuries to his right arm that have since laid him up for repairs.

Ernest Brackett, who hails from Mitchell, was arrested last night for creating a disturbance at the Umatilla House while in his cups. Recorder Gates fined him $5 this morning, which he paid.

It is said that a certain Dalles young man proposed to his best girl (as he supposed) over the telephone and got the wrong girl. If you want to know how he got out of the difficulty, go to the Baldwin tomorrow night.

Complaint is made that somebody has been indulging in the unlawful and brutal pastime of shooting robins with in the city limits. If the guilty party is caught he will be—as he ought to be—made an example of.

A large crowd of citizens met the Bailey Gatzert yesterday afternoon as she arrived here from Portland with an estimated passenger list of eighty to one hundred persons. The Sunday boat is dead certain to become popular, especially during the summer months.

In anticipation of the locks being closed for a short time to navigation because of high water, a thing which at this time seems very certain, the White Collar line will today, so it is said, send up the steamer Tahoma to rub between The Dalles and the locks till the Bailey Gatzert is able to resume her through trips.

The river at this point this morning stood at 32.9, a rise of eight-tenths in twenty-four hours. It is probable that the late cool spell may check any further rise after tomorrow, but if not the locks will soon be closed to navigation, as boats have never yet passed through the locks when the water was more than seven-tenths of an inch higher than it was this morning.

Goldendale is again a dry town. The new council has repealed the license ordinance and both saloons have closed, the one that held a license paid up to next November having concluded to accept the rebate for the unexpired term and submit to the inevitable. It is rumored, however, the owner intends in a few days to re-open the place as a "club," whatever that may mean.

According to an order recently issued by the Board of Fire Delegates there will be a department drill next Wednesday night at 7 o'clock, sharp. The board makes a request that the business men of the city excuse all firemen in their employ at 6:30 p. m., so that the firemen may be able to be promptly on hand. As this is a matter of vast importance to the property owners of the city, the wish of the board has only to be expressed to meet with general compliance.

The following occurrence is so unusual that it deserves special mention: Last week, says the Milton Eagle, through the bank of Milton, Thomas Spence received $735, the same being for money invested a few years ago in West Astoria town lots. Mr. Boly, the man who sold Mr. Spence the lots, guaranteed the return of the money in two years with ten per cent added for interest if the investment did not prove satisfactory. Mr. Spence failed to realize the golden returns expected and the cash was returned promptly and cheerfully on demand as stipulated, and everybody is happy.

The mutilated remains of a man were found last Tuesday in the Columbia river, a short distance below Stevenson. The head was all gone except the back part of the skull, and that bore evidence of having been crushed by a blow of a heavy instrument. The feet had been burned off at the ankle joints and the arms at the elbows, while the trunk was perfectly nude, not even a hair being left to indicate the man's complexion. Every possible clue for identification had been destroyed by fire or by mutilation. A coroner's jury brought in a verdict in accordance with the above facts, finding the man came to his death by foul play by parties unknown.

This morning the delivery cart of the Columbia Packing Company turned a corner too short in the neighborhood of Fifth and Union, upset the cart and threw the driver to the ground. In some mysterious way both wheels parted company with the box of the cart, and the horse instinctively made for his stand in front of the market, but rushed past and, with the box trailing after him, made a dash for the blacksmith shop, a short distance east, where he was easily caught. A Chinaman's vegetable outfit that was standing at the corner of Third and Washington as the runaway meat wagon came along, got scared at the apparition of a cart without wheels and started west on a dead run, and may be still going west for anything this deponent could learn to the contrary.

The quarterly for the Oregon Historical Society No. 4, for December, 1900, has been received. This completes the first volume, which is of great historical value. The contents of this volume are as follows: "The Oregon Trail," by F. G. Young; illustrated by a map of the immigrant road from Independence and Council Bluffs to Oregon City, and numerous half tones showing different scenes along the route. This is one of the most important articles yet published, and it is the beginning of a movement which it is hoped will result in permanently marking the immigrant route from the Missouri to the Willamette rivers. "A Day with the Cow Column," by the late Jesse Applegate who came in 1843. Col. Geo. B. Currey's Tribute to the Ox Whip, Sam L. Simpson's poem, "The Campfires of the Pioneers," two poems by Joaquin Miller, "Pilgrims of the Plains," and "Pioneers of the Pacific" and a document relating to "The Oregon Emigrants, 1843," making up a table of contents by which this issue is fittingly described as "The Oregon Trail Number." Address all inquiries about the publication to Geo. Himes, assistant secretary, Oregon Historical Society rooms, city hall, Portland, Oregon.

DUE HERE TOMORROW.

Ohio Congressmen Will Pay The Dalles a Short Visit.

Fourteen members of congress from Ohio and one from Indiana, with a number of ladies and gentlemen aggregating some seventy-five persons, are expected to arrive here tomorrow noon. The majority of them came to the coast to witness the launching of the battleship Ohio, and they desire to crown the trip by a visit to the Dalles of the Columbia. While in The Dalles the distinguished visitors will be the guests of the Commercial Club. On their arrival they will partake of a luncheon at the Umatilla House, after which they will take a trip up the river as far east as Celilo. The club has appointed the following reception committees:

Wilson, Miss Anna Lang, Miss Beulah Patterson, Miss Laura Thompson, Miss Mable Mack, Miss Rose Mitchell, Miss Bessie Lang, Miss Georgia Sampson, Miss Virginia Marden, Miss Louise Ruch, Miss Bertie Glenn.

The reception will of necessity be limited to one hour, and all citizens are expected to meet the party and help to entertain them. Those that are especially appointed on the committees are required to anticipate every wish of the guests for the short time they will remain. The lady members of the committee will report to Mrs. E. M. Wilson, who will direct the pleasant features that they are expected to present. Address all inquiries to T. A. Hudson, chairman of committee on reception.

Stolen Saddles Found.

Sheriff Kelly has never let up on hunting for the two saddles and other horse gear that were stolen from Farley & Frank's saddlery establishment about a month ago, and has at last been rewarded with finding the two saddles, which formed the most valuable part of the steal. Since the theft Mr. Kelly has kept in constant communication with a number of sheriffs in the territory east of here, and was rewarded this morning by a letter from Sheriff J. D. Smith, of Columbia county, Wash., informing him that the two saddles had been found in possession of two residents of the county named respectively Guy Jones and Frank Dange, who claimed that they had purchased them from two men, who answer to the description of a couple of men who visited the Farley & Frank store the afternoon before the theft and busied themselves for a time in examining, among other things, the saddles which were stolen the preceding night. The thieves have not been located although there is a good probability that they may be. The saddles would have been expressed here forthwith, as there was no doubt of their identity, but Mr. Farley concluded that it was best that he should go up today to Dayton and assist the authorities up there in identifying the thieves. Besides the saddles, whose retail price was $85, the thieves got away with an eighteen-dollar, silver inlaid pair of bits, no traces of which has yet been found.

Don't.

- Don't expect a "cheap" enameled utensil to last long. It doesn't.
- Don't think such a one can be kept clean. It can't.
- Don't believe the "cheap" enamel isn't steadily crumbling away. It is.
- Don't imagine in using such you're not eating the enamel. You are.
- Don't figure you are saving money buying the cheapest. You're not.
- Don't forget the "cheap" has but one coating of enamel. Just one.
- Don't fail to recollect that imported Stransky steel-ware lasts for years.
- Don't buy that kind if health and economy are of no consequence.
- Don't try to get the genuine elsewhere, for it's sold exclusively by m16-tf MAYS & CROWE.
- You will not have boils if you take Clarke & Falk's sure cure for boils.
- Quality and not quantity makes DeWitt's Little Early Risers such valuable little liver pills. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.
