CONSTITUTION DOES NOT FOLLOW THE FLAG.

A special to the Record-Herald from Washington says: The decision of the supreme court of the United States is that the constitution does not follow the flag.

This decision, the most important that great tribunal has ever made, will be handed down next Monday. The decision is in favor of the government, but by a divided bench. There will be at least five individual opinions, but some of these are concurring opinions, expressing the views of the writers more fully and particularly than is done in the opinion of the majority.

The court goes back to the period in which the republic was formed, and the constitution framed, and endeavors to ascertain what was the intent of the founders of the nation.

The opinion of the majority of the court disposes of the uniform taxation clause of the constitution, which has been invoked by all the appellants in these cases, in the following manner:

"The framers of the constitution, in writing that clause, had no thought of its application to territorial possessions. No such question as is now presented had arisen in their minds. The clause 'all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States,' the court holds, was placed in the constitution as a result of the jealousies of the states which united in forming the nation. It was intended to prevent any state or combination of states securing advantage over another or others; to prevent the ports of one state gaining preference over those of another in the importation of goods.

"This rule of uniformity was made primarily for the states—united, the court holds, not for territories then possessed or afterward acquired, and the constitutional requirement is satisfied as long as all duties on imports are uniformly imposed at all ports throughout the United States. The advantage of this uniformity may be extended to territories and possessions not states and not members of the American union, but it is for congress to determine under the authority of the constitution."

The Heppner Gazette comes to us this week with the names of Fred Warnock and E. P. Michell at its mast-head. We have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Mr. Warnock, but we do know Mr. Michell to be a most worthy and exemplary young man, whose ability and industrious habits are bound to keep the Gazette up to the high standard so long maintained by its former owners, Messrs. Otis Patterson and J. W. Reddington.

If there must be another round of tariff tinkering, as the Oregonian insists, let it come, but let the tinkering be done by the friends of protection, and not by its enemies. Our past experience with democratic revision of tariffs has been too recent and too costly to allow the business interests of the country to view with complacency another revision by the same party.

FOR about thirteen years I have devoted more time to politics than to business. The result is that my business has suffered. For a time, at least, I propose to devote more time to business and less to politics, provided the other fellows will let me. During these years some features have come into practice among business men that were not considered proper or necessary at that time. Among them is the scheme of profit-sharing or giving to some lucky customers a valuable present. I propose to do something in this line myself. For each fifty cents paid to me for goods furnished I will give the customer a numbered coupon. On each Saturday at 9 p. m. I will give away two presents—one, a year's subscription to any $1 periodical desired, and the other, one copy of some of the famous pictures neatly framed, the customer can also make a choice of these as there are a number to be given away before supply is exhausted. In addition, every month I will give several valuable presents. On June 5th the presents will be a fine Bible, a Webster's International Dictionary, one year's subscription to a $1 periodical and one Boys' Baseball Set. The presents to be given away on July 5th will be announced later. I hope to confine myself in these presents to articles in my own line so that I will not interfere with sale of goods in other lines. In addition I will give a dividend each month to the person who has purchased the most goods from me. On June 5th this will be $5.00. You do not have to purchase fifty cents worth at one time to get a dividend check, as I issue certificates of sale for less amounts which can be exchanged for dividend check when they amount to fifty cents. If clerk does not give you checks or certificates when you make a purchase, ask for them. M. T. NOLAN
