THE SOCIETY GIRL.

Prof. J. Scott Clark, speaking to his class in English literature at Northwestern University said the merits of present day women in no way equalled those of women in the days of his mother and grandmother.

"The society girl is a parasite," said the professor. She lives on her father, and in return she gives him nothing. She is of no benefit to the world and there is no need of our keeping such a weight with us."

Continuing, he told of the failures which society women make as managers of a household, and said they were unable to fill the domestic requirements necessary to make the home an abode of comfort.

"They toil not, neither do they spin; yet Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these," quoted the professor, and he continued: "The young man who seeks a society girl for a wife is on the wrong track. May God help him that marries one of them, for he is tying a millstone around his neck."

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

The Pendleton East Oregonian, speaking of the visit of the Ohio congressional delegation, makes a suggestion as follows:

"Here is a program for Oregon's Senator Mitchell, Senator Simon, Congressman Moody and Congressman Tongue.

"Regard those Ohio congressmen as committee of inspection sent to inquire into the conditions existent and promised. Go after that appropriation to overcome the Celilo obstruction. Call on the Ohioans to serve as witnesses, and make them tell the other senators and congressmen what they saw out here. And then keep at it until you get what you all say you earnestly desire—the opening of the Columbia to navigation.

"You have many friends in this state who will have some trouble in harmonizing your promises with your actions, unless some such program be carried out."

The habit of fussing at the editorial page of the Oregonian has become so chronic with the Chronicle, of The Dalles, that one becomes inclined to "pass it up." But when Brother Gourlay vented his Gaelic ire at the big daily's unjust personal criticism of President McKinley for bringing his ailing wife on a tour of "official visitation," this rag, for one, joins him in the sentiment.—Harney News.

Prominent citizens of Walla Walla favor an organized effort to secure a visit to that city of the members of the congressional committee on rivers and harbors, who are coming to the coast about the last of June. The intention is to have the committee brought from Portland to Walla Walla by way of the Columbia river so as to give them an ocular demonstration of the necessity of an open river.

The Journal man of Eugene says: "Nine editors out of ten fail to practice what they preach. Some newspapers in Oregon just now are very active in advocating the enforcement of gambling laws and suppressing all gambling games. When these 'moral advocates' quit playing 'twenty-one' themselves, it will be time to enforce the gambling laws."

Democratic and republican free-trade doctrinaire papers, like the Oregonian, are trying to stir up a free-trade row among the republicans in the next congress. They would rather devote their energy to "tariff reform" in the United States than to explaining the new British protective policy in dealing with exports of coal and imports of sugar.

The Tacoma Ledger says: "The Oregonian is making such a noble effort to atone for its boorish and brutal attack on the McKinley family that its contrition is manifest. The power of the press is still considerable. It has penetrated the Oregonian hide."

The Albany Democrat man is tickled to death because the name Albany appeared recently in a Marion county paper exactly forty times. The Democrat failed to add that the name thus numerously printed appeared in the rescript of a law suit.

When you buy a dollar's worth of home products in preference to products shipped in from somewhere else you prevent the drain of shipping a dollar out to somewhere else. It helps the town; it helps you; it's wise business.

Don't.

Don't expect a "cheap" enameled utensil to last long. It doesn't.

Don't think such a one can be kept clean. It can't.

Don't believe the "cheap" enamel isn't steadily crumbling away. It is.

Don't imagine in using such you're not eating the enamel. You are.

Don't figure you are saving money buying the cheapest. You're not.

Don't forget the "cheap" has but one coating of enamel. Just one.

Don't fail to recollect that imported Stransky steel-ware lasts for years.

Don't buy that kind if health and economy are of no consequence.

Don't try to get the genuine elsewhere, for it's sold exclusively by

FOR about thirteen years I have devoted more time to politics than to business. The result is that my business has suffered. For a time, at least, I propose to devote more time to business and less to politics, provided the other fellows will let me.

During these years some features have come into practice among business men that were not considered proper or necessary at that time. Among them is the scheme of profit-sharing or giving to some lucky customers a valuable present. I propose to do something in this line myself.

For each fifty cents paid to me for goods furnished I will give the customer a numbered coupon. On each Saturday at 9 p. m. I will give away two presents—one, a year's subscription to any $1 periodical desired, and the other, one copy of some of the famous pictures neatly framed, the customer can also make a choice of these as there are a number to be given away before supply is exhausted. In addition, every month I will give several valuable presents. On June 5th the presents will be a fine Bible, a Webster's International Dictionary, one year's subscription to a $1 periodical and one Boys' Baseball Set. The presents to be given away on July 6th will be announced later.

I hope to confine myself in these presents to articles in my own line so that I will not interfere with sale of goods in other lines. In addition I will give a dividend each month to the person who has purchased the most goods from me. On June 5th this will be $5.00. You do not have to purchase fifty cents worth at one time to get a dividend check, as I issue certificates of sale for less amounts which can be exchanged for dividend check when they amount to fifty cents. If clerk does not give you checks or certificates when you make a purchase, ask for them. M. T. NOLAN
