Mike Manning, the well-known wool buyer for Hallowell & Donald of Boston, informs THE CHRONICLE that he bought during the past week in Antelope, Shauko and surrounding country and The Dalles, in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 pounds of wool, at prices averaging about 11 cents a pound.

Mayor E. B. Dufur has received official notice of the international mining congress that convenes at Boise City, Idaho, June 23d. Under the rule of representation the mayor of each city and town is entitled to name five delegates at large. Mr. Dufur will gladly and willingly appoint any representative citizens of The Dalles who may desire to attend the convention.

H. C. Rooper informs the Antelope Herald that in the recent Bakeoven horse-ride out of about 2500 head gathered only two many horses were found outside of the Pine Hollow country. These two horses were brought over from the reservation, and as soon as it was discovered that they were many they were dipped. In the Pine Hollow country there are a few cases of mange, but every precaution is being taken to keep it from spreading.

The Grass Valley Journal thus anticipates an event down on the boards for tomorrow night: "On the 28th of May, eight of the Dufur I. O. O. F. 'boys' will come to Grass Valley to be initiated into the Camp. Our Camp members are looking forward to this occasion as a picnic,—it's to be an all-night session, sure thing. From what we have seen in our travel around town, the Dufur three-linkers will know that they have been some place when they get through the Camp."

During the past week Antelope has developed into quite a wool market, says the Herald. Mike J. Manning, representing Hallowell & Donald, has within the last few days bought eight or ten clips of wool, aggregating about half a million pounds, for which he paid eleven cents. Among others he has bought a clip of about three hundred bags from Tom Brogan, and Mr. Manning says that this is one of the best clips that he has seen in this country.

The silk worms have begun their work and are now on exhibition. These worms were imported direct from China and were procured through the influence of Minister Conger. This is an opportunity to study one of nature's most wondrous processes and must be seen to be appreciated. Everyone, especially the young, should see these little spinners. They will be on exhibition several days in the building near the corner of Second and Washington streets, just back of Mr. Ruch's bakery. Doors open from 2 until 9 p. m. Admission 10 cents.

A thrifty Dutch Flat farmer of the populist persuasion, tried a little game on the county clerk this morning that will bear mentioning. One day last week the farmer brought to the clerk's office one ear and part of the scalp of a coyote, which he claimed he had killed on his place with strychnine. He was allowed the bounty of $2, although the clerk was in some doubt as to the legality of granting it when one ear of the scalp was not presented. His suspicions that there was some crookedness at the bottom of the business were fully verified this morning when the same farmer brought in the head of a coyote, with one ear and the surrounding scalp missing. Of course he had a story to account for the missing ear, but it didn't work with the clerk worth a cent, and his palpable attempt to cheat the county out of $2 fell through.

A stylish black driving horse, very gentle. Also a nearly new open buggy, harness, blankets, etc. Very cheap. Address, W. R. ROCKWELL, m27d2w-w3w Dufur, Ore.

He Wanted the Place.

Some time ago the following advertisement appeared in the columns of an Astoria paper: "Wanted—Clerk in insurance office, with some experience in fire and employers' liability business; salary, $480. Address, in own handwriting, stating age, past experience and where at present employed. X 69, this office." One of the replies received to the advertisement is worthy of publication, and is herewith given:

"I reply to your advertisement and beg to offer you my services. I have made a special study of insurance law in all its branches. In addition to my vast knowledge of insurance work, I converse fluently in many languages, among which I may mention French, Greek, Latin, Gum-Arabic, Boer, Germano, Sausago, Italiano (Gorgonzola), Billingsgate, Hindoo and Doodoo. I write shorthand (200 words), long-hand, left hand and right hand, and can write with both hands at once, thus getting through a vast amount of work in my working day of twenty-three hours. I am willing to devote my whole time to your service and give my life if necessary, if you still adhere to your generous offer of $480 per annum. I am only 27 years of age, but feel quite capable of taking the position offered. If agreeable to you, my wife would be pleased to clean your office regularly without extra charge. My references are irreproachable, and if you consider my application favorably I would forward them to you per goods train. The cost of postage for your answer to me can be deducted from my salary."

If the people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or waterbrash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. Clarke & Falk's P. O. Pharmacy.
