WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Lost—A bunch of keys. Finder will please leave them at this office. m31-3t
All members of Cedar Circle are requested to be present at their hall this evening.

The salary of the Hood River postmaster has been increased from $1400 to $1500 a year.

A marriage license was issued today to Henry Shute and Alice J. Parsons, of Hood River.

Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. J. M. Russell at the Mays stone house. m29-3t

A small cottage furnished and centrally located for rent during the summer months, for particulars. Apply to Hudson & Brownhill.

Marshal Driver appeared on the street for the first time today, after being confined to his bed for more than a week with grippe.

The "Christoforo Colombo Society," of Portland, whatever that is, will come here on an excursion next Sunday, arriving by rail about noon and remaining till 5.

Do not forget the picnic and excursion down the river by the M. E. Sunday school will be made Wednesday, June 5th. Boat leaves at 7 a. m.; round trip 15 and 25 cents.

Lost—Between the city cemetery and C. J. Crandall's residence, a burnt leather bag. If finder will leave it at this office or at Donnell's drug store, a reward will be given. m31-j8

A dispatch to the Telegram says boring for oil is in progress on land bordering on the Columbia, about one mile east of this place. It is proposed to sink the well to a depth of least 300 feet.

Tomorrow will be the last day of the silk-worm exhibition. The doors will be open from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. In the afternoon all who attend will be presented with a cocoon as a souvenir.

Yesterday morning while Bert Bagley was delivering milk at the hospital his horse started on the trot for home, and made the journey, turning corners and passing obstructions, without losing a can or damaging himself or the wagon.

Bert now ties the beast with a halter before leaving it alone.

At the silk-worm exhibit tonight a short address on the native habits and work of these marvelous little creatures will be given. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock and the address will be about 8:15.

Two very important items will be on sale tomorrow at Pease & Mays—at a great reduction—ladies' and children's straw hats, and a full line of wash silk, in colors, will be offered at one-quarter off on the regular price.

The Wasco Warehouse Milling Company, of this city, is erecting a new grain warehouse on the bank of the Columbia at Columbus, Klickitat county. The building will be 60x100 feet and have a capacity of 100,000 bushels of grain.

The new bell of the Lutheran church will be dedicated next Sunday morning at 11. Rev. J. A. Leas, pastor of St. James church of Portland, will preach both morning and evening. Service in the evening at 8. All are cordially invited to attend.

A Washington dispatch announces that Alvah W. Patterson, brother of Receiver Patterson of this city, was recently awarded a degree of civil law by the Columbia law school of that city. Mr. Patterson is an assistant clerk in the census office.

The only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wood, aged 3½ years, died this morning at the home of her parents on Mill creek. The little one was well and hearty till Wednesday afternoon, when she was taken with spasms and kept gradually getting worse till the end came at 5 o'clock this morning.

Complaint is again made that a band of Indians, presumably Warm Springs, are making night hideouts at their old stamping grounds near the head of the old brewery grade. There is apparently no remedy for these drunken carousals short of cleaning out the entire nest and compelling the birds to fly to their native haunts.

At the Wasco warehouse yesterday seventy-four sacks of wool belonging to S. Sinclair, of Klickitat county, were sold to a San Francisco firm at 10 cents or probably more. M. Manning purchased the Payne clip of 35,000 pounds at 10 cents. About 30,000 pounds that arrived at the Moody warehouse from the Heppner country, was sold to J. M. Russell, of The Dalles Scouring Mills, at 10 cents a pound.

Mr. Carey Ballard, of this city, and Miss Myrtle Short, of Portland, were married in Portland Wednesday, and came up on last night's train, and will make their home in the residence recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stephens. The CHRONICLE unites with a host of friends of the bridegroom in this city in wishing the young couple many happy days.

The river at 8 o'clock this morning registered 36.8 feet, a rise of 1.1 feet in twenty-four hours. The probabilities, based on reports from the headwaters of the Columbia and Snake rivers, are that the Columbia at this place will not rise higher than 40 feet. Snake river seems already to have expended its force, a fall of .2 feet being reported at Weiser, Idaho.

The cigar-lighter in Grant's cigar store exploded at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and but for the timely arrival of Special Officer Alisky, who forced the front door and extinguished the flame before much harm was done, a very serious fire might have resulted. The loss, which was a small one, was carried by the American Fire Association. It was promptly adjusted by T. A. Hudson, and by 10 o'clock the amount had been paid over to Mr. Grant in cash.

There is going to be a hot game of baseball at Hood River next Sunday. The Dalles boys claim to have strengthened their team a great deal since their game with Portland, and Hood River claims to be invincible. The line-up of The Dalles team will be as follows: Ferguson, c; Emerson, p; Ball, 1st; Bartell, 2nd; Huott, ss; Hagan, 3d; Earle, lf; Steers, cf; Cooper, rf. The excursion to Hood River on the steamer Iralda will leave about 9. Tickets, 75 cents.

A story is told of a Scottish minister traveling in Belgium who, on arriving at Bruges, looked about or a cloak-room. His acquaintance with the language of the country was, however, so imperfect that he failed to make the porter in attendance understand what he wished. Being a man of resource, it flashed across his mind to try a Latin phrase likely to be understood in a Roman Catholic country. "Requiescat in pace," said he, pointing to his property. The porter smiled, nodded his head to show that he caught the traveler's meaning, snatched up the portmanteau and took it off to the place where "left luggage" was kept.

The Rival Oil Company, which has been located in Portland for the last eight months, the office being 341, Sherlock building, struck a fine well of 180 barrels per day, and is now drilling well No. 2. The company owns some very valuable oil land in the midway district of California. The capitalization is small. They are expecting to pay dividends this fall. Stock has been selling for 50 cents per share, but has advanced to $1 per share, to take place June 10th. Mr. Clarke, the secretary of the company, is visiting The Dalles for a few days and will offer a few shares of stock at 50 cents per share. References, Merchants' National Bank, of Portland, Oregon. 31m-24

The Dalles High school alumni believe in nothing if not in doing a thing up in proper style. In pursuance of this rule and in order to welcome the incoming class which graduates this year, the members of the alumni have conceived an unique idea and have chartered the steamer Regulator for next Tuesday evening, at which time they will take a private excursion down the river. The usual program and initiation of the new members will be carried out, after which a banquet will be served in the Regulator's capacious saloon. The excursionists will certainly enjoy the moonlight ride on the river, as a perfect night is anticipated. The boat will leave the dock at 8:30 p. m., steam down around Memaloose island and return at 12:30. An alumnae who would miss this treat is certainly lacking in the ability to appreciate a good jollification.

SHALL WE CELEBRATE?

The Question is Now Up to the Business Men of the City.

Pursuant to the announcement in THE CHRONICLE the members of The Dalles Driving Association met in the club rooms Wednesday evening, and after discussing the situation and arriving at the conclusion that the people of The Dalles desired a rousing celebration on the Fourth, two committees were appointed, one to interview the saloon-keepers and restaurant and hotel men, and the other to interview the business men on the question of raising the necessary funds. On the former committee were appointed C. J. Stubling, J. M. Toomey and Fred Lempeke; and on the latter, L. E. Crowe, E. M. Williams and J. C. Hostetler.

It was considered that not less than $1000 will be required to make the celebration anything like what it ought to be, but it was believed there would be no great difficulty in raising this sum. These committees will report their success or failure, as the case may be, to another meeting to be held Monday night, when, if everything is favorable as expected, the necessary committees will be appointed and preparations for the event fairly launched.

Everything now depends on the response made to the two committees appointed to solicit funds. It will be a great disappointment if this response is not reasonably liberal.

Zigler-Huott Wedding.

On Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock occurred the wedding of Charles Zigler and Alice Huott at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huott, of Eight Mile.

At the hour appointed the wedding party stepped into a beautifully arranged arbor of evergreen, sprinkled with white roses, and stood under a horse-shoe of white carnations, where the ceremony was performed by Ulysses F. Hawk, of the M. E. church of The Dalles.

The bride was beautifully dressed in white organdie over white silk and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The Misses Marguerite and Rosaline Greiner, of Portland, bridesmaids, were attired in white swiss over lemon silk, carrying bouquets of lemon roses.

In the unavoidable absence of the father, Frank Huott, a brother of the bride, gave away the bride, while Alfred Huott, another brother, acted as best man.

Only a few of the immediate relatives and friends of the family were present. After the usual congratulations, all were invited to partake of the elaborately prepared banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Zigler were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents.

The groom is a Portland young man, in the employ of the Oregonian, and accompanied by his bride, left on the noon train yesterday for that city, where they will make their home.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

After a stubborn fight that lasted all day Wednesday the case of Paul Kruger against Dalles City for $3,640 damages was given to the jury about midnight, when a verdict was returned in about fifteen minutes in favor of the city.

Wednesday the case of the state against Ike Moore, who has lain in the county jail for over two and a half months, under the charge of the larceny of some 1800 pounds—about $1000 worth—of brass castings from the O. R. & N. Co., was continued for the term and Moore was released on putting up $500 bonds.

Emile Strasser was tried this morning for putting out poison with the intent of poisoning domestic animals. He refused the services of a lawyer, with the usual result. The jury found him guilty and sentenced him to a fine of $50, which he paid.

D. Martel is on trial as we go to press for larceny of cigars from the Hood River hotel. His partner in the crime, J. W. Ryan, was allowed to plead guilty to simple larceny and will be sentenced later.
