A LAMENTABLE DECISION.

According to the telegraphed dispatches the assembly of the United Presbyterian church at De Moines, Ia., has decided that no individual who belongs to a secret society shall be eligible to membership in that denomination. If this is an accurate statement of the proceedings the members of that body are to be pitied for their lack of comprehension of the spirit of the Master they aim to serve, says the Omaha News.

The secret orders of the present day are far too strong to be seriously affected by the mistaken views enunciated by the Iowa body. But the church which thus aims to legislate a large and reputable class of citizens out of its councils is taking a step that will certainly react disastrously upon itself.

The secret societies of today, as a class, are far from exerting an irreligious or unhealthful influence. Many of them rank second to the churches in influence for good and their capacity for promoting the welfare of the people. The social and philanthropic motives by which most of them are inspired reflect the essence of true Christianity. The principles on which they are founded are as immutable as the ten commandments, and so long as they remain true to those principles they will continue to grow and prosper.

It is presumption indeed for a religious body to declare that men who band themselves together for the relief of the unfortunates and to guard the widowed and the fatherless from destitution shall be denied the right of religious worship and association.

A MISFIT THEORY.

The ideal and practical seldom fit. They never dovetail. The Rev. Charles Sheldon, for instance, wrote a book, "Born to Serve," in which he held out the beautiful ideal that the serving maid should live as one of the family without being barred from the society functions. His wife recently secured a new maid who had been converted to the reverend gentleman's theories, and no doubt the maid pictured the pleasure that was hers as she met her beau in the parlor and gossiped over the family meal about less ideal neighbors. But when the first meal was prepared and the plates were set, she was told to remove the one placed for herself, as it would be impossible for her to eat with the family. Then the dear, presuming servant who had believed that Mr. Sheldon was in earnest when he wrote the book, had a crying match with herself and resigned her position.

It is well enough for ministers to preach high ideals for life and attempt to get people to live up as near to those ideals as possible, but it is a sin to preach ideals that are impractical and only tend to make us discontented with our lot in life.

The proper thing for those who would improve the condition of life is to remove the barriers that make life hard, and not increase them.—Walla Walla Union.

The Salem Sentinel says: "It looks much as if Hon. C. W. Fulton would give Simon a merry race for his seat in the senate a year from next winter. The sincerity of the Oregonian's support of Simon is questioned, especially should Mr. Corbett decide to again become a candidate. But this Mr. Corbett has not yet done; neither has he said he would not be a candidate. Those who are in a position to know, give it out that Mr. Corbett will apply for the place himself. He realizes now that Simon tricked him out of it at the special session, and there is little reason to doubt but he will attempt next spring to secure the nomination and election of candidates to the legislature who are known to be friendly to his cause. The thing may develop into an interesting three-cornered fight.

Sheriff Burgen, of Klickitat county, is probably the only office-holder in the world who was ever known to refuse to accept the salary allowed him by law because it was more than he bargained for. Mr. Burgen refuses to accept a recent advance in his salary allowed him by a decision of the supreme court. And he isn't running for office either, for he is serving his second term as sheriff and by the laws of Washington is debarred from serving for more than two terms in succession. It is perhaps needless to say that Mr. Burgen is a republican.

Don't.

- Don't expect a "cheap" enamel to last long. It doesn't.
Don't think such a one can be kept clean. It can't.
Don't believe the "cheap" enamel isn't steadily crumbling away. It is.
Don't imagine in using such you're not eating the enamel. You are.
Don't figure you are saving money buying the cheapest. You're not.
Don't forget the "cheap" has but one coating of enamel. Just one.
Don't fail to recollect that imported Stransky steel-ware lasts for years.
Don't buy that kind if health and economy are of no consequence.
Don't try to get the genuine elsewhere, for it's sold exclusively by MAYS & CROWE.

NOLAN'S Profit-Sharing Association.

The first monthly dividend has been distributed to the profitable satisfaction of thirteen of my customers. The only regret is that I was not able to give a valuable present to each of my customers. I think they all deserve one.

On Saturday, July 6th, I will give away two music boxes—one worth $27.50, playing eight tunes, and one worth $7.50; a sack of sugar and a barrel of flour. I will give a cash rebate of $3.00 to customer paying the most money by that date, and $2.00 to the one paying in the second largest amount. On each Saturday, commencing on the 15th of June and including July 6th, I will, in addition to the two presents given each week, give a $1.00 rebate to the customer paying the largest amount during the week.

Purchasers of goods in my line will do well to keep in mind that I sell goods as low as the lowest, as well as share the profit with my customers.
