WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Don't forget the dance at the Baldwin tonight.

Professor Birgfeld plays for the dance tonight at the Baldwin.

Have you read A. M. Williams & Co.'s ad? Seen their window of boys' suits?

A marriage license was issued this morning to Art Kinne and Anetta Weygent, of Hood River.

Special sale of boys' fine suits at A. M. Williams & Co.'s tomorrow. The $4.50, $5, $5.50, $6 and $6.50 values at $3.35.

S. H. Cox this morning filed in the county clerk's office on a quartz mining claim on the east fork of Hood river.

If you have a boy of from 3 to 10 years you will surely be interested in A. M. Williams & Co.'s sale advertised for tomorrow.

Marshal T. J. Driver has suffered a relapse and is again confined to his bed. J. H. Jackson is serving as marshal pending Mr. Driver's recovery.

The state board has sold the right of way at the Cascades, which was bought by the state for the transfer road for $500. It cost the state over $6,000.

Charles Deckert and Alice Koehler, of the Ten Mile neighborhood, were married Wednesday evening at the O'Bar Hotel, Judge Ned Gates officiating.

Rev. Poling, of The Dalles, gave his gymnasium class of boys an excursion to Hood River on Monday. The boys seemed to enjoy their outing.—Glacier.

Dave Stroud has been employed by the board of water commissioners to inspect and keep in proper condition during the summer the water ditch leading from Dog river to the head of Mill Creek.

The river gauge indicated 33 feet this morning, or a fall of 8 feet in twenty-four hours. The Daily River Bulletin predicts that the river at this point will continue to fall during the next few days.

Two arrests were made on the baseball ground Sunday. The Dalles boys got too much tangle-foot aboard and became disorderly and resisted the officers who placed them under arrest. Marshal Olinger and his assistant, W. A. Isenberg, marched them to the lock-up. They were allowed to return home with the rest of the party on the boat.—Glacier.

Mrs. M. Sue Adams has sued A. P. Bateham on a note she claims to be due her. She has also attached the Davidson Fruit Co. Judge Caples will be here June 13th at 11 a. m., to try the case.—Glacier.

John E. Chappelle, a Goldendale merchant, recently sold the Wasco Warehouse Milling Company 100,000 feet of lumber to be used in constructing a warehouse for the company at Columbus, Klickitat county.

Ralph Fisher returned yesterday from the Stanford University. He has accepted a position with the Eastern Oregon Land Company and will enter upon his duties, which are connected with the survey of the company's timberlands, next Monday.

The clerk of the board of water commissioners has received notice that the new fire plugs were shipped from Portland a couple of days ago. When they arrive here they will be immediately placed in their respective positions.

Judge Bennett returned this morning from Pendleton, where he obtained a verdict of $20,700 damages in favor of a client named Simmons, who was seriously injured some time ago in a collision on the O. R. & N. Co.'s road near Kamela.

T. S. Hamilton, of Ashwood, Crook county, is in the city, the guest of the Umattilla House. Yesterday Mr. Hamilton sold his last year's clip of wool and a couple of other clips entrusted to his care by neighbors at prices ranging from 11 to 11 1/2 cents a pound.

The Upper Eight Mile school, district No. 28, closed a five months term of school with a successful entertainment Friday evening, May 31st. The manner in which the pupils acquitted themselves was a credit to the district and to the teacher, Mr. Louis W. Keeler.

The Blue Mountain Eagle says there are a good many prospects of oil in Crook county, some little distance from Prineville, and already there are three companies from Baker City in the field looking for a suitable location, where they expect the oil to flow in large quantities.

The members of Mount Hood Camp, Woodmen of the World, will hold memorial services over the remains of their deceased neighbor, Paul F. Krest, next Sunday afternoon. A procession will form at 2 o'clock at Fraternity hall and march to the grave in Sunset cemetery, where the memorial address will be delivered by Mrs. Van Orsdale, grand guardian of the Woodmen's Circle, of Pendleton.

Andy Brown, a former well-known resident of Wapinitia Flat, was in town last night on his way home from Sherman county, where he purchased a number of horses, which he took to Portland on this morning's boat. Andy has lived in the Willamette valley long enough to be thoroughly satisfied that there is no place like Eastern Oregon, and as a consequence he vows he will come back here before many moons.

W. A. Burt Campbell yesterday broke all previous records as a coyote slayer when he presented County Clerk Lake with 119 coyote scalps and one of a wildcat, receiving for them a warrant for $249. This was the result of just five weeks labor in trapping and poisoning. They were all killed along the foot hills south of The Dalles, between Five Mile and Jordan creeks. Of course Mr. Campbell devoted his whole time to the work, and he is a skilled trapper besides.

Among the many handsome compliments paid Mr. W. H. H. Dufur in view of his name being mentioned as a candidate for United States marshal, here is one from the Oregon City Courier-Herald: "The Clackamas county forest rangers hold W. H. H. Dufur, supervisor of the Cascade forest reserve, in such high esteem that they are anxious to see him appointed United States marshal, although a change might throw them out of jobs. Mr. Dufur has many other friends in Clackamas county, who would be pleased to see him appointed to this position."

An amusing scene took place lately in a Washington D. C. police court, in connection with the arraignment of a negro for the theft of a game rooster. The prisoner said: "Judge, I jes' seen dat chicken on de sidewalk, an' de chicken acted kinder friendly, I see fond ob game chickens wherever I sees dem, an' I had dat chicken in my arms rubbin' it up an' down an' admirin' it when dis heah policeman come up an' sez, 'Wher did you git dat chicken?' Den he run me in. I had no mo' 'tention ob takin' dat chicken dan a saint in heben." The judge accepted the plea, but in discharging the prisoner amid the grins of those present, he said: "I would advise you the next time you meet a chicken to take the other side of the street."

Death of Colonel E. W. Enos.

After a protracted illness, Colonel E. W. Enos died at Goldendale Saturday, June 1st, and was buried at that place the following Sunday. The Sentinel truly says of him that he was in many respects a "unique character. He was a man of wide experience in affairs of state, having come in contact with many men of note and letters. He was one of the best posted men in the history of our country and was at one time a prominent figure for the nomination for president. Col. Enos came to Goldendale about seven years ago and since his residence here made many friends who showed him every mark of courtesy, ministering to him during his illness."

The colonel was 82 years of age and was a native of New York state.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

Richard Dumontier, one of the young men who was injured in the railroad collision at Mosier Wednesday night, died at The Dalles Hospital about 2 o'clock this morning. The body was soon after removed to Crandall & Burgett's undertaking rooms, where an inquest was held at 10 o'clock. A number of train men were examined as witnesses, but no new facts were elicited. It was plain that the deceased was unlawfully beating his way in a box car partly filled with lumber, and when the collision occurred the car in which Dumontier happened to be was upset and the lumber fell on him and crushed him fatally.

To Dr. Ferguson, before Dumontier died, he said his father was a carpenter by trade, whose home was on the corner of King and Weller streets, Seattle. It may be added, by the way, that a telegraph message was sent to this address this forenoon, but no answer had been received at 3 this afternoon. The following is the verdict of the jury:

We, the jury summoned by W. H. Butts, coroner of Wasco county, state of Oregon, to inquire into the cause of the death of Richard Dumontier, whose body now lies before us, after a careful examination of all the evidence and facts that could be produced bearing on the case and inquest come to the following conclusions:

That the name of the deceased was Richard Dumontier, whose age was 19 years, and that his home is at Seattle, state of Washington, and that the said Richard Dumontier came to his death at the hour of 2 o'clock a. m. June 7, 1901, in The Dalles Hospital, in the County of Wasco and State of Oregon.

That the cause of said death was from injuries received by the said Richard Dumontier upon his body about 11 o'clock p. m. June 5, 1901, at Mosier, Wasco county, Oregon, while unlawfully riding in a box car on the railroad of the O. R. & N. Co., which was partly filled with lumber, when said box car was thrown from the said railroad track by reason of a collision of the train containing said box cars with train No 21 of said road, the injuries received by the said Richard Dumontier being caused by heavy lumber crushing his breast, from which injuries he died, as hereinbefore set forth.
