WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Trimmed street hats at cost at Miss Haven's.

The Epworth League district convention will meet in Goldendale tomorrow.

For rent—Two furnished front rooms. Inquire of Mrs. E. J. Sylvester, Third street. j10-1w

A marriage license was issued today to Wilbur D. Taylor and Sophrona Montgomery, of Dufur.

Miss Katie Daffron has so far recovered from an attack of typhoid fever as to be able to leave the hospital and return home.

Dr. Belle C. Ferguson has changed her office from the Vogt block to the hospital. Dr. E. E. Ferguson still retains his office at the old place.

In the neighborhood of 100,000 pounds of wool changed hands today at the Wasco warehouse at prices ranging from 10½ to 11½ cents a pound.

Lost—A gold fob chain, with locket attached, containing a child's picture. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at the office of Dr. Sanders. 10jun-4t Millinery sale—A line of ladies' and children's Mexican and outing hats. Just the thing for picnics, excursions, etc. Prices from 50 cents to $1.

Soule Bros., piano tuners, represented by Mr. Silas H. Soule, are making their regular semi-annual stop at The Dalles. Leave orders at Nickelsen's or Menefee & Parkins' stores. jun8-12

Lost—A fox terrier, 2 years old; all white save the face, which is black; tail closely bobbed. Answers to the name of Bob. Any information as to his whereabouts or his return to Victor Marden will be liberally rewarded. jun10-4t

The governor of Washington has issued a proclamation calling for an extra session of the legislature to "pass upon, confirm or amend the law relating to capital punishment." The legislature convenes tomorrow in Olympia.

Lois Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Thompson, who was dangerously ill recently of pneumonia, was taken today to St. Vincent's hospital to undergo an operation for a slight gathering of pus in the abdominal cavity. No serious results are apprehended

Captain Pohley, of the scow Hunker Bill, is probably the first skipper of a Columbia river craft who, in honor of old Glory, set aside, as he did today, all tradition and precedent and hoisted her on the main mast, up, up, as near heaven as the good Dutchman could get her. More power to Captain Pohley's elbow!

The river is still falling and was lower this morning by half a foot than it was when the Regulator passed through it for the last time on the 29th. It is no surprise, therefore, to learn, just as we go to press, that both boats passed through the locks today and that the transfer business, in all likelihood, is at an end for the year.

A special dispatch to the Portland Telegram from Baltimore, Md., announces that W. C. Curtis, of The Dalles, will have the degree of Doctor of Philosophy conferred upon him tomorrow by the Johns Hopkins university. Dr. Curtis is the son of Rev. W. C. Curtis, formerly pastor of the Congregational church of this city. He was raised here from boyhood and is esteemed as a very brilliant young man.

After June 14th it will be unlawful for any person in the state of Washington over 16 years of age to hunt or kill any game in the state without first taking out a license to hunt in the county where the killing is done. The license fee for such hunting is $1 per annum for each county for residents of the state and $10 for non-residents. The penalty for hunting without license is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100 for each offense.

A party of timber cruisers for the Eastern Oregon Land Company left this morning by prairie schooner for the Blue mountains, to be gone till probably October. The party consisted of G. A. Van Anda, R. S. Fisher, R. Orneag and Mr. Williams. James V. Martin, one of the members of the land company, will join the party at Shaniko and proceed part way. Mrs. Van Anda will accompany the party as far as the hot springs near Canyon City, where she will remain till her husband's return.

Sing, a Chinaman who has rented some fifteen acres of land on Mill creek, was robbed Saturday night about midnight, just as he had almost reached his home, by a party of six young fellows who beat the Chinaman unmercifully and left him unconscious. When Sing came to himself he found his money, amounting to $47.50, had been taken. Two of the young fellows he recognized and one of them, Moy Denton, was arrested this morning and the authorities are after the others, with a good probability of catching them.

Jim Wright, the well-known sheep buyer, is in the city awaiting the arrival of 4500 head of mutton sheep from Antelope, which he recently bought in partnership with John Little. Saturday he purchased 2000 head from D. P. Ketchum and a few days before shipped a whole train load from Condon. All were consigned to British Columbia, where Mr. Wright finds a market for about 60,000 head of Oregon sheep a year. The prices were $2 to $2.25 for yearlings and $2.75 for 2-year-olds.

The action at law over the ownership of the Oregon King mine, which closed in the United States circuit court at Portland Saturday, was decided against the company which consists of C. M. Cartwright, J. Edwards and P. J. Qarealy who, it is said, have spent the greater portion of $75,000 in developing property that the court now says is not theirs. The case will of course be appealed to the supreme court, but, in the meantime, the law's delay will work a great hardship on the promising young mining camp of Ashwood.

A new horse attached to the Umatilla House express wagon got scared this morning at a passenger engine, while hitched in front of the hotel, and while the driver was temporarily absent broke the hitching chain and made a dash for Second street, and proceeding east was caught in front of the postoffice by Ike Bonnell, of Centerville, who had mounted his saddle horse and taken after the runaway. Fortunately the wagon brake was locked so that the pace of the horse was naturally slower than it would have been had the wheels been free. The only damage done was a slight injury to Matt Sherar's back through collision with the runaway, and the loss of a thimble from one of the hubs of the express wagon.

The party of Dalles people who gave an entertainment at Dufur Saturday night were more fortunate than the general run of traveling companies, (likely the Dufur police were out of town) for, to the surprise of their friends, they drove to town about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, instead of walking, as might be expected. Probably the presence of two doctors and an undertaker in the party was sufficient to keep even a lot of creditors at bay, and they report the best of treatment at the hands of the Dufur people; a large audience, who were very appreciative, encouraging them with continued applause, and a jolly good time. In behalf of the Artisans Mr. A. J. Brigham acted as advance agent, and proved a good hand at the business. They were entertained at the Fifteen Mile House, where they found everything most satisfactory.
